The Front Office

SEYMOUR H. KNOX III

Chairman of the Board and President

The Chairman of the Board of the Buffalo Sabres is a successful businessman and an outstanding athlete in his own right.

Since his school days when a football injury ended his hockey career, Seymour Knox has been an avid hockey fan, and turned that interest into a long quest for an NHL franchise — one that paid off in 1970.

Former president of the U.S. Squash Racquets Association and a nationally-ranked player, he is Regional Vice President of Dominick & Dominick, members of New York Stock Exchange, and Sabres' representative on the NHL Board of Governors.

NORTHRUP R. KNOX

Vice Chairman of the Board

"Norty" Knox was an outstanding goalie at Yale and turned his athletic abilities to polo and court tennis after college. He was the court tennis World Champion for 10 years, and captain and number one player on the U.S. Polo team in 1969. Currently he serves as Chairman of the U.S. Polo Association.

With his brother Seymour, Norty Knox was disappointed in the first expansion of the NHL when the well-prepared Buffalo application was turned down. But the Knox brothers and other local backers continued to be persistent, leading to the league's dynamic new franchise.

DAVID G. FORMAN

Administrative
Vice President

Front office operations of the new Sabres organization have been under the direction of Dave Forman in the hectic months of putting together a new franchise.

No stranger to administration, he has been a well known and highly respected business and civic leader in Western New York for three decades.

He was named administrative vice president and a member of the Sabres' executive committee in the fall of 1970, after serving as a Sabres' vice president since the club's inception.

ROBERT O. SWADOS

Vice President
and Counsel

Professional sports in Buffalo have been both vocation and avocation for Bob Swados, partner in the law firm of Cohen, Swados, Wright, Hanifin & Bradford.

He is a former vice president of the Buffalo Bisons Baseball Club, vice president, Major League for Buffalo, Inc., and was counsel to the Knox brothers when they first sought an NHL franchise in 1965.

A Buffalo native, he has a B.A. from the University of Buffalo and is a cum laude graduate of the Harvard University Law School.

GEORGE "PUNCH" IMLACH

Coach and General Manager

The new Buffalo Sabres presented a different kind of challenge to hockey's most colorful and quotable coach, and Punch met the challenge with more success than even his most ardent admirers had hoped.

His skill at getting the most from older players, combined with a knack for making the best possible trades, turned the Sabres into as good an expansion club as there was in the NHL over the last two thirds of their first year's schedule.

But success in building and rebuilding is one of Punch's strong suits. In 11 seasons as general manager and/or coach of the Toronto Maple Leafs, his teams won four Stanley Cups and made the playoffs 10 times.

Punch predicted the Sabres would be the first expansion team to win the Stanley Cup, and he is sticking to his prediction. But first, there's tough sledding to make the playoffs in the tougher NHL Eastern Division.

His dry acerbic wit is as much an Imlach characteristic as the intriguing hats he wears behind the players' bench.

FRED HUNT

Assistant
General Manager

For 18 years general manager and four-time coach of the old American Hockey League Buffalo Bisons, and a star player here for nearly a decade before that, Fred Hunt and pro hockey in Buffalo go hand in hand.

He joined the Sabres shortly after the new franchise was awarded, and in that first season was the club's principal trouble shooter in the complicated process of setting up a big league organization — on and off ice.

There's another Fred Hunt in hockey these days, Fred Jr. — a star winger with the University of Vermont collegiate team who was ECAC sophomore of the year and who may wear the Sabres colors in just a few years.

JOHN ANDERSEN

Director of Scouting

Like his scouting staff, soft-spoken John lives out of a suitcase much of the year, crisscrossing Canada and the United States to scout both amateur and professional hockey talent.

Danish-born, Andersen worked for Punch Imlach in Toronto for 10 years and moved west to become director of scouting for the California Golden Seals when Punch parted company with the Maple Leafs. When Imlach joined the Sabres, Andersen joined Imlach once again.

FRANK CHRISTIE
Head Trainer

ROBERT CHAMBERS
Director of Sales

ROBERT PICKEL
Comptroller

KIRK KELLY
Ticket Manager

DON UREN
Assistant Trainer

THE FIRST YEAR

The best club in the NHL outside the playoffs, and perhaps better than a few that made them...

