SEYMOUR H. KNOX III

Chairman of the Board and President

The Chairman of the Board of the Buffalo Sabres is a successful businessman and an outstanding athlete in his own right.

Since his school days when a football injury ended his hockey career, Seymour Knox has been an avid hockey fan, and turned that interest into a long quest for an NHL franchise — one that paid off last fall.

Former president of the U.S. Squash Racquets Association and a nationally-ranked player, he is Regional Vice President of Dominick & Dominick, members of New York Stock Exchange, and Sabres' representative on the NHL Board of Governors.

NORTHRUP R. KNOX

Vice Chairman of the Board

“Norty” Knox was an outstanding goalie at Yale and turned his athletic abilities to polo and court tennis after college.

He was the court tennis World Champion for 10 years, and captain and number one player on the U.S. Polo team in 1969. Currently he serves as Chairman of the U.S. Polo Association.

With his brother Seymour, Norty Knox was disappointed in the first expansion of the NHL when the well-prepared Buffalo application was turned down. But the Knox brothers and other local backers continued to be persistent, leading to the league's dynamic new franchise.

DAVID G. FORMAN

Administrative Vice President

Front office operations of the new Sabres organization have been under the direction of Dave Forman in the hectic months of putting together a new franchise.

No stranger to administration, he has been a well known and highly respected business and civic leader in Western New York for three decades.

He was named administrative vice president and a member of the Sabres' executive committee Sept. 22, after serving as a Sabres' vice president since the club's inception.

ROBERT O. SWADOS

Vice President and Counsel

Professional sports in Buffalo have been both vocation and avocation for Bob Swados, partner in the law firm of Cohen, Swados, Wright, Hanifin & Bradford.

He is a former vice president of the Buffalo Bisons Baseball Club, vice president, Major League for Buffalo, Inc., and was counsel to the Knox brothers when they first sought an NHL franchise in 1965.

A Buffalo native, he has a B.A. from the University of Buffalo and is a cum laude graduate of the Harvard University Law School.

ANATOMY OF A FRANCHISE

by Seymour H. Knox III

On October 15, 1970 the Buffalo Sabres faced-off against the Montreal Canadiens at Memorial Auditorium. The dropping of that first puck represented the end-result of more than five years of dedicated effort to gain major league hockey for the City of Buffalo.

In September, 1965 my brother Norty and I applied to the National Hockey League for a franchise for Buffalo. It was the opening gun in a series of battles to gain for this area the ultimate sports prize: a National Hockey League franchise.

At the time of the initial franchise application, we were informed that we were the best financed, prepared, and well-liked group among all the applicants. Paradoxically, the League granted franchises to Los Angeles, Minnesota, Oakland, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, and St. Louis, while shutting the door to us.

Despite our disappointment we recognized that single battles do not win wars. We were more determined than ever to bring to the City of Buffalo and the enthusiastic fans of the Niagara Frontier a major league franchise.

To that end we established the Executive Committee of the Buffalo Hockey Club in cooperation with the Pastor brothers, who owned the AHL Buffalo Bisons. This relationship was to prove very helpful in re-establishing and maintaining important contacts with the NHL's Board of Governors.

Much has been written about our participation in the Oakland franchise. In October, 1968 our group signed a contract to purchase the Oakland club. Our ultimate goal was to move the Seals to Buffalo, through a transfer of the franchise. However, the NHL Board of Governors remained adamant that the franchise was not to be relocated from the Bay area. Battle Number Two was lost also and in losing we inherited reoperations amounting to hundreds of thousands of dollars annually, as well as a franchise located 3,000 miles from home.

It would have been easy to quit at this point. But we did feel that, despite the reversal, we were making headway, if slowly. Our original associations with the individual members of the Board of Governors had blossomed, in many cases, into firm friendships. We were able to press our case even more vigorously to the Board, when I was elected as an Alternate Governor for Oakland, and could attend and participate in the NHL meetings.

A second plan for expansion in the NHL was adopted on September 15, 1969. Our position within the League enabled us to be fully informed on the course that the expansion was to take.

Many of the same doubts and fears that had plagued us four years before, were still prevalent within the minds of many of the League's Governors. Additionally, one of the two proposed franchises had been pre-committed to Vancouver. Baltimore and Cleveland appeared to have inside tracks for the remaining franchise.

