The Sabres have scored a power-play goal in each of their last four games (5-for-12, 41.7 percent) and a goal in tonight's game would extend the streak to five games for the first time since Nov. 30 to Dec. 9, 2022 (9-for-22, 40.9 percent).

Nine different skaters have registered a power-play point during the streak, including Jeff Skinner, who has notched three of the five goals.

Kyle Okposo has tallied a goal in back-to-back games and a goal in tonight's game would give him a three-game goal streak for the first time since he recorded a goal in three straight games from Oct. 21 to 27, 2018.

Jeff Skinner has recorded four points (3+1) in his last four games, including a goal in each of his last two.

A goal in tonight's game would give Skinner his second three-game goal streak of 2023-24 and would give him 140 goals with Buffalo in his career and sole possession of 19th place on Buffalo's all-time goals list, surpassing Jack Eichel.

JJ Peterka has registered 14 points (6+8) in his last 13 games, including at least one point in five of his last six games.

Rasmus Dahlin has notched six points (1+5) in his last five games.

Alex Tuch has tallied 13 points (6+7) in his last 12 games, including three points (1+2) in his last two games.

Casey Mittelstadt has notched an assist in four consecutive games and an assist in tonight's game would give him a five-game assist streak, which would mark the longest of his career.

An assist in tonight's game would make Mittelstadt the first Sabres forward to record an assist in five or more consecutive games since Tuch recorded at least one assist in five straight games from April 6 to 13, 2023.

Victor Olofsson has recorded six points (2+4) in his last six games, including four assists in his last three.
