Community Relations Mission

The New York Islanders care deeply about the community they call home. They are committed to fostering relationships that enhance the quality of life for their neighbors throughout the Long Island and Metro New York areas. Through community collaboration, the New York Islanders Community Relations department addresses important social issues which include education, youth development, and health & wellness. In addition, the department hosts grassroots initiatives to grow the game of hockey and to expand the New York Islanders fandom.

The Islanders make a difference in a variety of ways:

- Creating and implementing in-house, community-based programs
- Fundraising and providing donations through the team's non-profit organization, the Islanders Children's Foundation
- Partnering with non-profit organizations that share a common vision
- Implementing grassroots grow-the-game initiatives and events
- Raising awareness and creating programming around important social issues

These successful community efforts are the result of a dedicated group of individuals, including ownership, management, players, front office staff, and the generous contributions of our loyal fans and sponsors.

The Islanders organization is a proud member of the community, and as a team, will continue to work diligently to touch the lives of those around us.

50

Anniversary Season

Home Opener vs. Florida Panthers

The New York Islanders dropped the puck on its 50th season in the NHL with help from original Islanders captain Ed Westfall, who conducted ceremonial first puck honors with current captain Anders Lee and Florida's Aleksander Barkov.

Anniversary Season

Key Moments

The season-long celebration of the Islanders' 50th Anniversary included such events and activations as Legends Nights, the One Millionth Fan at UBS Arena, ringing the opening bell at the New York Stock Exchange, the unveiling of Islanders Way, and much more.

History

The Islanders Children's Foundation (ICF) was created in 2003 as a registered 501(c)(3) and extension under the leadership of late owner Charles B. Wang who had a passion to help children and provide them with the best opportunities to live happy, healthy, and successful lives. The Islanders' current ownership group shares Charles' values and is committed to being a leader in philanthropic causes and continues to make the ICF a staple in the community. Since its inception, the ICF has raised more than $18 million through various events and initiatives to help those in the community. The success of the Islanders Children's Foundation is a testament to the support of the entire Islanders family [ownership, players, staff, sponsors, and fans].

Mission

The Islanders Children's Foundation is committed to supporting, educating, and developing area youth while investing in Metro New York's families and community well-being. The ICF focuses on supporting nonprofit organizations that share its common mission and developing programs that will create a legacy for years to come.

$500,000

Race to the Rink

The first in-person Race to the Rink 5K presented by Easterseals New York was held March 26 outside of UBS Arena. More than 500 Islanders fans participated in the event. Fans and community members were welcome to run, walk or jog, throughout the course. Post-race included interactions with Islanders alumni, Bryan Trottier, a high-five finish from Sparky, and family friendly entertainment. The inaugural event raised over $75,000 for both Easterseals and the Islanders Children's Foundation. Easterseals New York provides programs and services to children and adults with disabilities and other special needs, and their families.

50/50 Raffle

The 50/50 raffle was conducted at all Islanders home games as well as select arena events during the 22-23 season. The program raised more than $600,000 for partnering non-profit organizations, as well as the ICF.

$70,000+

Silent Auction

During select home games, fans had the opportunity to bid on exclusive autographed Islanders memorabilia and experiences. Proceeds of over $70,000 benefited the ICF.

$50,000+

Mystery Pucks

The 22-23 season saw five special mystery puck fundraisers take place. These specially designed pucks were autographed and fans had the chance to purchase via a mystery grab bag. Mystery pucks celebrated the 50th Anniversary, Hockey Fights Cancer, Military Appreciation, New Years and Pride. The fundraisers on the season raised $50K for the ICF and partner charities.

$125,000+

Jersey Auctions

The 22-23 season saw five special jersey auctions take place. Specialty warm-up jerseys raised awareness for Hockey Fights Cancer, Military Appreciation and Green initiatives while the game worn jerseys celebrated the Reverse Retro and Traditional Islanders jerseys worn throughout the course of the season by the team. More than $125,000 was raised through these initiatives.

Scoreboard Messages

Fans could purchase personalized scoreboard messages to be displayed on the scoreboard at any home game. This program raised over $17,500 for the ICF.

$17,500+

Warm-Up Pucks

This season fans were able to purchase a commemorative warm-up puck during every home game. The pucks were customized to reflect the date of the game and the opponent. This program raised more than $50,000 for the ICF.

$50,000+

Halloween Player Baskets

The Islanders significant others supported the Islanders Children's Foundation by putting together players "favorite things" baskets. Each New York Islanders player had a one-of-a-kind basket containing a few of their favorite things and autographed items. These baskets were raffled off in-arena and raised more than $7,500 for the ICF.

$7,500+

Alumni Mystery Bags

In coordination with Alumni Weekend, mystery bags containing a variety of autographed items were sold grab bag style to fans that were in attendance for the January 21st game. This initiative raised more than $8,000 for the ICF.

Honorary Flag Captain

During the intermission of every home game the Islanders acknowledged first responders, community members and organizations who make a positive impact on the community through the “Honorary Flag Captain” program. Each flag captain received in-game and social media recognition for their impact.

