AT A GLANCE

SWISS-SATIONAL

Forward Kevin Fiala has had smooth sailing in his 10 career contests against the Kraken, having registered 14 points (2-12=14) since Oct. 28, 2021, with Minnesota. Fiala's nine points (2-7=9) in seven games in black and silver are the most among Kings skaters against the Kraken. The native of St. Gallen, Switzerland, has recorded four separate multi-point outings against Seattle, including a career-high five-assist night on April 22, 2022, as a member of the Wild. Fiala trails only Leon Draisaitl (8), Auston Matthews (5), Kyle Connor (5), and Zach Hyman (5) for the most multi-point performances versus the Kraken.

FROM 2020 TO 200

Forward Quinton Byfield will take the ice for the Kings for the 200th regular season game of his career tomorrow afternoon against the Seattle Kraken. The 22-year-old forward has accumulated 97 points (30-67=97) for the club since being drafted 2nd overall in the 2020 NHL Draft.

GAVY KEEPS DANCING ALL NIGHT

Defenseman Vladislav Gavrikov has averaged a 23:15 of time-on-ice (TOI) per game and accumulated a +12 plus/minus rating, leading the Kings in both categories. Among skaters logging at least 20:00 of time-on-ice per game played, only five players League-wide have accrued as high of a net plus/minus rating or higher as Gavrikov (+12) has, and only Washington's John Carlson (+14) has done so while playing as many minutes or more each night.

KING OF KINGS

Captain Anze Kopitar leads the Kings into tomorrow's showdown with the Kraken having tallied six points (0-6=6) in his last five outings, dating back to Nov. 9 against the Blue Jackets. The veteran forward (424-808=1,232) enters tomorrow's divisional matchup tied with Hall of Fame blueliner Phil Housley (338-894=1,232) for 43rd on the League's all-time scoring list. Kopitar has compiled six points (3-3=6) in his ten career games played against Seattle since their introduction to the League in 2021-22.