Compounding the situation was the $6,000,000 cost of joining the NHL, three times the price of admission in the original expansion of 1965.

Since the League was to act on the franchise applications on December 2, 1969, our group had less than three months to organize, properly finance, campaign, and overcome inherent opposition toward Buffalo among some Governors.

Among the most important problems that faced us were: 1) could we enlarge our group to include sufficient investors willing to risk nearly $9,000,000? 2) could we persuade the City Administration and the Common Council to renew its original commitment to expand Memorial Auditorium to a minimum of 15,000 seats, as required by the NHL, and generally renovate the building to NHL standards? 3) could we negotiate a lease that would be fair to the City and fair to our investors? 4) could we purchase the Buffalo Bisons at a realistic price? 5) could we work out a reasonable settlement to satisfy the territorial claims of the AHL? 6) most importantly, could we satisfy ourselves that Buffalo fans would remain loyal during our formative years?

We tackled and solved these and other problems one by one, although the December 2 date of decision by the NHL precluded completion of all negotiations involved.

We met with the League's Finance Committee on the evening of December 1, and presented our credentials. The following day came the long-awaited announcement that we had been awarded a conditional franchise in the National Hockey League!

The conditional aspect of the franchise grant was predicated on the necessity of expanding Memorial Auditorium to meet minimum NHL standards. On December 2, although we were engaged in negotiations for a lease with the City of Buffalo, we had not arrived at an agreement, nor had the City of Buffalo, through its Common Council, passed the necessary bond issue that would provide funds to enlarge and renovate the building.

In May, 1970 Mayor Frank Sedita and the Common Council, led by Council President Chester Gorski and Majority Leader Delmar Mitchell, despite opposition and ever-increasing costs, appropriated the necessary funds to assure that Memorial Auditorium would be rennovated, not only to achieve minimum NHL requirements, but to become one of the finest facilities in the NHL.

A basic shortage of time before the start of the 1970-71 season, compounded by construction delays due to a taxpayer's suit, prevented the completion of all facilities this year. However, on October 15 we had ice, dasher boards, a new score clock, new and improved lighting, improved concession areas, some new seats — and we had major league hockey!

And THAT has made it all worthwhile for us!

SABRES' HOME

When completed, the Auditorium will seat over 15,000 fans for hockey — and will provide the finest sight-lines of any arena in the United States and Canada. On the average, fans will be seated closer to the ice surface than in any other building of comparable seating.

Over 5,000 additional seats will be added in the forms of a new cantilevered balcony and gold rink-side box seats.

Other renovations for the enjoyment, comfort, and convenience of the fans will include: 1. A new scoreclock; 2. A moving message center; 3. New, larger, and more conveniently located concession areas designed for quick service; 4. New areas for sit-down dining; 5. More and completely modern restrooms conveniently located for the convenience of fans; 6. Escalators designed to service the new balcony and upper gray seats; 7. Completely new sound system and acoustical treatment.

These are a few of the modernizations and renovations designed to make Buffalo's Memorial Auditorium a showcase for the world's fastest and most exciting sport, NHL hockey.

SABRES' STAFF

GEORGE "PUNCH" IMLACH

Coach and General Manager

Professional hockey's most colorful and quotable coach has also been one of its most successful. In 11 seasons as general manager and coach of Toronto's Maple Leafs, his teams won four Stanley Cups and made the playoffs 10 times.

As coach and general manager of the Sabres, Imlach faces a building challenge as difficult as as there is in pro hockey.

But success at building and rebuilding is one of Punch's strong suits. In 1958-59 he took what had been a last place Maple Leaf club the previous year, and won the Stanley Cup.

Veteran players seemingly near the end of their careers often find new legs and new hockey life under Punch. He's an acknowledged disciplinarian and an eternal optimist who predicted on taking the Sabres' job that Buffalo would be the first expansion team to win the Stanley Cup.

His dry acerbic wit is as much an Imlach characteristic as the intriguing hats he manages to come up with to wear behind the players' bench.

JOHN ANDERSEN

Director of Scouting

Danish-born John worked for Punch Imlach in Toronto for 10 years. When Punch and the Leafs parted, the soft-spoken bachelor moved west to become director of scouting for the Oakland Seals.