Community Corner Spotlight

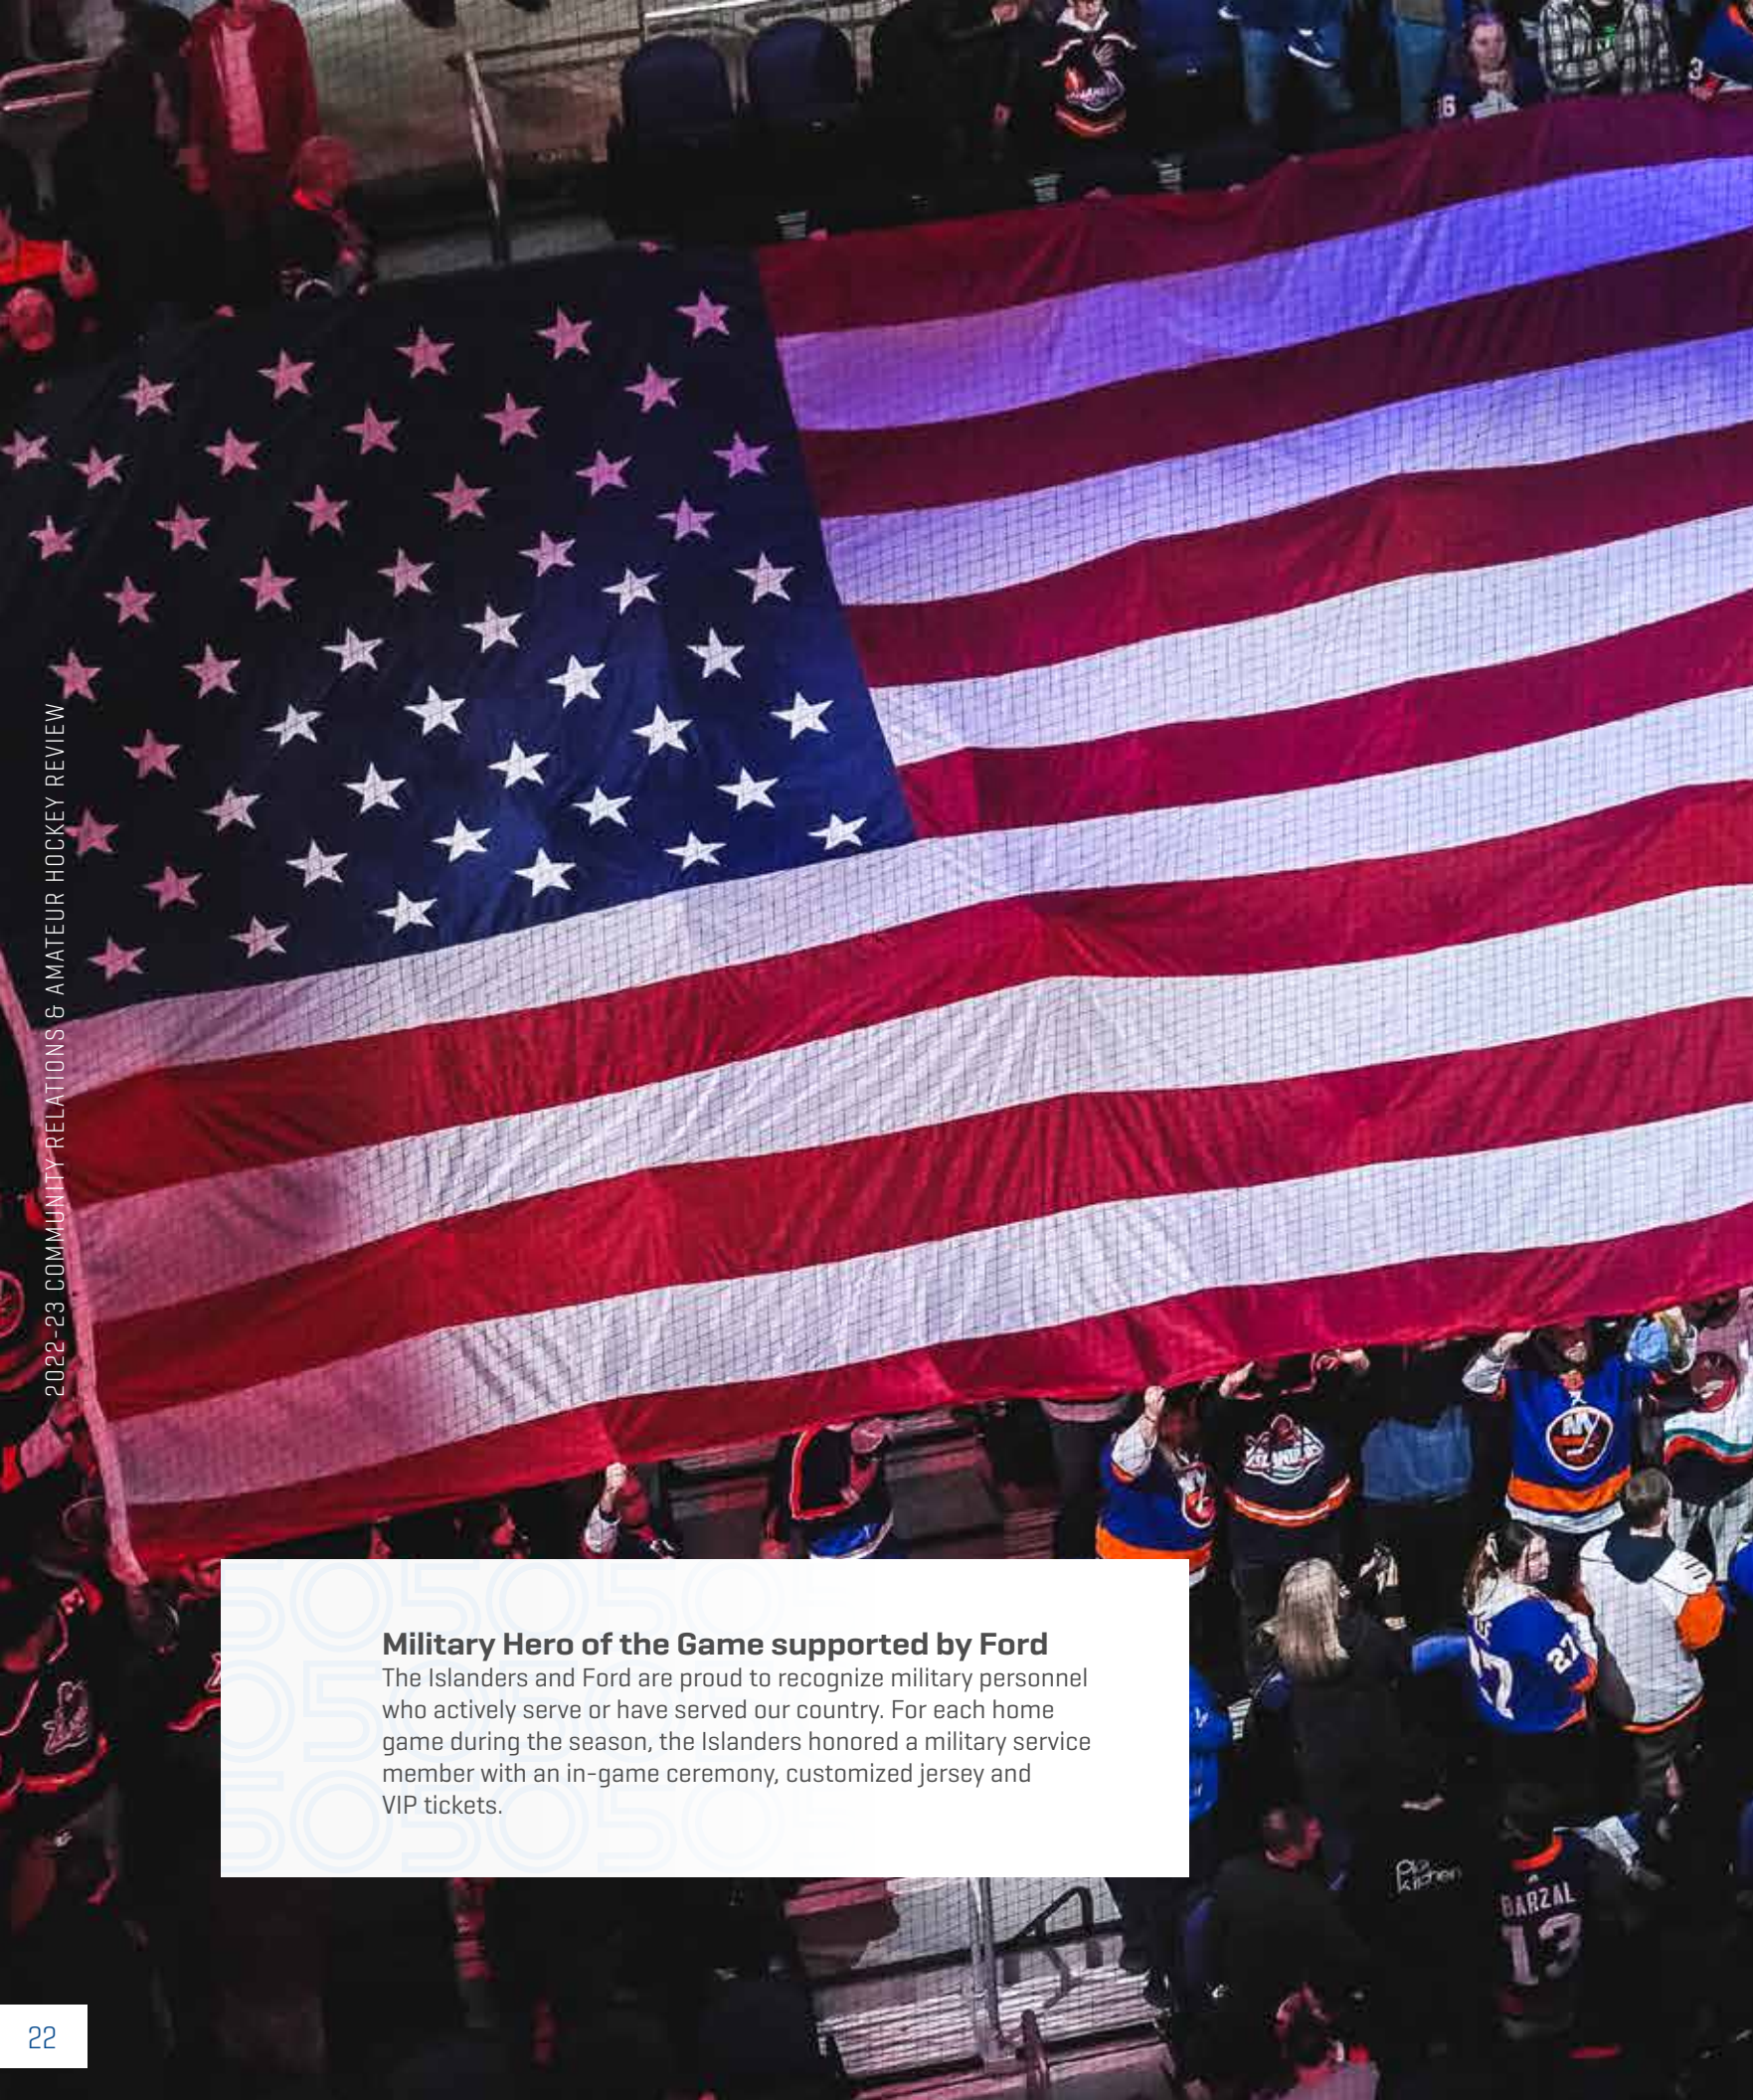

During every home game, the Islanders acknowledged various nonprofit organizations through the Hockey with a Heart Program. During the Community Corner Spotlight representatives from the partnering organization are interviewed by our in-game hosts. The interviews create an outlet to increase awareness of the organization and support the fundraising initiatives taking place each game.

Islanders Assist Presented by Stop & Shop

The Islanders partnered with Stop & Shop throughout the course of the 2022-23 season. For every “home” assist the Islanders had a meal was donated through Island Harvest to those in need in the community. More than $10,000 was raised, equating to more than 20,000 distributed meals.

Hockey with a Heart

The Islanders are committed to helping make a difference in the community by working with and for causes close to the hearts of the organization and our fans. Throughout the season the Islanders Children's Foundation partnered with a select group of non-profit organizations to raise awareness and funding for their mission. With the assistance of Islanders games, social media and game broadcasts groups are able to raise awareness for their cause. Each organization receives a portion of the 50/50 raffle, in-game interview spot and Honorary Flag Captain recognition. Complimentary tickets are distributed to each group to be allocated to those they service or to say thank you to volunteers, staff or donors.

THEME NIGHTS

Military Appreciation Night

November 10, 2022

The New York Islanders honored over 500 active and veteran status military personnel, and their families, during the military appreciation theme night at UBS Arena. The night consisted of various fundraising initiatives, giveaways, and honorary moments to showcase gratitude for all they do.

Activations

- Opening Ceremony: Fans looked to the rafters as members from the New York Army National Guard, Alpha Company, Recruiting and Retention Battalion under the 106th Rescue Wing rappelled with the nation's colors to deliver the game puck to center ice.
- Mystery Pucks: Limited edition military themed autographed mystery pucks were sold on the concourse throughout the game. Over $9,500 was raised through the mystery puck program and donated back to military related programs.
- Jersey Auction: The players took the ice in military themed jerseys during warm-ups. The jerseys were later auctioned off through an online platform and raised over $23,000 for the ICF and military related causes.
- Placards: Fans arrived to their seats with an "I Salute" placard to hold in-arena during a special tv-timeout recognition. Customizable placards were available at the community relations table on the concourse.
- Homefront Videos: The New York Islanders partnered with fans currently deployed to honor them throughout the game. Deployed service members were able to send positive messages to family and players in New York, the videos were showcased throughout the game.
- Over 500 complimentary tickets were distributed to active military members, veterans and their families to attend the game.
- Giveaway Hat: Ford distributed camouflage hats to the first 10,000 fans in attendance.
- HWAH Charities: The New York Islanders raised awareness and funds for the USO of Metro NY and United Heroes League through a series of activations throughout the game.
- UBS Arena external lanterns recolored to green.

Hockey Fights Cancer

November 12, 2022

The New York Islanders support research and support those battling the disease. In conjunction with the National Hockey League's Hockey Fights Cancer (HFC) campaign, the Islanders conduct several cancer awareness initiatives and fundraisers to benefit cancer awareness and support groups.

