THINGS YOU SHOULD KNOW

The Sabres have earned a win in three straight home games and a win tonight would give them their first home winning streak of four or more games since they earned seven straight home wins from March 10 to April 8, 2025.

Buffalo has a points percentage of .671 at home against Toronto in franchise history and the Sabres have outscored the Maple Leafs 450-320 in those games.

Buffalo's 123 total wins all-time against Toronto are the third-most it has recorded against any team in franchise history.

Tyson Kozak has registered one goal in back-to-back games.

A goal in tonight's game would mark his first goal streak of three or more games in his career.

Jack Quinn has six points (3+3) in his last four games, including at least one point in two consecutive games.

Alex Tuch has recorded five points (2+3) in his last five games.

Tuch is riding a four-game home point streak and a point in tonight's game would give him the third-longest home point streak of his career.

In his last four games, Josh Doan has posted six points (2+4), including at least one point in three consecutive home games.

Rasmus Dahlin has posted five assists in his last five games.

Ryan McLeod has collected four assists in his last four games.

Tonight's game opens Buffalo's first of 13 back-to-back set in 2025-26, which concludes tomorrow night in Toronto.

Buffalo ranks second among all NHL teams in penalty-kill percentage (96.2) and tied for first in power-play goals allowed per game played (0.14).

Buffalo ranks ninth among all NHL teams in power-play percentage (25.0) and the Sabres rank sixth in net power-play percentage (25.0).
