FOR EACH OTHER

On Thursday, December 12, Blue Jackets' Captain Boone Jenner and Alternate Captain Erik Gudbranson stopped by the Big 10TV Toy Drive supporting The Salvation Army's Christmas Cheer program. The duo helped collect toys and thanked each donor for their contribution. Players from the 18U AAA Blue Jackets also stopped by to drop off 500 toys donated by more than 200 families in the AAA program. The players helped Jenner and Gudbranson unload the hefty donation.

The team held its own Toy Drive for The Salvation Army at Nationwide Arena on Saturday, December 14 before the Blue Jackets took on the Anaheim Ducks. Players' wives and girlfriends, known as the Lady Jackets, served as volunteers collecting the donations, handing out ticket vouchers, and thanking fans for their generosity. In one evening, the team collected over 1,350 toys for children in the community!

Erik Gudbranson visited Officer Nickolas Golden from the Delaware County Sheriff's Department while he is in the hospital recovering on Wednesday, December 18. Officer Golden was assisting with a vehicle crash on the side of the road when a semi-truck lost control and hit him. Gudbranson brought him some CBJ gear, jokes and well wishes for a speedy recovery.

THINGS TO KNOW

The annual 5th Line 5K Race, presented by OhioHealth, will take place on Sunday, February 9. Participants can look forward to a scenic route that begins outside of Nationwide Arena and winds through downtown Columbus and the Arena District before "finishing on center ice" inside the arena. Registration is open now with the discounted rate ending on January 7. Learn more at BlueJackets.com/5K.