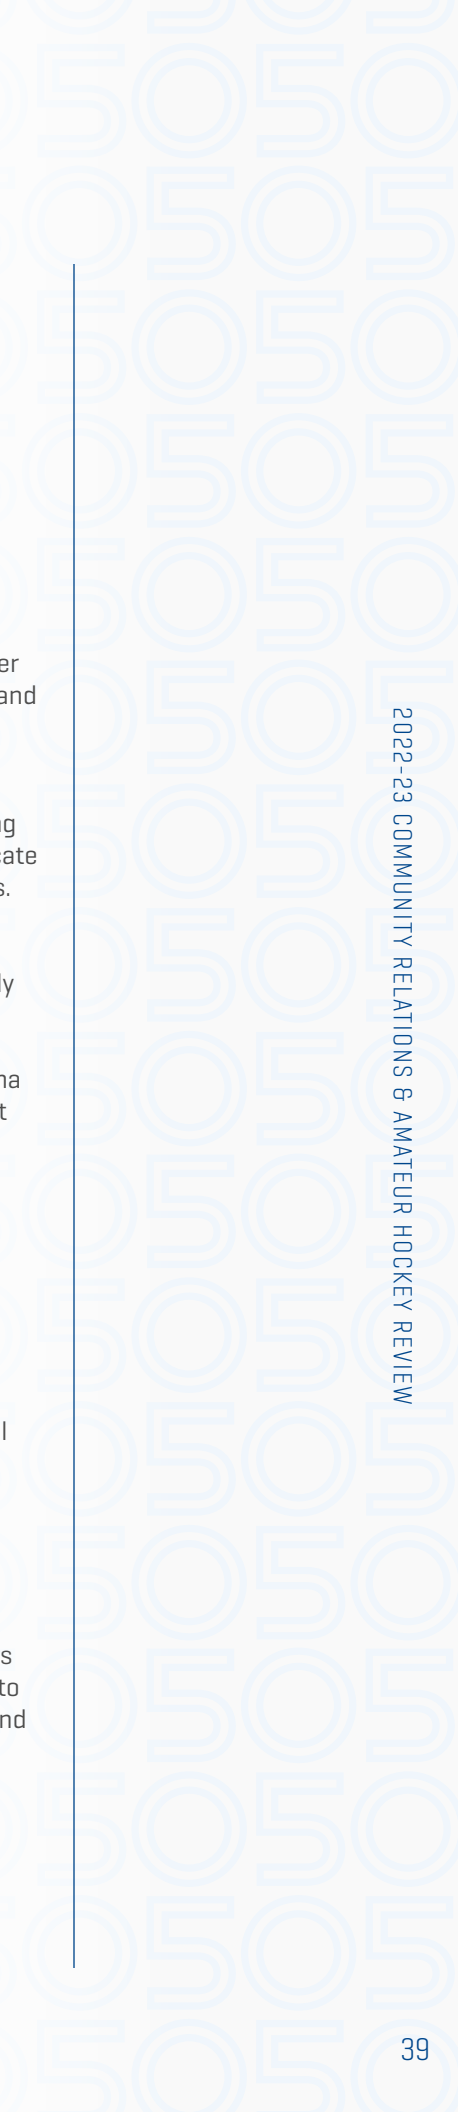

Ceremonial Puck Drop

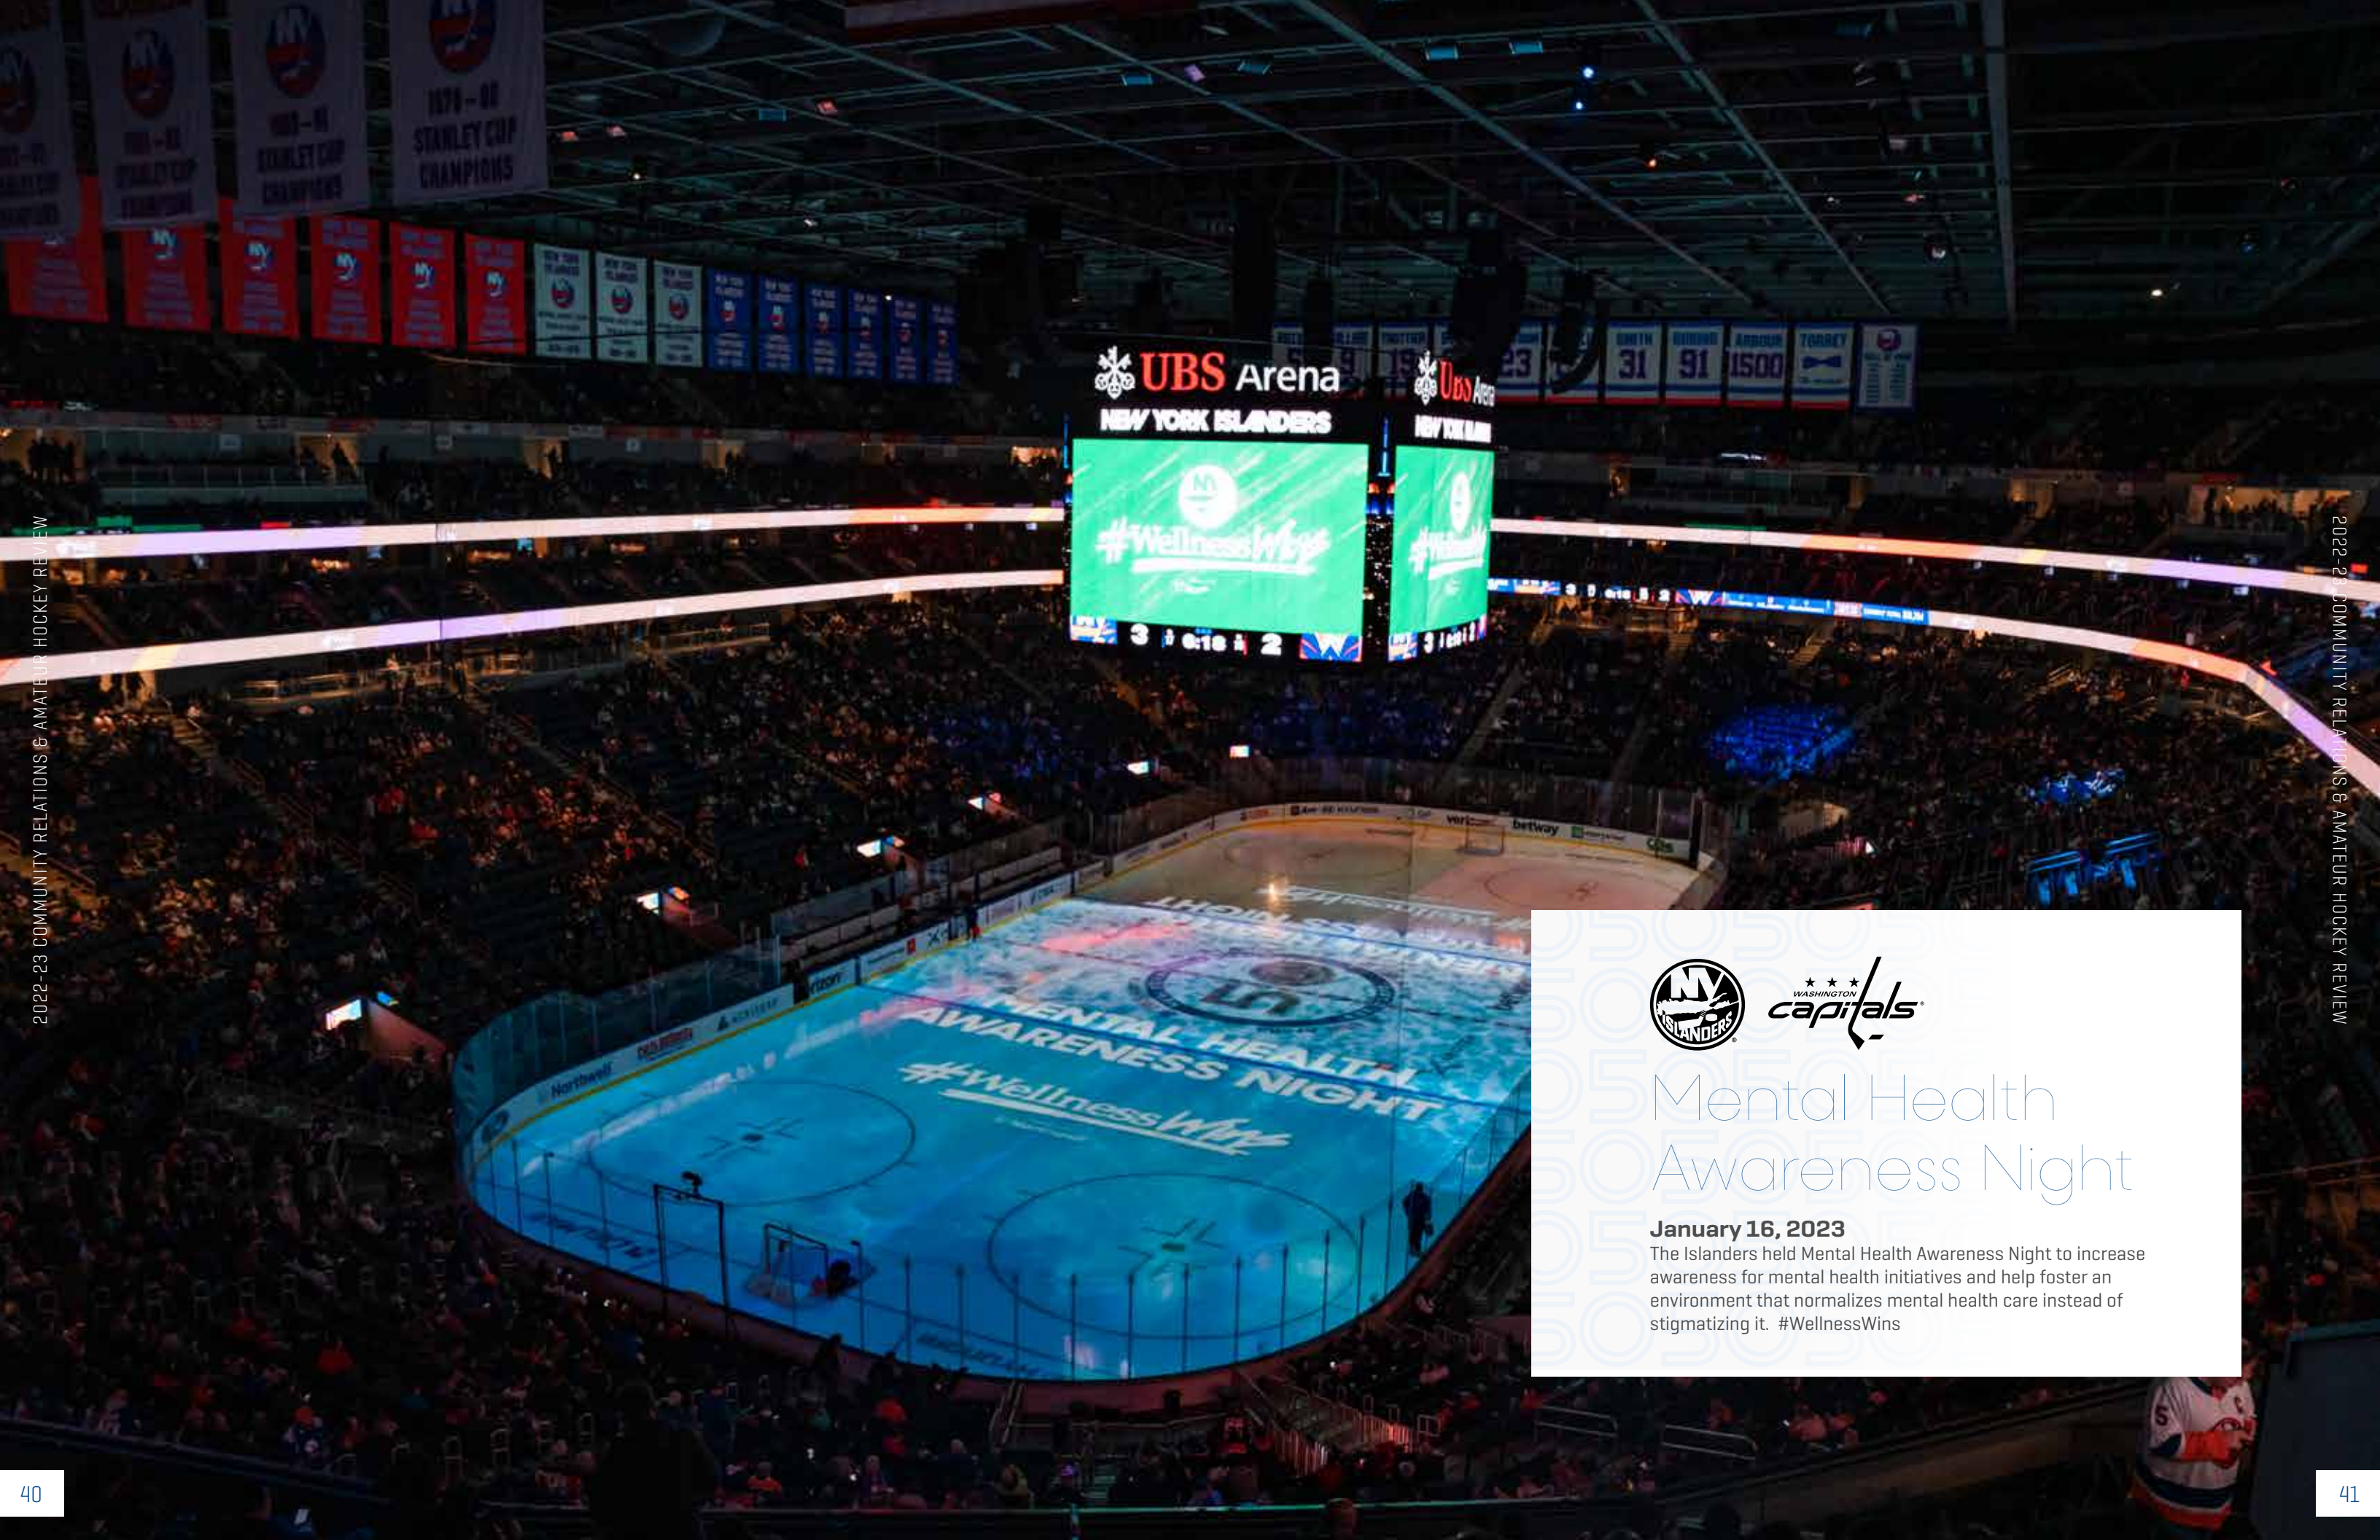

Young cancer patients, Owen Shouldice (12), Henry Schafer (6), and Mason Maier (6) were on hand to partake in the ceremonial puck drop. These young children serve as an inspiration to all as they try to defeat their cancer diagnosis.

Activations

- American Cancer Society – Hope Lodge: The New York Islanders in conjunction with the National Hockey League kicked off the league wide Hockey Fights Cancer month by visiting New York Hope Lodge guests. Guests were greeted by Sparky and received a Love Your Melon branded hat.
- Flag Captain: Levy Mealing, a local breast cancer survivor, was recognized as Honorary Flag Captain at the HFC game. Lexy credits her mammogram for saving her life as her cancer was caught early. She now dedicates her free time to educate the community about the importance of cancer screening and how it saves lives.
- Military Hero: Maurice St. Pierre, a Vietnam War veteran was recognized as the Military Hero of the Game. St. Pierre is a lifelong Islanders fan and is currently battling pancreatic cancer.
- Placards: Fans arrived at their seats with an “I Fight For” placard to hold in-arena during a special tv-timeout recognition. Customizable placards were available at the community relations table on the concourse.
- Mystery Pucks: Limited edition Hockey Fights Cancer themed autographed mystery pucks were sold on the concourse throughout the game. Over $9,500 was raised through the mystery puck program and donated back to the ICF and Northwell Health Foundation.
- Jersey Auction: The players took the ice in lavender-colored jerseys in support of the Hockey Fights Cancer during warm-ups. The jerseys were later auctioned off through an online platform and raised over $18,000 for the ICF and Northwell Cancer Institute.
- Giveaway Rally Towel: Northwell Health provided rally towels to the first 10,000 fans in attendance of the HFC game. Fans were encouraged to “rally” against cancer by showing their support during the game.
- HWAH Charities: Throughout the months of October and November the Islanders partnered with a variety of organizations with cancer related causes leading up to the Hockey Fights Cancer themed night. During the game, Stand Up to Cancer and American Cancer Society were the charities of the night.
- UBS Arena external lanterns recolored to lavender, the official HFC awareness color.
- The New York Islanders coaching staff shared their support of the Hockey Fights Cancer initiative by wearing lavender-colored ribbons during the game.

Mental Health Awareness Night

January 16, 2023

The Islanders held Mental Health Awareness Night to increase awareness for mental health initiatives and help foster an environment that normalizes mental health care instead of stigmatizing it. #WellnessWins

Activations

- Therapy Dogs on concourse: Northwell Health and Save a Pet USA brought in positive reinforcement to fans during the annual Mental Health Awareness game. Puppies and therapy dogs were located around the concourse and were interacting with fans.
- Digital Dashers: Fans at home were able to partake in the games awareness with positive sayings that showed through the digital dasher board elements throughout the game. The positive sayings were recommendations from Northwell Health and Project Healthy Minds.
- Player video: Fans turned to the scoreboard during the game to watch a brief video of players discussing the importance of mental health awareness.
- Fidget Spinner: 22-23 season giveaway was a fidget spinner.
- HWAH Charities: The New York Islanders partnered with Project Healthy Minds and NAMI Queens/Nassau to spread the importance of mental health awareness. Both groups received a table on the concourse and opportunities to share its mission with fans. Fans interacted with the groups and learned about the variety of services both groups provide throughout the area.
Two additional groups—Nassau County & Beyond the Badge—joined the HWAH Charities on the concourse. Focusing on additional mental health services for select individuals.
- Splash of Hope painting to Northwell Hospital: Splashes of Hope, a local group that is dedicated to brightening the world with art, set up on the concourse and asked fans to partake in an Islanders themed mural. Throughout the game fans were able to paint the mural that will later be hung at South Oaks Hospital, one of Northwell Health’s mental wellness hospitals.
- Lanterns outside of arena were recolored to green in awareness of the night.

Pride Night

February 9, 2023

MILITARY AND FIRST RESPONDERS

Ford Built Tough Military Car Tribute

Ford, the New York Islanders, and the Islanders Children's Foundation are proud to honor service members, veterans, and their families. One lucky nominee was selected out of multiple submissions of veterans in the community who are deserving of a brand-new Ford Truck. This season's winner was Air Force Sgt. Mike Levine of Wantagh, NY.

Military Baby Shower

In partnership with Operation Shower and Ryan LLC., the New York Islanders hosted a baby shower for 25 expectant moms to be. Moms were gifted with lunch and a range of infant items for their "rookies on the way."

FDNY vs NYPD Hockey Game

The annual FDNY vs. NYPD ice hockey game took place at UBS Arena for the second season. New York's bravest and finest took center stage April 15th in the 29th meeting between the teams. Proceeds from the sold out event benefitted local first responder groups. Tributes were made throughout the game in honor of first responders who lost their lives. The 50/50 raffle held at this game raised more than $40,000 and supported Collin's Joy Project, The Thomas R. Elasser Foundation and Uniformed Firefighters Association Widows and Children's Fund (UFA).

Military Events supported by Easterseals

Learn to Skate Clinic: The New York Islanders hosted a Try Hockey for Free session where veterans and active service members had the chance to lace up their skates. Islanders alumni, Dennis Seidenberg and members of the Long Island Warriors Veterans Ice Hockey Team assisted in this program.

First Responders Surprise Visit

Ahead of the annual First Responders night Sparky and Eric Cairns brought lunch and Islanders swag to Northwell Health EMTs to honor their hard work and dedication to the community.

