The Front Office

SEYMOUR H. KNOX III

Chairman of the Board and Chief Executive Officer

It's been more a decade since the determination and drive shown by the Knox brothers put Buffalo's first National Hockey League team on the ice, and their ambitions for the team and the community which supports it still remain the same: a first Stanley Cup for Buffalo, and many more to follow.

For the first 12 years of the club's existence, Seymour served as the organization's president. He still remains extremely active as the Sabres' representative on the NHL Board of Governors and as a member of its Advisory Committee.

Seymour and his brother Norty went to great lengths to get NHL hockey here, and didn't slow down in the first twelve seasons of the Sabres' existence. Their leadership was the key factor in the successful hockey history the franchise has chalked up.

Formerly a nationally-ranked squash racquets player and ex-president of the United States Squash Racquets Association, Seymour had his hockey career ended as a schoolboy with a football injury. He continued his interest in the game and it paid off in December, 1969, with the grant of the Sabres' franchise. He is a vice president of Kidder, Peabody and Co., Inc., members of the New York Stock Exchange and active as a leader in a variety of community organizations.

NORTHRUP R. KNOX

President

During the club's first 12 NHL seasons, Norty served as the organization's vice chairman of the board as well as the Sabres' alternate representative on the NHL Board of Governors. His role with the club changed, though, on May 23, 1982 when the Sabres' Board of Directors elected him as president of the club. He remains the club's alternate representative on the NHL Board of Governors and also serves on a recently-formed public relations committee in the league. Dogged persistence by the Knox brothers and their hockey associates led to the Buffalo Sabres' franchise, and persistence to build toward championship status describes North Knox's life style. He was undefeated world champion in the grueling sport of court tennis for ten years, and captain and number one player on the U.S. Polo team in 1966 and 1969. Norty is also Chairman of the Board of Marine Midland Bank — Western Region.

He was undefeated world champion in the grueling sport of court tennis for ten years, and captain and number one player on the U.S. Polo team in 1966 and 1969. Norty is also Chairman of the Board of Marine Midland Bank — Western Region.

DAVID G. FORMAN

Vice-Chairman of the Board

On May 21, 1982, Dave Forman, who headed Sabres' operations from the organization's formative months through its first 12 seasons, announced he was stepping down from his post of Executive Vice-President. He will, however, remain with the club as the Vice-Chairman of the Board (succeeding Northrup R. Knox) and as a member of the Sabres' Board of Directors Executive Committee as well as co-chairman of the National Hockey League Broadcast Policy Committee.

Dave was named to head the Sabres' operation in early 1970 at the time the Knox brothers were awarded an NHL franchise in Buffalo, and was instrumental in concluding negotiations with the City of Buffalo which resulted in a Memorial Auditorium home for the hockey team.

He also supervised the two-phase expansion of the Auditorium which turned it into the current 16,433 capacity hockey arena and was in charge of other projects which modernized the building, such as the construction of the Aud Club, the Executive boxes, enlarged press box, new dasher boards, and new ice floor.

Responding to a need to provide coverage of Sabres' hockey to a wider community audience, he negotiated the first Sabres' television and radio contracts and formulated a policy which has consistently provided extensive coverage of Sabres' hockey to the hockey fans of the Niagara Frontier.

ROBERT O. SWADOS

Vice President and Counsel

There are few men who worked long and hard to convince the nation that Buffalo was a big league sports town in the days when there wasn't a big league sports franchise on the Niagara Frontier. Bob Swados was one of those men, and in large part it was his dedication and articulate advocacy for big time sport here that resulted in this becoming one of pro sports premier hotbeds in the past several years.

Former vice president of the Buffalo Bisons Baseball Club and vice president of Major League for Buffalo, Inc., he has been counsel to the Knox brothers since their first NHL application in 1965. He is a senior partner in the law firm of Cohen Swados Wright Hanifin Bradford & Brett. Bob also was re-elected Secretary of the NHL Board of Governors.

MITCHELL OWEN
Administrative Vice President

Mitch was the key addition when the Sabres announced the first major restructuring of the Niagara Frontier Hockey Corporation in October, 1980.

Since Dave Forman's retirement, many of the day-to-day responsibilities have fallen upon Mitch's shoulders. In addition to his many desk duties, Mitch can often be found out in the Auditorium checking on everything — advertising, security, ticket counts, even Zamboni signs. He also oversees affairs at Sabreland, the skating facility purchased by the Sabres in 1981.

Formerly the Senior Vice President of Healy-Schutte & Comstock Advertising Ltd. in Buffalo, Mitch has been one of the leading advertising executives on the Niagara Frontier for nearly 30 years.