A parade of sellouts in Memorial Auditorium which resulted in Sabres tickets becoming a black market commodity by season's end...

A record-breaking rookie who already is blooming into one of the league's superstars...

That was the first year for the Buffalo Sabres and the best is yet to come.

It appeared that Buffalo's first year in the NHL would be an artistic disaster during the first two months of the 1970-71 season. The Sabres won only twice in their first 14 games, but after the return to action by veterans Phil Goyette and Donnie Marshall, and the blossoming of Gerry Meehan and Steve Atkinson, the Sabres began to roll. From Christmas onward, Buffalo had the best record in the NHL eight-team expansion group, with the exception of the St. Louis Blues. And the Blues only had one more point than the Sabres over the last two thirds of the schedule.

At the box office, Buffalo averaged near capacity for the year, and had sellouts for nearly all games from New Year's onward.

Gil Perreault brought many of those fans into the arena, as he scored a rookie record 38 goals and 34 assists on his way to winning the NHL Calder Trophy as rookie-of-the-year and a berth on the East Division NHL all-star team.

The next step for Buffalo is a playoff spot in the Eastern Division, and Imlach dealt off-season to make the run in 1971-72.

Will the run be a successful one?

Imlach, the eternal optimist, won't make an outright prediction. "Let's just say I stick to my prediction that we will be the first expansion team to win the Stanley Cup. And we can't very well do that without making the playoffs, can we?"

Height: 5'-11" Weight: 170

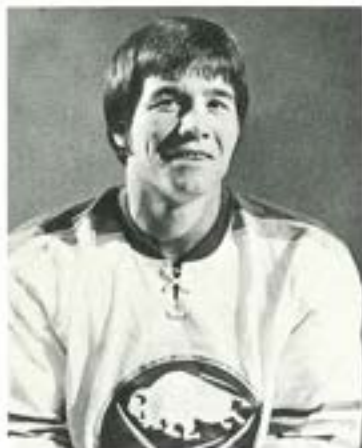

Shoots: Right

Steve notched 20 goals as an NHL rookie despite missing several games early in the season before coming to the Sabres from the St. Louis Blues. He added 18 assists, and was one of the pleasant surprises in the Buffalo lineup. An alumnus of some fine Niagara Falls (Jr.) Flyers teams, he scored 69 goals in two seasons with the Oklahoma City Blazers of the Central League, and was CHL Rookie of the Year in 1968-69. Originally Boston property.