COMMUNITY ACTIVATIONS

Make-A-Wish

The New York Islanders hosted 17-year-old Brooklyn Sizemore and her family at the February 24 home game. Brooklyn and her family were gifted specialty jerseys before heading to Isles Lab for some shopping. Brooklyn was the honorary flag captain of the game prior to making her way to the ice postgame. She wrapped up the night by meeting a few of her favorite Islanders players.

School Nutrition Program

The Islanders continued to partner with Island Harvest throughout the course of the 22-23 season by participating in the organization's food weekend backpack program. This program ensures that children who don't have access to healthy meals have the opportunity to eat throughout the course of the weekend. The Islanders donated $25,000 to the cause and benefitted youth surrounding UBS Arena community.

Hospital Gown Program

The Islanders continued their partnership with Starlight Children's Foundation throughout the course of the 2022-2023 season. Along with Islanders hospital gowns being provided to youth at local area hospitals, funds raised during the season were used to purchase gaming units for local area hospitals.

Playoff Surprise & Delights

To kick off the New York Islanders Stanley Cup playoff run, Islanders co-owner Jon Ledecky surprised local families who currently have a loved one battling cancer. Families were gifted Islanders playoff merchandise and tickets to a Round One playoff game.

Ultimate Hockey Mom & Hockey Dad

In partnership with Cardworks Acquiring hockey moms and dads were recognized for their hard work and dedication. Three lucky moms and three lucky dads scored the ultimate title this season. The Ultimate Hockey Moms and Hockey Dads were surprised by Sparky at their homes and awarded an Islanders prize pack.

New York Islanders Holiday Event presented by Nationwide Mortgage Bankers

The New York Islanders Holiday Event presented by Nationwide Mortgage Banks and in support of the We Care Fund was able to host 25 foster children and chaperones at the December 10 home game. Families were greeted by Sparky prior to heading to the (remove) Isles Lab for some shopping. Dinner was provided for the group with a special guest visit from former Islander Bryan Berard. The group was invited to the ice postgame where they smiled for a photo.

PLAYERS IN THE COMMUNITY

Members Only

Meet the Team

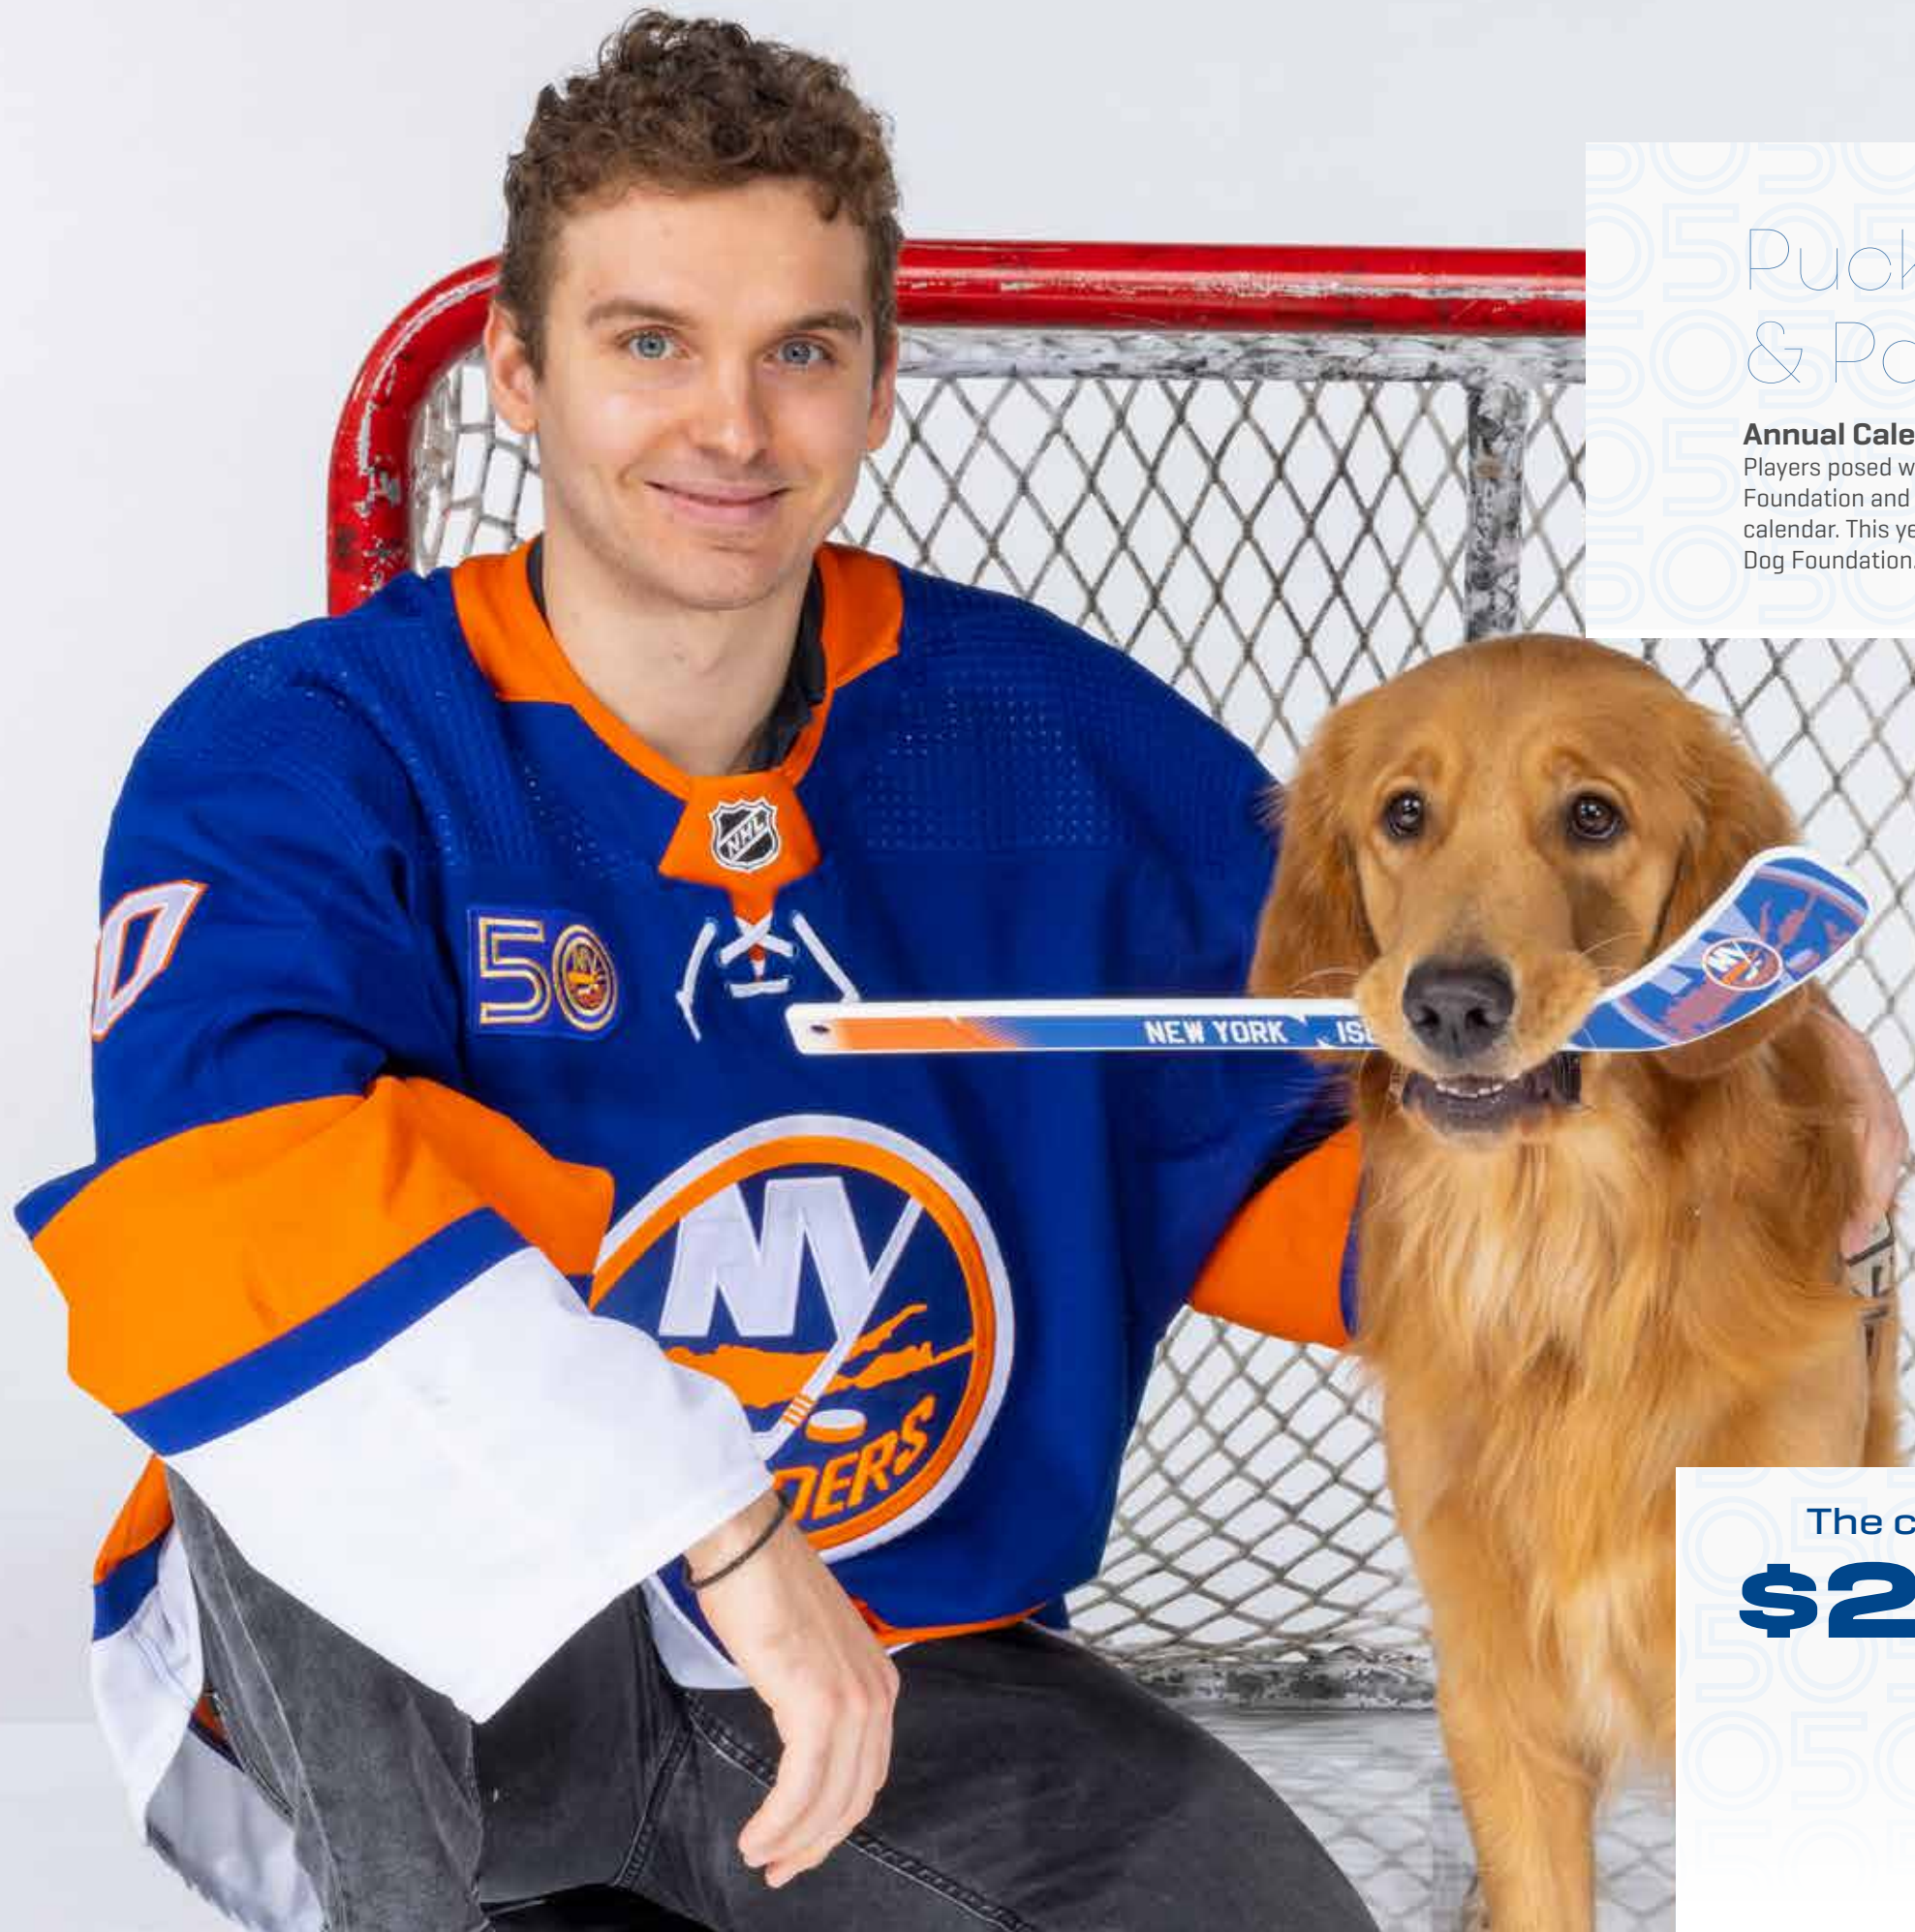

Islanders Season Ticket Members were invited to UBS Arena for a first time look at the team. Fans were able to watch the team scrimmage in the annual Blue vs. Orange game. After the scrimmage, fans were able to meet a variety of players throughout the arena. Players took photos and autographed items for fans.