A Colgate University alumnus, Mitch entered the advertising business in 1952 with the Buffalo Evening News. He later worked as an account supervisor with Batten, Barton, Durstine & Osborn Inc. and became Vice President of Comstock Advertising in 1970, moving up to president in 1975.

ROBERT W. PICKEL
Vice President/Finance

There is no such thing as an eight-hour day for one of the "original" Sabres. Bob, who joined the club in 1970 and served as comptroller and office manager for ten years before being appointed to his new position in 1980, often spends 10 or more hours a day in his office six and sometimes seven days a week.

Bob was instrumental in computerizing the Sabres' accounting department. He also plays a key role in the operation of Sabreland, Inc. as well as the Sabres' top farm club, the AHL

Rochester Americans, purchased by the Niagara Frontier Hockey Corporation in 1981.

In addition, he has served as chairman of the National Hockey League comptrollers' committee, headed up several league audit committees, and is a member of the Erie County Sports Board. He is also a member of the audit committee for the American Heart Association.

Prior to joining the Sabres, Bob was a senior accountant with Loblaw's Inc. for 12 years and comptroller of Boss-Linco Lines Inc. for three years.

WILLIAM SCOTT BOWMAN
Director of Hockey Operations,
General Manager and Coach

It was because of Scott Bowman's wheeling and dealing that in 1982 the Buffalo Sabres, for the first time in club history, ended up with more than one first round draft pick. On June 9, 1982, the Sabres had three of the first 16 selections and five of the first 30, largely due to Scott's persistence and belief that 1982 was a very good draft year. His 1980 trade for Los Angeles' first round pick (in exchange for Jerry Korab) brought the Sabres 18-year-old defenseman Phil Housley, who is already considered a world class player. The night before the draft, Bowman acquired Calgary's first and second round picks in 1982, a second round pick in 1983 and the right to exchange first round picks in 1983 in exchange for Don Edwards, Richie Dunn and the Sabres second round pick in 1982. With Calgary's first round pick, Bowman selected left winger Paul Cyr, a 52-goal scorer who will be given an excellent opportunity to stick with the Sabres in 1982-83. The Sabres' own selection, 16th overall, was center Dave Andreychuk, who scored 57 goals for Oshawa.

The Sabres will also have two first round selections in 1983. Bowman acquired Los Angeles' choice in exchange for Richard Martin in 1981.

In addition to an outstanding draft, Scott also announced that the Sabres had signed free agent goaltender Bob Sauve, a popular player in Buffalo prior to being traded to Detroit in December, 1981.

One of the NHL's biggest deals in recent years was made by Bowman when the Sabres sent Danny Gare, Jim Schoenfeld and Derek Smith to Detroit for Dale McCourt, Mike Foligno and Brent Peterson on December 2, 1981.

Once again, Scott will handle the bench duties in 1982-83. One of the most successful coaches of all-time, Bowman coached 35 games in 1981-82 (18-10-7) while Associate Coach Jim Roberts took charge in 45 games.

The 49-year-old Montreal native previously held down the dual job of coach and general manager of the St. Louis Blues from 1967 through 1971. During that time, he guided the Blues to three Stanley Cup final appearances.

He has also had a great deal of international coaching experiencing as he served as head coach of Team Canada in the 1981 Canada Cup tournament. Scott was also chief coach of Team Canada, winner of the 1976 Canada Cup tournament and coach of the 1979 NHL All-Stars in the three-game series against the Soviet Union. In 1977, he was named NHL Coach of the Year.

During the off-season, Bowman was one of the featured guests at The International Hockey Experts Coaching Symposium which was held in Turku, Finland in July.

Scott and his wife, Suella, and family live in Suburban Amherst.

JOHN "BUCKY" KANE

Assistant to the General Manager

The first scout ever hired by the Sabres' organization was promoted to the role of assistant to the general manager prior to the 1981-82 season after holding the dual positions of director of player personnel and scouting for one season.

Though his Christian name is John, he's known throughout the hockey world as "Bucky." A native of Boston and a former employee of the Boston public school system, Bucky joined the Bruins organization under the late Lynn Patrick in 1950, and worked for two decades with famed Boston scout Harold "Baldy" Cotton.

He came to the Buffalo organization in 1970 and increased his involvement in personnel matters under Scott Bowman to the point where he was named to both posts on the same day. With Bowman returning to the coaching ranks in 1982-83, Bucky will handle many of the early season day-to-day responsibilities of the general manager. He is in charge of evaluating player talent at Buffalo's American Hockey League farm club in Rochester, working as a liaison with Bowman's Buffalo staff.

