KINGS NOTES

- Forward Andrei Kuzmenko (1-0=1) scored his third power play goal to record his sixth point (3-3=6) of the postseason. Kuzmenko is only the fourth Kings player to score at least three power play goals in the first five games of the Stanley Cup Playoffs since Michal Handzus did so in 2010 against the Vancouver Canucks (3PPG). He is joined on that list by Marcel Dionne (4PPG) in 1982, Chris Kontos (6PPG) in 1989, and Paul Coffey (4PPG) in 1992.
- Captain Anze Kopitar (0-1=1) picked up his seventh assist of the playoffs, tying him for the League-lead in assists this postseason. Kopitar (1-7=8) becomes the 10th different skater in NHL history aged 37 or older to record eight points in any five game span in the Stanley Cup Playoffs, the first to do so since Joe Pavelski posted eight points (7-1=8) from May 2 - 11, 2023 as a member of the Dallas Stars.
- Kopitar is joined by Nicklas Lidstrom (3-5=8; April 18 - May 3, 2009) as the only skaters born outside of North America to accomplish the feat.
- Forward Adrian Kempe (0-1=1) picked up his team-leading 10th point (4-6=10) of the playoffs with his sixth helper and League-leading sixth power play point. With the assist, Kempe extends his home-ice playoff point streak to a third game, dating back to Game 1 last week Monday, April 21.
- Kempe's eight points (3-5=8) mark just the second time in Kings history that a skater has recorded as many in the first three home games of the Stanley Cup Playoffs, joining Wayne Gretzky who posted nine points (2-7=9) against the Calgary Flames from April 8 - 14, 1990.
- Kempe's five-game span also tied Gretzky (5 GP in 1991) and Daryl Evans (5 GP in 1982) for the fewest games to 10 points in a postseason in Kings history, per NHL PR.
- The native of Kramfors, Sweden, becomes the fourth Kings skater to record 10 points in a single postseason series in the past 30 years, joining Jeff Carter (11 in 2014 CF), Marian Gaborik (10 in 2014 R2) and Anze Kopitar (10 in 2014 R1).
- Defenseman Drew Doughty skated in his 100th career Stanley Cup Playoff game tonight. Doughty has made the most postseason appearances in franchise history by a defenseman and becomes the 15th active blueliner and the 50th active skater to play 100 career games in the Stanley Cup Playoffs.