Making Time

Hospital Visits

Islanders players teamed up to visit a series of local hospitals throughout the Metro-NY community where they spent time with patients and hand-delivered holiday gifts. During this full team event, players spent the day visiting and speaking with children and thanking employees for their hard work.

Pucks & Paws

Annual Calendar

Players posed with puppies and dogs from the Guide Dog Foundation and America's Vet Dogs for the annual Pucks & Paws calendar. This yearly fundraiser raised over $20,000 for the Guide Dog Foundation.

The calendar raised over

$20,000

Player Programs

The members of the Islanders team are integral members of the local community, using their influence and resources to reach out to community members in need or to show their support and appreciation in a variety of ways.

Baileys Buddies

During every home game of the season, Josh Bailey invites a child recovering from illness or an underprivileged child and a guest to attend the game and receive a VIP experience. The 2022-23 season marked the 14th season that Josh Bailey hosted the program. After watching the game from Bailey's personal seats, the child and a guest were able to meet Bailey post-game and receive a personalized and autographed Bailey jersey.

Scott Mayfield Military Tickets

Defenseman Scott Mayfield launched his second season hosting military families and gold star families. After watching the game from Mayfield's personal seats in the Hyundai Club the families were able to meet, share stories and receive autographs from the Islanders defenseman.

Anders Lee Jam Kancer in the Kan

Islanders Captain Anders Lee continues his work in the fight against cancer. Since 2017 he has partnered with the Jam Kancer in the Kan Foundation. Throughout the season, Lee hosted children battling cancer along with specialists. The guests were treated to an Islanders home game and were greeted by Anders during a postgame meet and greet. The 22-23 season saw Anders Lee as a finalist for the King Clancy Memorial Trophy for his leadership on and off the ice.

Kyle Palmieri's Squad 21 Program

Forward Kyle Palmieri continued to leave his mark on the Islanders community through his Squad 21 Program supported by the Kyle Palmieri Foundation. Kyle invited military related groups and organizations to attend select home games. Everyone that received a ticket on behalf of this program were able to meet Kyle and receive a personalized Squad 21 hat. Over 100 tickets were donated throughout the 2022-23 season.

Military Appreciation Tickets

The Islanders players banded together to help show support for local military members and their families. Together the players donated over $10,000 in tickets to host these families for a night out.

Matt Martin Foundation

Islanders forward Matt Martin continues to give back to the local community through his personal foundation by generating financial support and awareness to a variety of causes. The foundation organizes a series of year-round events and programs that provide fun and interactive ways for fans of all ages to join Matt in his mission. Matt hosted several fundraisers including a poker tournament in September and summer camp in August where youth hockey players learn the game from Matt and some of his teammates.

Islanders Wives Group

The Islanders players' significant others are just as involved in the community as the players. Each season this group is deeply involved with fundraising and volunteering efforts. They support in game-night auctions and ICF charity events. This season they volunteered throughout the season by supporting a variety of different causes.

- Island Harvest Food Backpack Program (October 2022)
- Holiday Toy Shopping Event (November 2022)
- Ronald McDonald House (February 2023)
- Animal Rescue (March 2023)
- Military Baby Shower (April 2023)

Puppy with a Purpose

Monte, the teams third "Puppy with a Purpose," in partnership with the Guide Dog Foundation and supported by Canidae made appearances at several home games. Fans were able to interact with Monte before he officially headed off to formal training during the season. After formal training, Monte will be able to assist someone who is blind or visually impaired. Throughout the season Monte made a variety of appearances to raise awareness for the Guide Dog Foundation. In support with Canidae, Monte was featured in the Pucks N' Paws calendar, refereed the Pucks N' Paws Bowl and invited his friends to attend a home game to raise money and awareness for the Guide Dog Foundation.

2022-23 COMMUNITY RELATIONS & AMATEUR HOCKEY REVIEW

2022-23 COMMUNITY RELATIONS & AMATEUR HOCKEY REVIEW

The New York Islanders organization and its fans treasure the rich history of its alumni.
Once an Islander, always an Islander.

Alumni Classic

A sold-out crowd came together at the Islanders official practice facility, Northwell Health Ice Center on January 22, 2023. In the 2nd annual Alumni Classic game, Islanders and Rangers alumni faced off to raise money for the Northwell Health Foundation. During the event, fans were able to purchase mystery pucks from alumni on both teams and purchase an exclusive Alumni Classic patch. Northwell Health Foundation accepted a donation of $50,000. After the game, both sets of alumni participated in a meet and greet.

Legends Nights

In celebration of the New York Islanders 50th season, the Islanders recognized the eight alumni members who have their number retired in the rafters of UBS Arena during the Legend Night Series. As part of the Legend Nights, bobble heads were created to represent the alumni, a variety of in-game activations celebrated each Legend. The nights dedicated to Clark Gillies and Mike Bossy focused on the charities both Islanders legends were aligned with.

Alumni Weekend

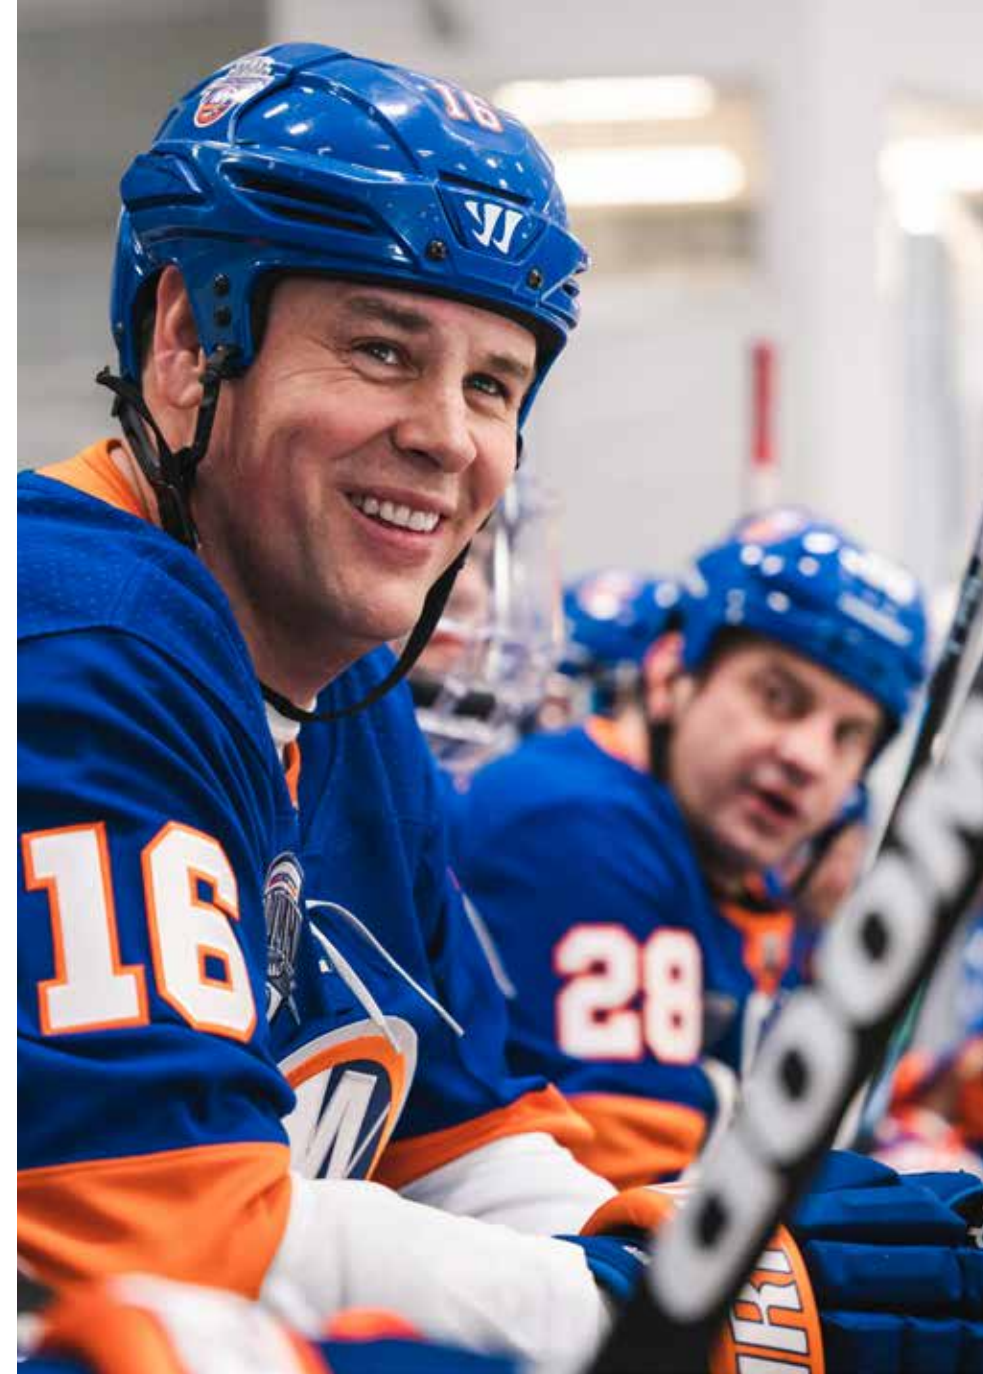

The annual Alumni Weekend took place the weekend of January 20. More than sixty Alumni members and their families enjoyed a fun weekend of sightseeing in New York City and the opportunity to enjoy a game at UBS Arena. Prior to the game, alumni met with Season Ticket Members where they signed autographs and took photos. Throughout the game, Alumni were introduced based on the decade they played to tie-in all 50 years of Islanders hockey.

Potvin Socks

Denis Potvin embraced a chant he was all too familiar with and spun it into a sock company. Potvin sold his socks in the (remove) Isles Lab throughout the season with a portion of proceeds being donated back to the Islanders Children's Foundation.

Alumni Games

Throughout the course of the season Islanders Alumni attended games at UBS Arena to hang out with the fans and take part in special moments, such as the Ford Military Hero of the Game.

Community Events

Season Ticket Member/Partner Events

Islanders Alumni continue to say thank you to 50 years of fandom by participating in exclusive meet and greet sessions with Season Ticket Members and Partners. Events included watch parties, holiday skates and locker room tours. At each event Alumni took the time to converse with fans and sign autographs.

On-Ice: Learn to Play

Islanders Alumni, Arron Asham and Radek Martinek continue to take the ice as head instructors for the Islanders Learn to Play programs.

School Assembly Appearance

Islanders Legend, Bryan Trottier made a surprise visit to Jericho Elementary School this season as part of the Islanders School Assembly Program. Trottier spoke to students regarding the importance of teamwork, healthy eating and staying active.

DRIVES & COLLECTIONS

Recycle The Game

Youth Hockey Equipment Drive: The Islanders continued its ongoing equipment drive in partnership with the NHL's Recycle the Game initiative. Anyone looking to donate used hockey equipment was asked to add it to the collection bin at the Islanders practice facility. All equipment collected was donated back into the local community and to local nonprofit organizations continuing to grow the game. The equipment drive saw more than 1,000 pieces of equipment donated.

Food Drive

The annual food drive supported by Stop & Shop took place prior to the November 23 home game at UBS Arena. The New York Islanders partnered with Island Harvest and with the help of fans over 5,700 pounds of food were collected.

Thanksgiving Meal Handout in partnership with UBS

The Islanders worked with charitable organizations to identify families in need ahead of the Thanksgiving holiday. More than two hundred (200) meals were distributed to local families in need.