Anderson was with the Seals for 15 months and after Imlach joined the Sabres, he asked Oakland for permission to invite John into the Buffalo organization.

"There simply isn't any phase of the business of hockey that John isn't familiar with," said Imlach when Andersen's appointment was announced. The Sabres' scouting system in operation for several months, is Andersen's first handiwork in Buffalo.

FRED HUNT

Assistant General Manager

Fred Hunt and pro hockey in Buffalo go hand-in-glove. For the past 18 years general manager of the AHL Bisons and a star player here for nearly a decade before that, Fred joined the Sabres shortly after the new NHL franchise was awarded.

Buffalo's long record of success as a great hockey town in the AHL was largely due to Hunt — the player — the coach (on four separate occasions) — and the general manager. With the Sabres, he is closely concerned with scouting and general arena responsibilities.

CHUCK BURR

Director of Public Relations

Third time Chuck is in at the beginning of a major league sports franchise . . . first an executive with the Buffalo Bills . . . then Miami's Dolphins . . . now the Sabres . . . former sports editor of WNAC-TV, Boston and WXRA, Buffalo . . . sports info director at State University of Buffalo . . . Assistant Development Director at UB . . . Married, with a son and three daughters.

PAUL WIELAND

Assistant Director of Public Relations

Former Buffalo newspaperman . . . longtime amateur hockey player in U. S. and Canada . . . was press relations manager for GM Overseas . . . grad of St. Bonaventure University in 1959 . . . native of Buffalo . . . married, with two daughters.

TED DARLING

Radio voice of the Sabres

Veteran CBC and Hockey Night in Canada announcer . . . born in Kingston, Ont. . . radio and TV studies grad of Ryerson Institute, Toronto . . . worked as hockey announcer first in Huntsville, Ont. . . later worked on broadcasts of Detroit Tiger baseball, Canadian Open golf and Canadian Football League . . . Married, with a son and four daughters.

ROBERT W. PICKEL

Comptroller

Bob is well-seasoned in every area of business and accounting guidance. He has served as Senior Accountant for Loblaw's, Inc., and he was comptroller and office manager for a trucking firm. Pickel is very active in youth group leadership, and has five children of his own.

FRANK CHRISTIE

Trainer

Frank first got into hockey as a stick-boy. He's regarded as one of the best with twenty-four years training experience in minor league hockey. Christie has turned down previous offers to go to the NHL, but he and his wife didn't want to leave Buffalo. Now Frank is satisfied . . . he has both, a big-league job in his favorite town.

DON "SOCKEYE" UREN

Trainer

A former boxer and practice goalie, Uren acquired his NHL training experience while with Toronto and Chicago. He helped to develop the protective helmet which is now used extensively throughout professional hockey. Don is married and he and his wife Peggy have three children.

BOB HEWITSON

Ticket Manager

Former executive with Maple Leaf Gardens in Toronto . . . box office and promotions manager with Toronto's O'Keefe Center past 10 years . . . once with old Toronto International League Baseball Club . . . Married, with three sons and a daughter.

MEET THE SABRE GIRL

SUNDAE BAFO

Shortly before opening face-off at every Sabres' home game, fans will be treated to the sight of a black-tressed beauty flashing across the ice in an exciting free skating version of Khachaturian's fiery "Sabre Dance." She's Sundae Bafo, one of Western New York's finest figure skating professionals, and now the official Sabre Girl. Twenty-two-year-old Sundae, who began skating at five, earned gold medals for figure skating, dance and free dancing in both the U.S. and Canada, as well as over a dozen medals in major U.S. and Canadian competition. Sundae turned professional in 1969 and now teaches at the Buffalo Skating Club and the Buffalo Curling Club. She is a graduate of Buffalo Seminary and attends the University of Buffalo.

BUFFALO HOSTS NATIONAL FIGURE SKATING CHAMPIONSHIPS ON JANUARY 26-30.

Along with NHL Hockey, Buffalo also is the scene of another major Ice event this winter. The Buffalo Skating Club will host the U.S. National Figure Skating Championships from January 26 through 30th, at Memorial Auditorium and the Nichols School rink. The Nationals, in this golden anniversary year of U.S. figure skating, are being held in Buffalo for the first time. Charles Diebold is the honorary Chairman, and John T. Maher is General Chairman.