JIM ROBERTS

Associate Coach

Jim spent almost his entire playing career under Scott Bowman and now he enters his fourth season at the coaching level — all under Bowman. After two seasons as an assistant coach with the Sabres, the 42-year-old Roberts heads into his second season as the associate coach. While Bowman coached the club in 35 regular season games in 1981-82, it was Roberts who was in charge during the other 45 games as well as during a good portion of the club's practices.

Roberts, who retired after the 1977-78 season, is among the NHL's all-time leaders in games played, having appeared in 1,006 games over his 15-year career with Montreal and St. Louis. Jim was a member of five Montreal Canadiens' Stanley Cup winning teams.

When Bowman is behind the bench, Jim will be alongside, serving as the man in the middle of the Sabres' three-man coaching system, receiving and relaying game strategy from the press box to the players. As was the case last season when Bowman was unable to be behind the bench, Roberts will serve as the Sabres' bench boss.

Jim and his wife Judy, and their two daughters, Vicki and Corri, live in Williamsville.

RED BERENSON

Assistant Coach

Beginning his career with the Buffalo organization in early August, 1982, pointing out that titles aren't that important to him, Red made it clear that he would have plenty of input with the 1982-83 Buffalo Sabres.

Joining the Sabres following Nick Polano's departure to become assistant general manager and head coach in Detroit, Red's coaching qualifications are outstanding.

Red took over the head coaching reins with the St. Louis Blues with 56 games remaining in the 1979-80 season after serving as a Blues' assistant coach for a year and a half. He posted a 27-20-9 record during the remainder of that season before guiding the Blues to their finest record in history (45-18-17) and was named NHL Coach of the Year in 1980-81.

He was one of the NHL's steadiest centermen during a career which spanned 17 seasons and 987 regular season games. He scored 261 goals and added 397 assists during that career which ended following the 1977-78 season.

Red and his wife Joy, their two daughters, Kelly and Sandy, and two sons, Gordie and Rusty, recently purchased a home in Clarence.

 Height: 5'7" Weight: 155
 Shoots: Left
 Last Amateur Club: Three
 Rivers Draveurs (Jrs.)

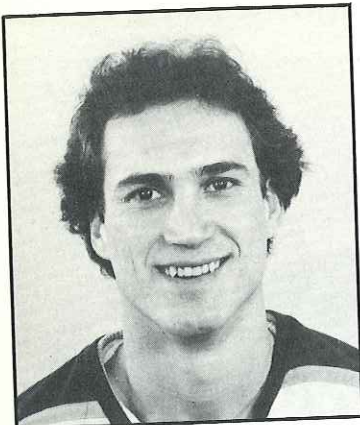

Opportunity knocked for Jacques on December 2, 1981 when Bob Sauve was traded to Detroit, paving the way for Jacques to move into the NHL. Unfortunately, Jacques' season was ended just two months later when he suffered a broken collarbone while facing extra shots after a practice. As fate would have it, though, Jacques is back this season and he is teamed up with the man who was traded to make room for him — Bob Sauve — to give the Sabres a 1-2 French Canadian punch in goal. The Noranda, Quebec native spent a little more than one season in Rochester before being promoted to the NHL and it didn't take him very long to show people that he was more than ready to meet the challenge. Playing in just seven NHL games, Jacques posted an outstanding 2.51 goals against average and a 5-1-0 record. Included in his five wins were two relief appearances in back-to-back games against Quebec in mid-January when he came on mid-way through the game (following injuries to Don Edwards) and stopped the Nordiques cold on both occasions.

Buffalo's fourth pick in the 1979 Entry Draft . . . called up by Sabres on December 2, 1981 . . . suffered broken collarbone on February 3, 1982 and was sidelined the remainder of the season . . . first team all-star goaltender in Quebec Junior Hockey League in 1978-79 . . . led QMJHL in goals against average in 1978-79 with 3.14 goals against average.

Mike Foligno

 Height: 6'2" Weight: 195
 Shoots: Right
 Last Amateur Club:

Most NHL players celebrate a goal merely by raising their arms and then accepting congratulations from their teammates. Mike isn't like most NHL players, though. He has turned the art of celebrating a goal into an exuberant dance. And at the rate this 23-year-old right winger scores, he gets a real workout. The key acquisition in the Sabres' trade with Detroit in early December the former OHL scoring champion wasted little time becoming a fan favorite as he combines a great deal of talent with his aggressiveness. In just his second game with the Sabres, Mike scored the game winning goal against Hartford with a brilliant solo effort that would make Gil Perreault proud as he went around several Whalers and then flipped the puck into the net with one hand. Because of the trade, Mike became one of a select group of players who have appeared in 82 regular season games in one season and he has yet to miss a game in his three-year career. Mike and his bride Janis, a niece of former New York Ranger star Ed Giacomin, were married during the off-season in Sudbury, Ont.