Doug Barrie

Defense

Born: Edmonton, Alberta

October 2, 1946

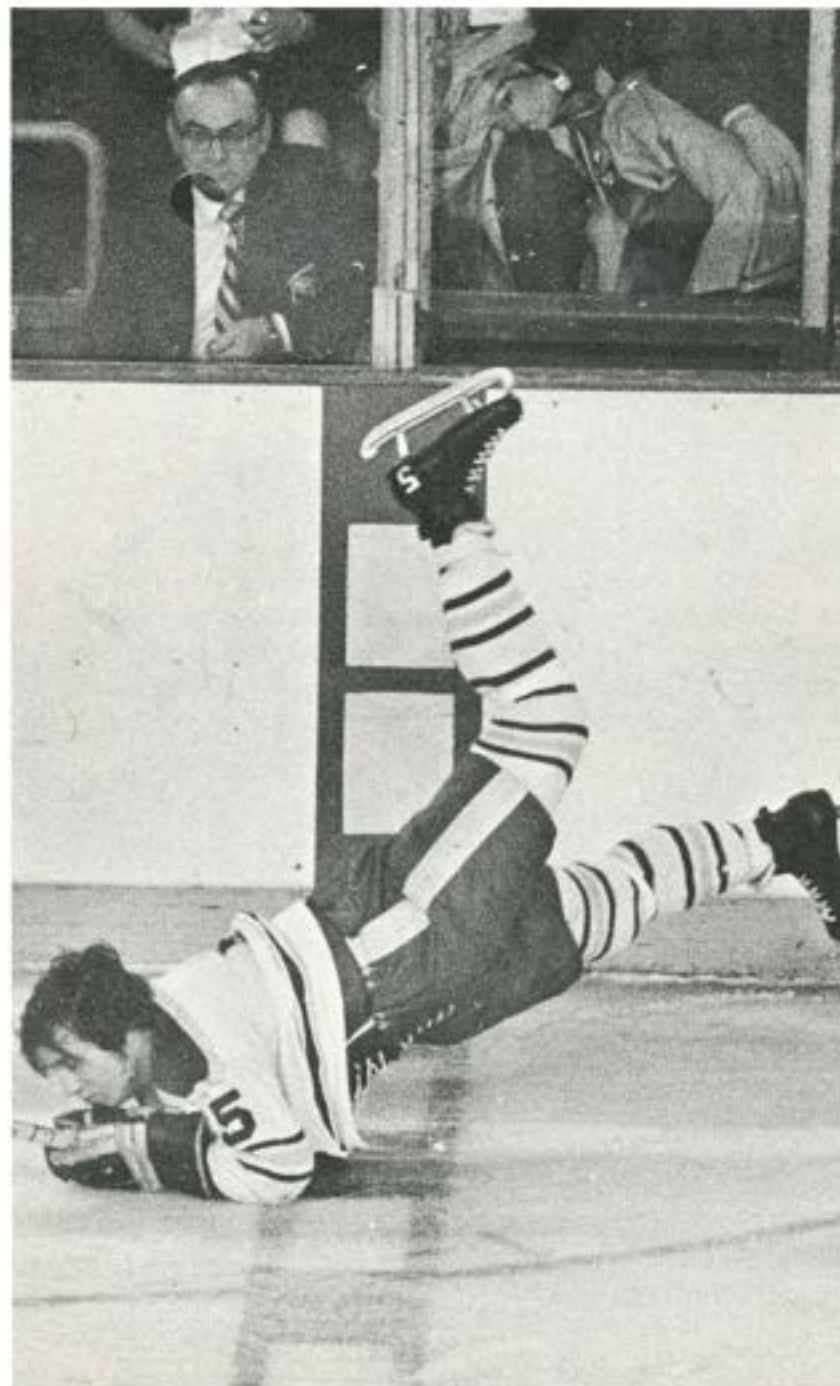

Height: 5'-9" Weight: 175

Shoots: Right

Second most penalized Sabre in 1970-71, Barrie is small but scrappy. He was another one of the pleasant surprises Punch Imlach obtained in Buffalo's expansion draft. Doug has a strong, low shot from the point and carries the puck well. He scored 4 goals and added 23 assists last year. Barrie's first turn in the NHL came in 1968-69 with the Pittsburgh Penguins.

Roger Crozier

Goalkeeper

Born: Bracebridge, Ontario

March 16, 1942

Height: 5'-8" Weight: 165

Shoots: Right

The first established NHL star to become a Buffalo Sabre, Roger was his usual spectacular self during the first third of 70-71. Then, slowed by illness and injuries, he saw limited service the rest of the campaign, but still appeared in more games than any other Sabre goalkeeper. In his 11th full season as a pro, Crozier is still one of the most nimble players in hockey, and has improved playing the angles in the past few years.

Dave Dryden

Goalkeeper

Born: Hamilton, Ontario

September 5, 1941

Height: 6'-2" Weight: 180

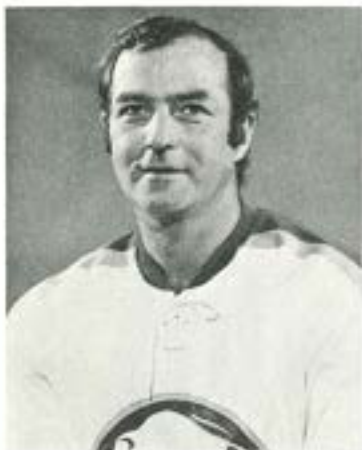

Shoots: Left

The season (70-71) Dave came back to the NHL and performed brilliantly in brief service with the Sabres was — ironically — the year his brother Ken led the Montreal Canadiens to the Stanley Cup with his goaltending. But Punch Imlach was so high on Dave's play, he traded Joe Daley in the off-season and the older Dryden is once again established as an NHL regular. His 3.37 goals against average was lowest on the Sabres last year.