Toy Drive

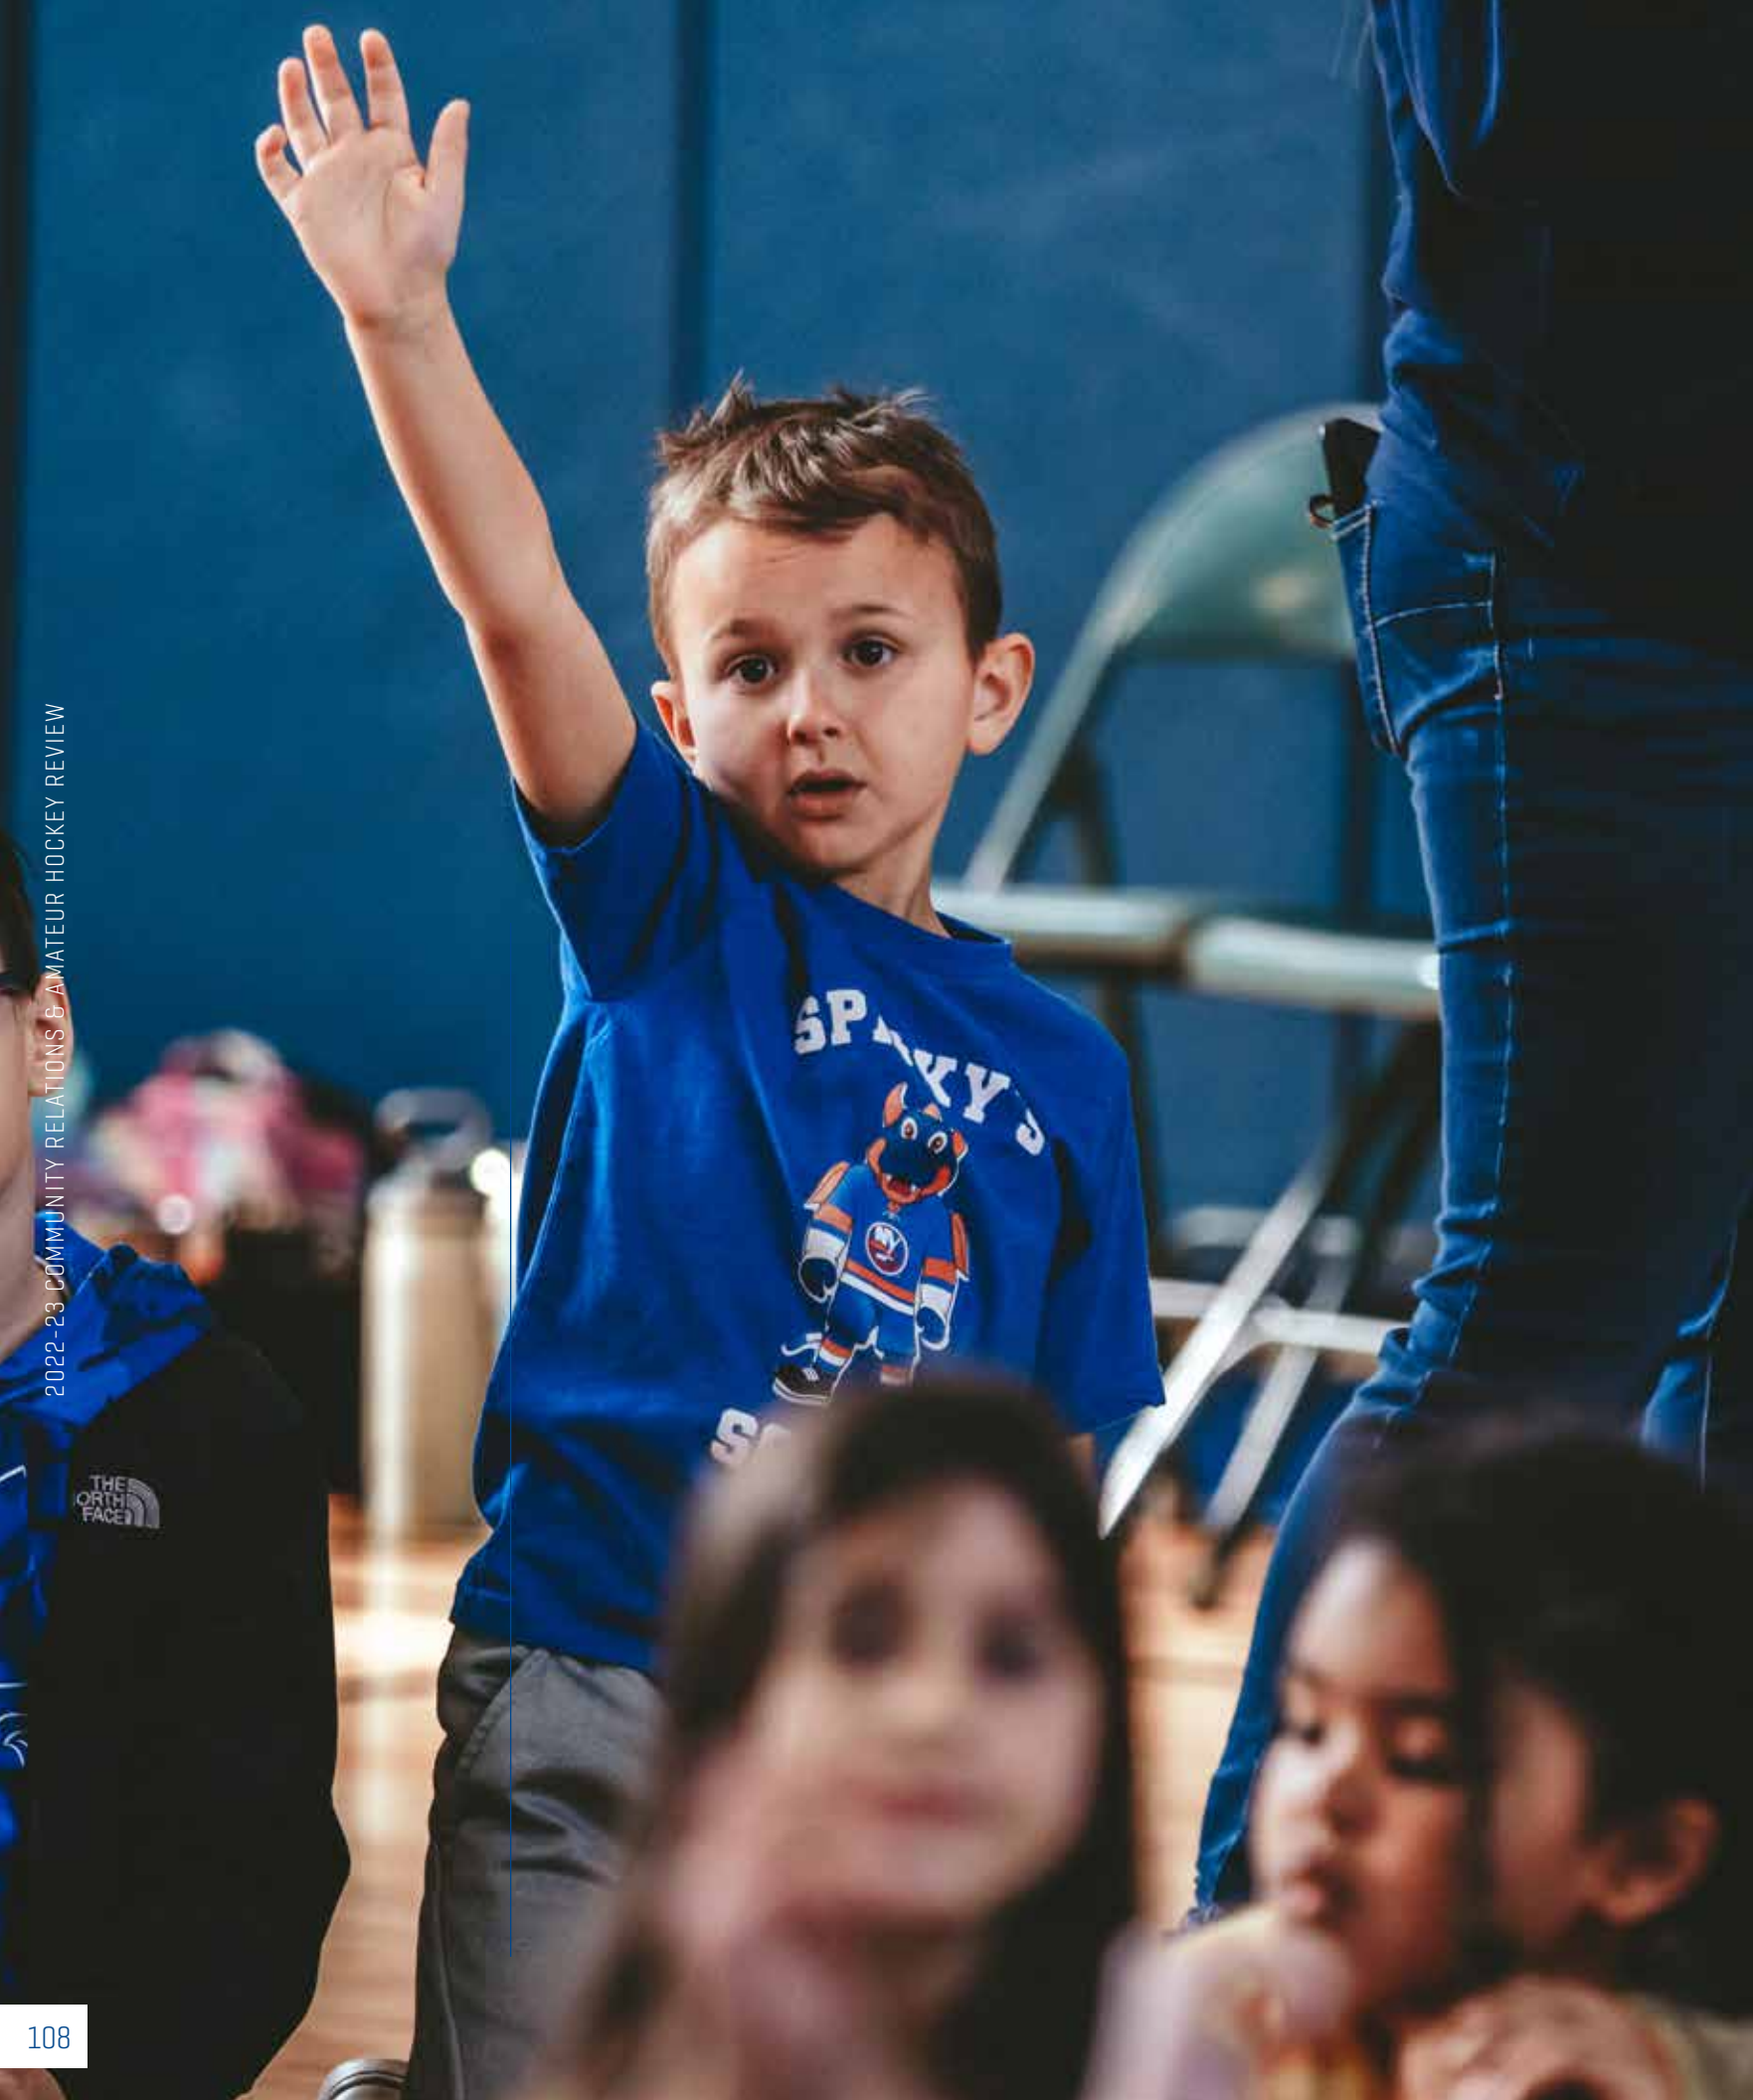

Toys were collected prior to the December 5 home game at UBS Arena with the help of our friends over at the John Theissen Children's Foundation. Fans were encouraged to donate toys as they made their way into the game. More than 500 hundred toys were collected and donated to the local community.

Blood Drive

The Islanders and the New York Blood Center teamed up to hold two blood drives at UBS Arena surrounding National Blood Donor Awareness Month and National Healthy Heart Month. In total there were 235 donors, saving over 700 lives. Each donor received complimentary tickets to a select New York Islanders regular season home game.

