- Since the start of the 2022-23 season, the Stars have gone 20-for-23 on the penalty kill against the Jets for an 87.0 percent success rate, which is the fifth-best mark in the NHL during that span.
- Tonight's game against the Jets and tomorrow's game against the Utah Hockey Club are the third of 11 back-to-back sets that the Stars will play this season and the first of three sets in which one game will be played at home and another on the road.
  - Although technically the Stars' Nov. 1 and 2 back-to-back against the Panthers was a home/road split, both games were played at Nokia Arena in Tampere.
- The Stars have allowed only 2.68 goals against per game this season, which was the fifth-best mark in the NHL entering play Saturday. Dallas has allowed two or fewer goals in 12 of the 22 games that they have played this year.
- Only one of Dallas' games this season has required extra time – their 3-2 shootout win over the San Jose Sharks on Oct. 15. Entering play Saturday, the Stars and the Rangers were the only teams in the NHL this season to have only one of their games go beyond regulation.
