AT A GLANCE

AWAY TEAM'S CRYPTO-NITE

The Kings cap off their four-game homestand tomorrow following their 6-1 victory over the Ducks on Thursday to secure their 30th win at Crypto.com Arena this season and improving their overall home record to 30-5-4. It marks the first time in franchise history the team has reached the 30-home win mark. With a three-game homestand sweep, which included back-to-back 7-2 victories over Carolina on March 22 and Boston on March 23, the Kings beat San Jose on March 30 to earn their 27th home win of the year (27-4-4), setting a new franchise record for the most home wins in a season. Since then, the Kings picked up three more wins in DTLA, including a 4-1 victory over the Winnipeg Jets on April 1, who entered the contest with the best overall record in the NHL at 51-19-4.

FIFTY-FIVE BIG BOOMS

Following his 20th goal of the year on Monday against Seattle, forward Quinton Byfield (1-1=2) buried his 21st goal of the campaign on Thursday to set a new single season career high. The milestone was set during Byfield's 10th multi-point performance (1-1=2) on the year which helped him hit the 50-point mark (21-29=50) for the second consecutive season. With his recent goals, Byfield became the eighth different skater selected in the 2020 NHL Draft to record multiple 20-goal seasons. He is also the sixth skater in Kings history to clinch multiple 20-goal seasons 22 years of age or younger, the first to do so since Anze Kopitar (2x).

PAPA JUICE

The Kings' leader in goals (33) and points (33-34=67) this season, forward Adrian Kempe returns to Crypto.com Arena after a momentous week that featured the birth of his first child on Wednesday and a three-point outing (0-3=3) for his team-leading 22nd multi-point effort of the campaign the next night against Anaheim. Kempe recorded his 200th career assist last Saturday afternoon against the Edmonton Oilers. By notching his 31st helper of the season in that game, he became just the eighth King to tally at least 200 assists in his first 625 career games.