Born: Kirkland Lake, Ontario

February 18, 1936

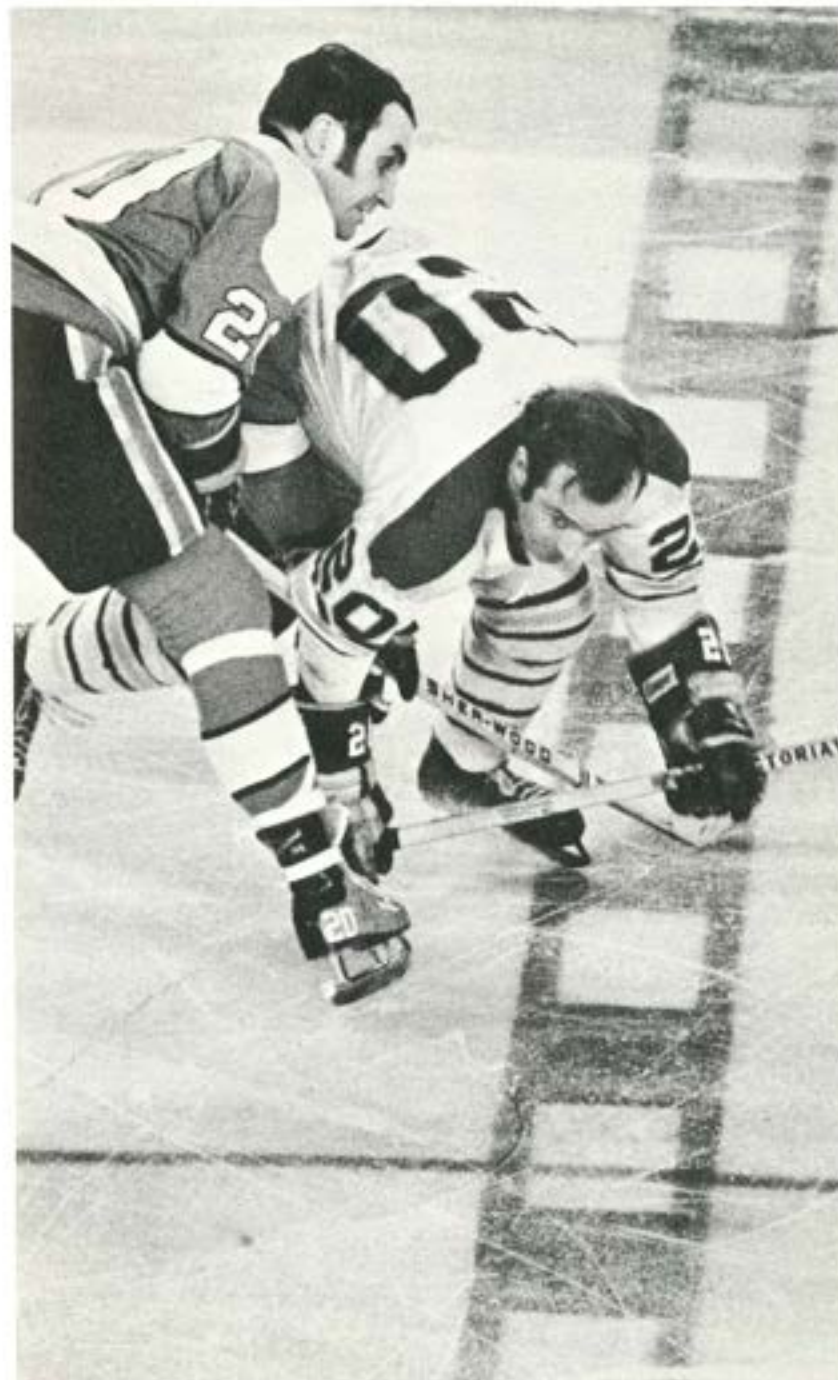

Height: 5'-9" Weight: 166

Shoots: Left

Never a minor leaguer, Duffie is nearing the 300 goal mark in the NHL. He came to Buffalo in the early season along with another of his teammates at Toronto under Punch Imlach years ago — Eddie Shack. Traded by Los Angeles to Buffalo, Dick was slowed by injuries part of the schedule, and scored 8 goals and 13 assists during the year. He has the distinction of scoring the goal which won a Stanley Cup for the Toronto Maple Leafs, and is known as a money player in the playoffs.

