GAME NOTES

THINGS YOU SHOULD KNOW

- Tonight is the first of two games the Stars will play against the Islanders this season. The two teams will face each other again on March 26 in New York.
- Lian Bichsel scored his first goal of the season in Dallas' last game on Nov. 15, making him the 20th Stars skaters to score a goal for Dallas this season. Entering play Monday, Dallas was the only team in the NHL to have 20 unique goal scorers this season.

- Esa Lindell is set to play in his 704th career game tonight, which will tie Stephane Robidas for the 15th-most games played in franchise history.
- The defensive pair of Miro Heiskanen and Esa Lindell (61.2 percent) ranked second in the NHL in expected goal share among defensive pairs to play at least 100 minutes together entering play Monday according to MoneyPuck.com. The pair's 1.84 expected goals against per 60 this season ranked third in the NHL among defensive pairs to have played at least 100 minutes together.
- All five Dallas skaters that have taken at least 100 faceoffs this season have a win rate above 50 percent: Tyler Seguin (56.9), Radek Faksa (56.3), Roope Hintz (56.1) and Wyatt Johnston (50.9).
- Sam Steel enters tonight's game two assists shy of becoming the 17th player selected in the 2016 NHL Draft to total 100 career assists.

LONELY ISLAND

- Dallas is 48-55-21 all-time vs. New York, including a 26-25-10 mark on home ice.
- The Stars have earned points in nine or their last 10 games against the Islanders (6-1-3), including recording points in their last seven consecutive games (5-0-2). Since the 2017-18 season, Dallas has held a .750 point percentage against New York, which ranks third among all NHL teams during that span.
- Tyler Seguin registered two goals in his last outing against the Islanders on Oct. 12, 2024. In all, Seguin has totaled 26 points (10-16—26) in 27 career games played vs. New York, carrying a plus-minus rating of +5.

 - He enters tonight's matchup riding a five-game win streak against New York.

SEEING STARS

- Jason Robertson was named the NHL's First Star of the Week for the week ending on Nov. 16 after leading the League in both goals (6) and points (9) in three games played. It marks the sixth time in his career that he has earned Star of the Week honors.
 - He was named the First Star of the Week for the week ending on Nov. 6, Nov. 27 and April 13 during the 2022-23 season and for the week ending on March 6 during the 2021-22 season.
 - He also earned Third Star of the Week honors for the week ending on Dec. 4, 2022.
- Robertson recorded three points in each of the last three games that he has played, marking the first time in his career that he has had three consecutive three-point games. If he were to do so again tonight, it would make him the first player in franchise history to notch four straight three-point games – as well as the first player from any team to achieve the feat since Nikita Kucherov from April 3 to 9, 2024 (1-11—12 in four games played).
- If Robertson were to score tonight, it would give him goals in four consecutive games for the first time since Nov. 19 to 25, 2022. He enters tonight's game one goal shy of surpassing Tim Young (178) for the 15th-most goals by a forward in franchise history.
- Robertson scored the sixth hat trick of his career in Dallas' last game on Nov. 15 vs. Philadelphia to tie Neal Broten and Steve Payne for seventh place on the franchise's all-time list according to NHL Stats. All three of his goals came consecutively, making him the second player in franchise history (Neal Broten) to score multiple natural hat tricks.
- His performance against the Flyers was his 30th career multi-goal game, which tied former Minnesota North Stars forward Steve Payne for ninth place on the franchise's all-time list according to NHL Stats.
- Robertson scored two goals in 1:39 of game time in Dallas' game on Nov. 13 at Montreal, a 7-0 win over the Canadiens, also notching an assist in that game to finish the night with three points.
- He scored a goal and had two assists – including on Roope Hintz's overtime winner – on Nov. 11 against the Ottawa Senators.
- During this current three-game streak, the Stars are outscoring their opponents 7-2 during 5-on-5 play when Robertson has been on the ice according to Natural Stat Trick.
- In all this season, Robertson has totaled 23 points (9-14—23) in 19 games this season, ranking second on the Stars in scoring and tying for 14th in the NHL in points entering play Monday. His 23 points were tied with Dylan Larkin for the second-most among all American skaters this season entering play Monday, one shy of League leader Jack Eichel (8-16—24).
- Entering play Monday, only Nathan MacKinnon (85) had taken more shots on goal than Robertson (82) this season.
- Entering play Monday, Robertson was tied for fourth in the NHL this season with 11.3 expected goals according to MoneyPuck.com.

