KINGS NOTES

- Forward Taylor Ward (1-0=1) recorded his first career goal in his NHL debut this evening. Ward is the second alumnus of the University of Nebraska-Omaha to play for the Kings, joining Scott Parse, who recorded 30 points (14-16=30) in 73 games played for LA from 2009-10 through 2011-12.
- Ward is the first Kings skater to score in his first career game since Sean Durzi (1-1=2) on Nov. 24, 2021. Ward joins forwards Andre Lee and Samuel Helenius as the three Kings skaters to have scored their first NHL goal during the 2024-25 campaign.
- Taylor and his father, Dixon Ward (6-2=8, 34GP), become the first father-son duo to each score a goal in Kings history, having already become the first father-son duo to each skate in a game for the Kings.
- Defenseman Brandt Clarke (0-1=1) set-up his former Ontario Reign teammate's debut marker with his 28th assist for his 33rd point of the season (5-28=33). Clarke finishes the campaign as the Kings' leading point-producer among defenseman
- Defenseman Jordan Spence (0-1=1) also assisted on Ward's first career goal and now has assists in back-to-back games to add to his career high in points, finishing the season with 28 (4-24=28).
- Forward Alex Turcotte skated in his 100th career game tonight, becoming the 18th American skater selected in the 2019 NHL Draft to do so. Turcotte also becomes the 11th different American skater selected in the first round of an NHL Draft to skate in 100 games with the Kings.
- Forward Quinton Byfield skated in his 81st game of the campaign, setting a new single-season career high.
- Defenseman Mikey Anderson and forward Warren Foegele each tied their single-season career highs in games played by respectively skating in their 77th and 82nd game of the season. This season marks Foegele's second consecutive campaign playing in all 82 games and the third such season of his career overall. Foegele becomes the sixth skater selected in the 2014 NHL Draft to record three or more seasons of 82 games played.
