RANGERS NOTES

- ♦ POWER PLAYERS – The Rangers have scored at least one power play goal in three-straight games (5 PPG) and have notched seven power play goals through their last seven games. Their 29.5 power play percentage on the road ranks third in the league.
- ♦ EARNING POINTS – New York has won three-straight games and have earned points in seven of their last eight games since returning to the ice after the Olympic break (5-1-2).
- ♦ THREE-GOAL STREAK – The Blueshirts have scored three or more goals in six-straight games, their longest streak of the season, and have done so for the first time since Oct. 9-Oct. 22, 2024.
- ♦ Alexis Lafreniere extended his goal streak to three-straight games (5G), tied for the second-longest active streak in the league. He has also recorded three-straight multi-point games (5G-2A), tied for the longest active streak in the league. He has notched 10 points through his last five games (6G-4A), the most points he's totaled over a five-game span in his career. Since Mar. 2, his six goals and 11 points are both tied for the league lead.

- ♦ Igor Shesterkin has helped the Rangers earn a win in three-straight games and has helped them earn points in each of his last six games (4-0-2). This season, his .924 save percentage on the road ranks third among all NHL goalies.
- ♦ Adam Fox scored the first goal of the game on the power play, becoming the second Rangers defenseman in franchise history to score a power-play goal within the first 70 seconds of a game and the first since Sergei Zubov (1993-94). He has recorded a point in three-straight games (1G-2A) and leads all Rangers defensemen in assists (29) and points (32).
- ♦ Gabe Perreault has notched a multi-point game in three-straight games (2G-4A), becoming the second Rangers rookie in over 30 years with such a streak (Adam Fox in 2019-20, 3 GP). He is tied for the longest active multi-point game streak among all players in the NHL. He has nine points through his last six games, tied for the third most among NHL skaters and his five multi-point games this season are tied for eighth among all NHL rookies.
- ♦ Tye Kartye extended his point streak to four-straight games (2G-4A), the longest such streak of his career. Since recording his first point with New York on Mar. 7, his six points are tied for second on the Rangers.
- ♦ Mika Zibanejad registered an assist on Adam Fox's power play goal, extending his point streak to three-straight games (2G-5A).
- ♦ Vladislav Gavrikov skated in his 500th career NHL game