GOING STREAKING

- The Stars enter tonight's game having won each of their last five games played. Entering play Monday, their five-game win streak was the second-longest active winning streak in the NHL (Colorado; 6).
- A Dallas victory tonight would give the Stars their first six-game winning streak since they won seven straight from March 22 to April 3, 2025. It would also make them the sixth team this season to have a winning streak that was at least six games long, joining New Jersey (8), Utah (7), Boston (7), Anaheim (7) and Colorado (6).

- If Dallas were to score at least five goals again tonight, it would give them three straight five-goal games for the first time since Nov. 1 to 5, 2022. They defeated the Flyers 5-1 and the Canadiens 7-0 in their last two games.
- The Stars have scored at least one power-play goal in 12 of their last 13 games played, including each of their last eight. If they were to do so again tonight, it would give them power-play goals in nine consecutive games for the first time since the team scored a power-play goal in 10 straight games from March 11 to 31, 2006.
- Dallas has not allowed a power-play goal against in four consecutive games, going a perfect 9-for-9 on the penalty kill during that span. If they were to remain perfect on the penalty kill again tonight, it would mark the first time since Dec. 18 to 27, 2024 (eight games) that the team has gone at least five games without allowing a power-play goal against.
- Roope Hintz enters tonight's game riding a six-game point streak. A goal or an assist tonight would give him points in seven consecutive games for the first time since he had an eight-game point streak from Feb. 25 to March 11, 2023.
- If Jason Robertson were to score tonight, it would give him goals in four consecutive games for the first time since Nov. 19 to 25, 2022. A point of any kind would extend his point streak to five games for the first time this season.
- If Tyler Seguin were to score in tonight's game, it would extend his goal streak to three games for the first time since Jan. 6 to 10, 2024.
- A goal or an assist tonight would extend Ilya Lyubushkin's point streak to three games, matching his career high that he set Dec. 31, 2022 to Jan. 3, 2023.
- If Alexander Petrovic were to record a point, it would give him points in three consecutive games for the second time in his career after previously doing so from March 24 to 29, 2016.
- If either of Lian Bichsel or Justin Hryckowian were to tally a point tonight, it would give them points in three consecutive games for the first time in their careers.

NOVEMBER TO REMEMBER

- The Stars have posted a 6-1-1 record in eight games played this November, tying for the League lead in wins and points (13) this month entering play Monday.
- Dallas' 33 goals scored were tied with Colorado for the most this month entering play Monday and their 4.13 goals per game ranked second.
 - The team's 20 5-on-5 goals for in November ranked third in the NHL entering play Monday.
- Mikko Rantanen (5-9—14) and Jason Robertson (6-8—14) were tied for third in the League in scoring since Nov. 1 entering play Monday.
- Miro Heiskanen (1-11—12) led all defensemen and tied for fifth in the NHL in points since Nov. 1 entering play Monday. His 11 assists were the most of any NHL skater this month entering play Monday.
- With 11 points (5-6—11), Wyatt Johnston was tied for seventh in the NHL in scoring this month. His five power-play goals and eight power-play points both topped the League this month entering play Monday.
- Entering play Monday, Dallas was the only team to have four players ranked in the top 10 in scoring this month.

POWER UP

- The Stars have gone 22-for-66 on the power play this season for a 33.3 percent success rate, which was the second-best mark in the NHL entering play Monday. Dallas' 22 power-play goals scored this season topped the NHL entering play Monday.
 - The Stars didn't score their 22nd power-play goal of the season until their 42nd game played during the 2024-25 campaign, on Jan. 12, 2025 against the Ottawa Senators.
- When playing at the American Airlines Center this season, the Stars have gone 15-for-35 on the power play for a 42.9 percent success rate, which was the best mark in the League entering play Monday. Their 15 home power-play goals ranked second to only Minnesota (16) for the most in the NHL this year entering play Monday.
- The Stars have scored at least one power-play goal in 12 of their last 13 games played, including each of their last eight. - Dallas' performance against the Senators marked the fourth time this season that the Stars have been trailing in a game by two goals and have come back to win, the most in the NHL entering play Monday.