SCHOOL PROGRAMS

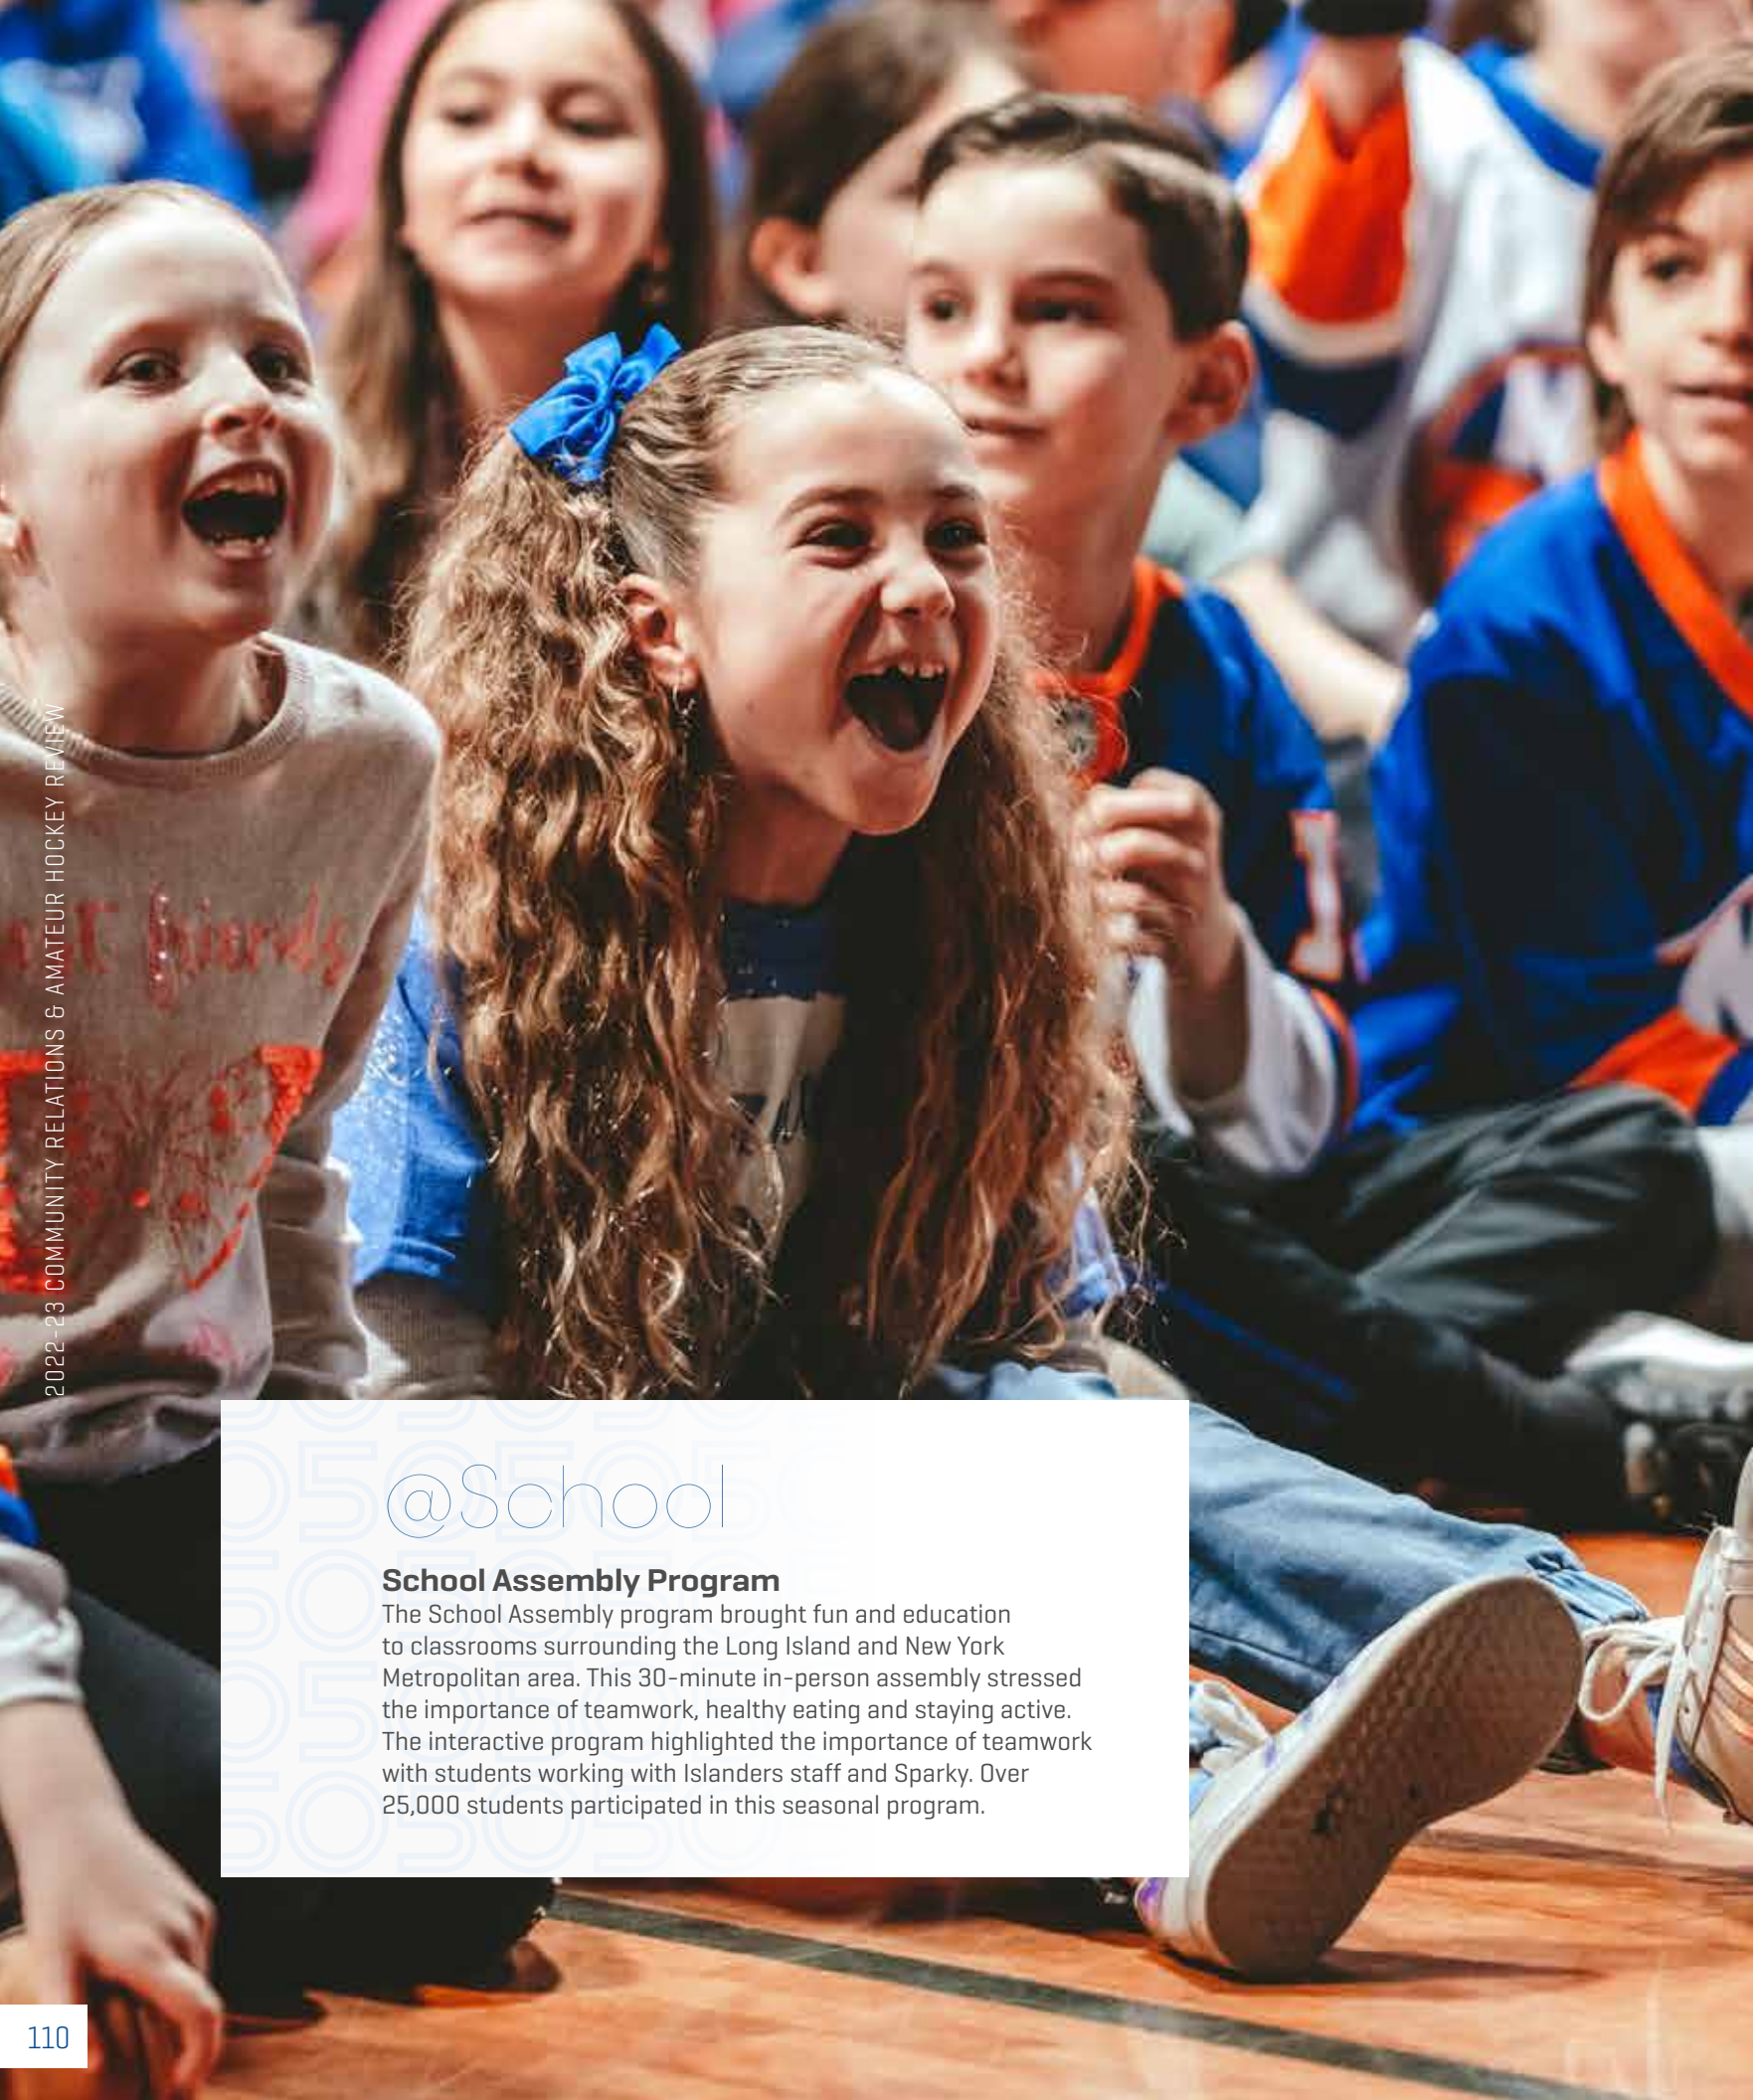

The Islanders organization values education and the future of our youth. The Islanders @School Program brings the game of hockey to schools throughout the Long Island and New York metropolitan area through educational programs and other resources needed to excel in the classroom.

Islanders Backpack Program

The Islanders Children's Foundation packed over 500 backpacks that were distributed to students in the local area to assist in kicking off their academic year. Each backpack included back-to-school essentials, Islanders notebooks, folders, water bottle, pencils and more.

School Nutrition Program

Through a donation from the Islanders Children's Foundation to Island Harvest, the Islanders were able to make sure students in school had access to healthy meals throughout the course of the school year. The donation supported 75 children in the local community for 36 weeks.

@School

School Assembly Program

The School Assembly program brought fun and education to classrooms surrounding the Long Island and New York Metropolitan area. This 30-minute in-person assembly stressed the importance of teamwork, healthy eating and staying active. The interactive program highlighted the importance of teamwork with students working with Islanders staff and Sparky. Over 25,000 students participated in this seasonal program.

Floorball

The Islanders Floorball program activated in multiple elementary, middle and high schools throughout the New York Metro area during the 2022-23 season. Each school was able to introduce the game of floorball to their physical education classes via a 6-week floorball unit. Schools were provided the necessary curriculum and equipment to accurately educate students about the program. Schools that successfully implemented the program were allowed to keep the Islanders-branded equipment to continue the curriculum for years to come.

Reading Leaders Program

The New York Islanders extended its summer reading program into this season. This free program was developed to encourage students K-8th graders to continue reading during the summer months. Students are asked to track their minutes with a goal to read a minimum of 400 minutes per month. Students who hit that goal have a chance to be recognized as a Reading Leader of the Month and win special Islanders prizes. Students read over 81,000 minutes during the summer of 2022.

Teacher of the Month

In conjunction with EverFi and NFP the Islanders were able to highlight one outstanding teacher during the months of October - June. Each teacher was highlighted on social media platforms, received a special "#1 Teacher" jersey and two complimentary tickets to an Islanders regular season home game..

Future Goals Program

In partnership with EverFi, the nation's leading critical skills education platform, schools in the community were able to implement a no-cost digital course that incorporated STEM learning and the game of hockey. This year, more than 2,000 students participated in the program.

Future Goals: School Day

Over 150 students from Copiague Middle School and Lynbrook High School were invited to UBS Arena. These students were able to put the skills they learned from the Future GOALS curriculum into an actual setting. Students received a private tour of UBS Arena where they were able to take a look at the control room, visit a variety of premium spaces and more. At each location students were given a question that related the sport of hockey back to STEM.

EQUALITY & AWARENESS

Black History Month

Ice Hockey in Harlem

Ice Hockey in Harlem, a youth hockey and educational program that offers free hockey instruction to children in Harlem, attended a New York Islanders regular season home game where they met Isles Legend, Bryan Trottier and were able to skate at UBS Arena postgame. The Islanders Children's Foundation donated $50,000 during its 50th Anniversary to continue their commitment to growing the game of ice hockey across Metro New York.

Game Tickets In February

A series of complimentary tickets were distributed during the month of February to nonprofit organizations that service predominantly black communities to enjoy an Islanders game.