Height: 5'-11" Weight: 177

After sitting out part of the season in retirement, Goyette rejoined the Sabres and had one of his best years as a playmaking center, teamed with the now-departed Donnie Marshall. He scored 15 goals and added 46 assists, and turned the Buffalo power play from its early futility to one of the most respectable in the league. Still one of the league's best stickhandlers and passers, Goyette goes on and on without losing his touch.

Height: 6'-1" Weight: 195

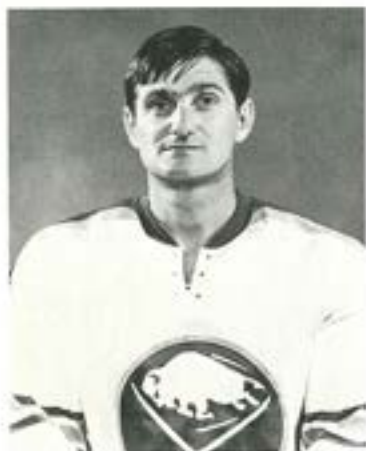

Shoots: Right

Big Al was the leading scorer at defense for the Sabres in 1970-71 with 2 goals and 28 assists. He seemed to gain confidence as the schedule progressed, and he showed more of the great natural ability which made him one of pro hockey's outstanding prospects as he was MVP in leading his Edmonton junior club to the Memorial Cup in 1965-66. Hammy was drafted by the Sabres from the New York Rangers.

His total of 71 for the season set the record in the OHA, the final junior league for superstars such as Bobby Hull, Phil Esposito and the Sabres Gil Perreault. Rick was the Sabres first draft choice and the fourth man taken in the 1971 amateur draft, and is expected to be Buffalo's 1971-72 candidate for rookie-of-the-year. A low handicap golfer, Martin has been attending Sir George Williams University in Montreal.

Eddie Shack

Right Wing

Born: Sudbury, Ontario

February 11, 1937

Height: 6'-1" Weight: 195

Shoots: Left

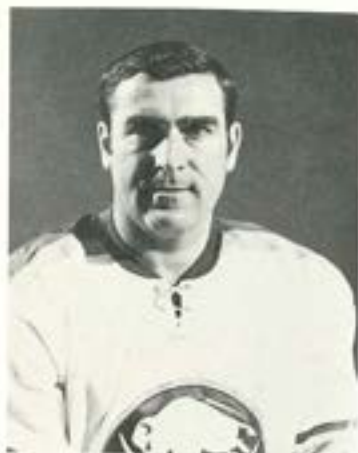

After coming to Buffalo in the early season deal which also brought Dick Duff to Buffalo, Eddie had his best goal scoring year in pro hockey, with 27 and 19 assists. Though he says he's not deserving of "The Entertainer" nickname, Shack's pell-mell style, flying hair and sense of humor quickly made him a fan favorite in Buffalo. He scored three hat tricks as a Sabre and Imlach was glad to have him back.

Floyd Smith

Born: Perth, Ontario

May 16, 1935

Height: 5'-10" Weight: 182

Shoots: Right

Smitty is the first captain of the Sabres and one of the NHL's best penalty killers. He is one of the vets Punch Imlach depends on to provide leadership and rink savvy as he builds a playoff contender in Buffalo. Floyd had 6 goals and 11 assists last year. He's been a pro since 1955 and saw previous NHL service with Boston, New York, Detroit and Toronto.

Jim Watson

Defense

Born: Malartic, Quebec

June 28, 1943

Shoots: Left

Jumbo is one of the quietest Sabres off ice and one of the most pugnacious on. He stacked up 147 penalty minutes during the year, fourth on the club, and thrived in the heavy going. Though he was up a full season and parts of others with the Detroit Red Wings earlier in his career, it took opening night at Pittsburgh in October 1970 for his first NHL goal, the first ever scored by the Buffalo Sabres in regular season play.