- Overall, the Stars have seven comeback wins this year, which was tied with the Flyers for the second-most in the NHL entering play Monday.
- Additionally, Dallas has won five games when allowing the first goal in a game this season, which was tied for the second-most in the NHL entering play Monday.

BISH BETTER HAVE MY MONEY

- Lian Bichsel has totaled a team-high 66 hits this season, which tied for ninth in the NHL and ranked second among all NHL defensemen entering play Monday. He is currently on pace to finish the season with 285 hits, which would be the most hits in a single season by a Stars skater in franchise history.
 - Steve Ott, with 278 in 2011-12, currently holds the single-season franchise record.
- Bichsel has recorded eight hits in a game three times this season, on Oct. 23 vs. Los Angeles, Oct. 28 vs. Washington and Nov. 15 vs. Philadelphia. Entering play Monday, Bichsel was the only skater in the NHL this season to have three eight-hit games.
- If he were to have at least eight hits in a game again, he would become the eighth player in franchise history to have recorded three eight-hit games and the fourth player to do so in one season, joining Mark Fistric (5; 2011-12), Joel Lundqvist (4; 2006-07) and Steve Ott (5; 2008-09, 7; 2009-10, 6; 2011-12).

IRON SHARPENS IRON

- The Stars have two players on their roster that have played in at least 100 consecutive regular-season games: Jason Robertson (311) and Wyatt Johnston (265).
- Robertson's 311-game Iron Man streak was tied for the seventh-longest active such streak in the NHL entering play Monday.
- Johnston has not missed a regular-season game since making his debut in the 2022-23 season opener on Oct. 13, 2022, making him one of 27 players in NHL history to begin their NHL career by playing in at least 265 consecutive games according to NHL Stats. Entering play Monday, it was the 13th-longest active Iron Man streak in the NHL.
- Johnston was one of 21 players to appear in at least 246 regular-season games from 2022-23 to 2024-25. Only Will Borgen (248) and Charlie Coyle (247) appeared in more.
 - Borgen (84) and Coyle (83), who were traded midseason, both played in more than 82 regular-season games in 2024-25.

THE FINNISH FOUR

- Dallas' roster currently houses four Finns: Miro Heiskanen, Roope Hintz, Esa Lindell and Mikko Rantanen. Dallas' four Finns all hail from different Finnish cities: Espoo (Heiskanen), Nokia (Hintz), Nousiainen (Rantanen) and Vantaa (Lindell).
- Heiskanen, Lindell and Rantanen were three of the six players selected to Finland's preliminary Olympic roster with Hintz expected to join them in Milan this year. Prior to their time together on the Stars, various combinations of the four Finns had played together in international competition.
 - All four players were selected to represent their home country at the Four Nations Face-Off last February before Heiskanen had to withdraw due to injury.
 - Heiskanen and Lindell won a gold medal together at the 2022 IIHF World Championship.
 - Heiskanen and Rantanen represented Finland together at the 2018 IIHF World Championship.
 - Lindell and Rantanen won a silver medal together at the 2016 IIHF World Championship.
 - Hintz and Rantanen played together at the 2015 and 2016 IIHF World Junior Championships, winning a gold medal in 2016.
- The four Finns, along with current Ducks forward and former Star Mikael Granlund, started Game 2 of the Western Conference Final against the Oilers during the 2025 Stanley Cup Playoffs. It marked the first time in a regular-season or playoff game since the NHL began tracking starters in 1997-98 that all five skaters starting were from Finland.
- In all, 34 Finnish players (28 skaters and six goalies) have appeared in at least one regular-season game for the Stars, the most of any NHL franchise in League history.