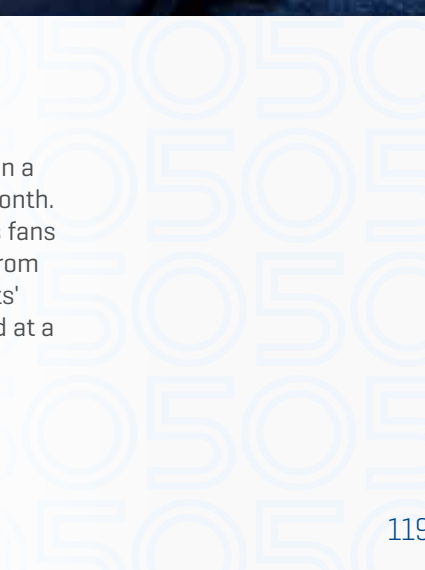

Black History Month Street Hockey Clinic

In partnership with Boys & Girls Club of Metro Queens, the Islanders hosted a street hockey clinic in celebration of Black History Month. The clinic allowed children to learn the sport of hockey but also stay active with friends.

Patch Program

Students from local school districts participated in a jersey patch program celebrating Black History Month. Six designs were chosen to be made into patches fans could purchase through the Isles Lab. Proceeds from the patches were donated back to the six students' school district. Each patch finalist was recognized at a New York Islanders home game.

Gender Equality

During the month of March, the Islanders hosted several gender awareness initiatives.

HWAH

Girls Inc of Long Island, a non-profit that inspires all girls to be strong, smart, and bold through direct service and advocacy was a partner during the month of March 2023.

Women In Sports Panel presented by Northwell

Prior to the March 27 home game the New York Islanders invited community members to an empowering evening where game changers in the sport of hockey and entertainment industry were celebrated. Individuals were invited to attend two panels prior to the Islanders home game. The first panel focused on Women in Sports and the second panel focused on Women in Business.

Behind the Front Art Installation

The New York Islanders offered fans the opportunity to meet former NWHL Hockey Player, Kim Sass, and view her art exhibit, Behind the Front, which showcases gender equity.

Military Hero of the Game

During the month of March women who served our country were recognized as the Ford Military Hero of the Game.

New York Islanders Staff

The New York Islanders female front office staff celebrated Women's History Month with a luncheon that included a Q&A session with Kim Stone, President of UBS Arena & Executive Vice President OVG East Coast, and Lea del Rosario, Senior Vice President, Human Resources.

Metropolitan Riveters Meet & Greet

The New York Islanders invited the Metropolitan Riveters of the Premier Hockey Federation to a regular season home game. The team was highlighted for their successes on and off the ice. Members of the team were invited to sign autographs and interact with New York Islanders fans during the intermissions.

United by Hockey Tour

United by Hockey Mobile Tour

The Islanders hosted the NHL's United by Hockey Mobile tour during the month of May. The tour is a uniquely curated mobile museum that visited multiple NHL cities celebrating diversity and inclusion throughout the sport and hockey industry. Fans were able to visit the tour at the Long Island Children's Museum prior to the tour arriving at Sewanhaka High School, a high school in the Elmont Central School District.

Disability Awareness

Throughout the 2022-23 season the Islanders hosted several organizations that focused on serving disabled individuals through the Hockey with a Heart program.

Disability Awareness Week

- Special Olympics
- Viscardi Center
- Ronald McDonald House
- LI Roughriders (Sled Hockey)
- LI Blues (Special Hockey)

World Down Syndrome Day

- GiGi's Playhouse NYC
- Best Buddies New York

World Hearing Day/ Deaf Awareness

- Olive Osmond Hearing Fund

Pride Month

Throughout the month of June, the Islanders joined in supporting the LGBTQ+ community. The Islanders teamed up with the NHL offices and NJ Devils by participating in the NYC Pride Parade. The organization also held a t-shirt design contest to celebrate the month. The winning design will be turned into a fundraiser in the upcoming 23-24 season.

AMATEUR HOCKEY DEVELOPMENT

Amateur Hockey Development

Amateur hockey development has been a major focus of the Islanders since the club's inception in 1972. The Islanders are committed to fostering and expanding youth involvement in the local, national and international arenas. The primary goal has been to grow the game of hockey on Long Island and in the Metropolitan area. At the same time, our efforts include helping grow the individual hockey player to reach his or her full potential. To make both of those things possible, the Islanders offer programs that have grown exponentially throughout the years. Today, programs are in place to show new fans what hockey is all about, year-round clinics to teach kids of all ages the essential skills needed to play the game of hockey at their highest level, and we continue to assist and grow the area's largest youth hockey organization, the PAL Jr. Islanders.

The Islanders also help to develop youth hockey on an international level by hosting foreign teams for a tournament at Northwell Health Ice Center every January, by sending Elite Pee-Wee players to a world-renowned tournament in Quebec City, and by sending Premier Junior players to Calgary for the Mac Tournament in an effort to be seen by scouts across the west coast. The Islanders are committed to growing the sport of hockey on Long Island, in the Metropolitan area and around the world. These programs are the building blocks of that growth.

Future Islanders Learn To Play

As part of the league-wide Learn to Play initiative, the Future Islanders program ran at 15 locations, providing boys and girls ages 5-9 with an introduction to the game of hockey and serving as a transition program for first-time players interested in playing in a house league. The 2022-2023 season saw over 800 children signed up for the program.

Islanders Girls Next Step Programing

In conjunction with gender equality month, the Islanders held Girls Next Step Learn to Play programs at three different locations during the 22-23 season, growing the number of girls learning the game of hockey. More than 80 girls participated this past year. The clinics that were held were led by professional female hockey ambassadors and featured special guest appearances by alumni members Arron Asham and Radek Martinek.

Islanders Youth Hockey Jamboree

The annual Jamboree is a day-long event that features cross-ice games for local mite teams. This past season, the Islanders hosted three separate Jamboree's including a specific "Learn to Play" Jamboree which featured teams from Long Island, Manhattan, Queens and Brooklyn. More than 400 kids participated in the Jamboree during the 22-23 season.

Long Island Blues and Long Island Roughriders

The Islanders partnered with two different local special hockey teams during the season—the Long Island Blues and Long Island RoughRiders Sled Hockey. The Long Island Blues is made up of autistic and developmentally disabled children, while the Long Island RoughRiders is comprised of disabled community members, amputees, and wounded Veterans.

Try Hockey for Free

The Islanders support USA Hockey's endeavor to grow the game of hockey in the United States. The grassroots effort is designed to introduce participants to the sport without charge. As part of this initiative, the Islanders offer numerous Try Hockey for Free events throughout the season. The 2022-2023 season saw the addition of a try hockey event for local Military members. During these events players receive loaner equipment, Islanders promotional items and professional instruction. These events are led by Islanders alumni members Arron Asham and Radek Martinek. This past season two try hockey for free events were held reaching over 60 amateur participants.

Amateur Hockey Player of the Game supported by UBS

Every home game the New York Islanders and UBS highlighted an amateur hockey player in the community with an in-person interview. The person being highlighted also received complimentary tickets to enjoy the game. This program showcased more than 40 hockey players in the community.

Warrior Hockey Program

The New York Islanders are proud partners of the Long Island Warriors Hockey Club, a recreational hockey team for military veterans, active military, and reserve members. The Long Island Warriors Hockey Club was created to strengthen community engagement and provide veteran camaraderie supporting a return to civilian life. The program educates, trains, and encourages individuals who have served in any branch of the Armed Forces, including those with physical or mental disabilities incurred during service to the United States, to participate in the sport of ice hockey in an environment that is adapted to the level of ability of the participating athlete. The program also assists veterans and their families to promote awareness of challenges our veterans face and to encourage team building. In addition, it assists veterans in developing self-confidence and assist in helping participants back into a lifestyle that will help the individual to be more successful both within and outside a hockey environment.

430ak Partnership

The Islanders and UBS continued to team up in the 22-23 season to increase diversity in hockey through its $1 million commitment and 5-year partnership with the 430ak Foundation, a non-profit serving minorities and underprivileged youth hockey players, of all ages, in the New York Metropolitan Area. Islanders staff and Alumni along with 430ak staff and members of the UBS hockey team conduct clinics and provide meaningful engagement opportunities to promote participants hockey and educational development. The partnership that began in August 2021 builds on 430ak's work to provide transportation, equipment, ice time, funding for travel hockey leagues and tournaments, and other vital resources for the players including mentorship programming. The program currently has more than 100 children participating.

Amateur Hockey Affiliates

P.A.L. Junior Islanders Organization

In 2013, the New York Islanders partnered with Pride in Athletics for Life (P.A.L.) Hockey, a non-profit, amateur hockey organization. The affiliation marked the inauguration of the P.A.L. Junior Islanders Hockey Club. The organization operates teams at six different levels: mite, squirt, pee-wee, bantam, midget, and junior. The Islanders and P.A.L. work together in coach and player development, hockey expertise, marketing assets, promotional assistance, and public relations support. This past season, more than 450 hockey players participated in the program.

Islanders Girls Elite Program

The Islanders are proud supporters of the Girls Elite program, a travel program established to support and promote the growth of female players through skill development and to pave the way for play at prep school and college levels. The program is run out of Northwell Health Ice Center, the practice facility of the New York Islanders. This past season, the program featured 10U, 12U, 14U and 16U level teams with over 100 girls in the program.

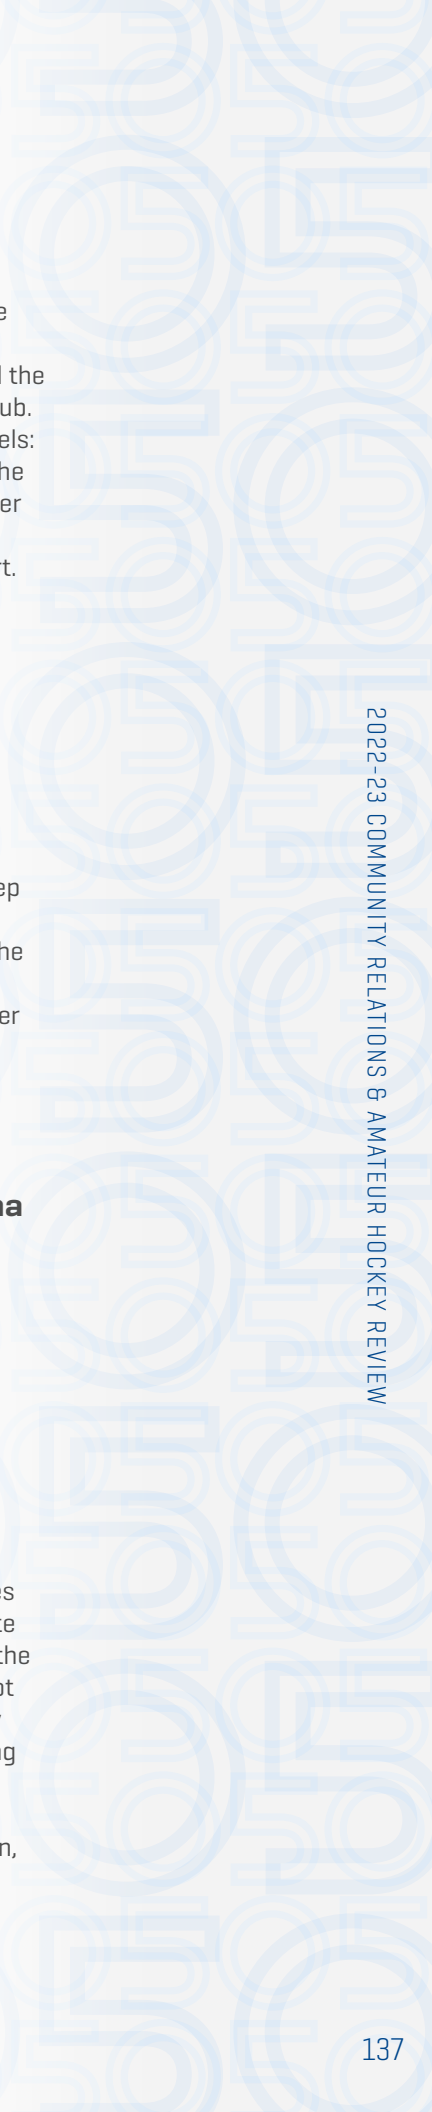

Islanders Ice Experiences at UBS Arena

Gives amateur hockey teams ranging from youth, high school, junior, college and men's league the opportunity to play before or after an Islanders game. Teams participating received the pro hockey experience, with scoreboard and PA reads, in-game music, professional locker rooms and more.

Sparky's Aces, Mites on Ice

Led by the group sales department the Sparky's Aces program provides youth teams at the mite/mini-mite level along with squirts the opportunity to skate on the ice during the intermission of an Islanders game. Not only do these teams get to skate on the ice but they enjoy watching the Islanders game that is also taking place at the arena with their family and friends. The program saw teams from upstate New York, Nassau County, Suffolk County, Brooklyn, Queens, Manhattan, and New Jersey participate.

In Kind Donations

The Islanders are always ready to support local charities efforts in the community. Throughout the year, charitable groups and not-for-profit organizations are invited to request donations from the Islanders to support fundraising events.

The Islanders provided more than $100K worth of Islanders memorabilia to support local organizations throughout the course of the 22-23 season.