Detroit's first round pick (third overall) in 1979 . . . Acquired by Sabres along with Dale McCourt and Brent Peterson in exchange for Danny Gare, Jim Schoenfeld and Derek Smith on December 2, 1981 . . . led OHL in scoring in 1978-79 with 65 goals, 85 assists and 150 points . . . first team all-star right winger in 1978-79 in OHL . . . voted OMJHL MVP in 1978-79 . . . runner-up for NHL Rookie-of-the-Year Award in 1979-80 (to Ray Bourque) . . . led Sabres in scoring with 33 goals and 44 assists and 77 points, which was also a career high . . . tied for team lead in game winning goals with six . . . has played in 242 consecutive NHL regular season games, having never missed a game since becoming a professional in 1979 . . . scored his first goal as a Sabre 12/4/81 vs. Hartford . . . recorded a hat trick 2/21/82 vs. Colorado . . . had 12 goals, 16 assists at home and eight goals, 15 assists in road games with Buffalo . . . totaled two or more points on 14 occasions with Buffalo . . . established club record for penalty minutes by a right winger with 149 in 56 games with Sabres and 177 overall.

Bill Hajt

Defense

Born: Radisson, Saskatchewan
 November 18, 1951
 Height: 6'3" Weight: 204
 Shoots: Left
 Last Amateur Club:
 Saskatoon Blades (Jrs.)

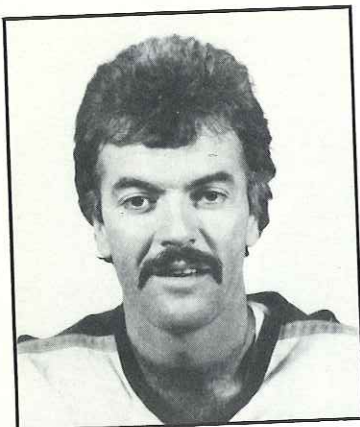

Consistent effectiveness has been Bill's trademark since he broke into the National Hockey League to stay during the 1974-75 season. Game in and game out, the Sabres' coaching staff has come to expect the same solid but unspectacular play from the Radisson, Sask. native. In addition to his own play in 1982-83, Bill will be an even more valuable cog in the Sabres' lineup. With so many young and inexperienced defensemen on the club's roster, the 30-year-old Hajt will be called upon to steady the other backliners. Last season was somewhat disappointing for Bill as he missed 13 games due to nagging injuries. Whenever the Sabres are shorthanded, it is a good bet that the rangy Hajt will be one of the players on the ice. He has played a large part in the Sabres' outstanding penalty-killing records over the past several seasons. Bill and his wife Jean and family reside in suburban Amherst but spend the off-season in Saskatchewan.

Sabres' third pick in 1971 . . . selected to play in the 1980-81 all-star game but was unable to participate due to injury . . . won the Silver Stick Award in 1979-80 . . . won the Tim Horton Memorial Award in 1974-75 and 1979-80 . . . sixth on the club's all-time list for games played with 565 . . . had four assists at home and two goals and five assists on the road last season.

When Scott Bowman claimed Yvon in the NHL Waiver Draft on October 5, 1981, he knew exactly what type of player he was getting. After all, Bowman had coached him from 1973 until the end of the 1979 Stanley Cup championship. The Drummondville, Quebec native enjoyed several outstanding seasons in Montreal with Bowman and his first season with Bowman in Buffalo was no different as Yvon had his best season point-wise, since 1978-79 and the fourth best season of his NHL career. Yvon's arrival gave the Sabres the type of player they were most in need of — one who could help on the power play. The former Montreal star responded with a club-high 14 power play goals and also brought a wealth of playoff and championship experience. Yvon and family reside in Amherst during the season but return to Drummondville for the off-season.

Detroit's third choice (40th overall) in 1970 Amateur Draft . . . joined Sabres on October 5, 1981 when claimed from Montreal in Waiver Draft . . . led team in power play goals with 14 . . . topped the 200 goal-plateau (Jan. 17 vs Hartford) and now has 206 NHL goals . . . his 64 points represent his best season since 1978-79 when he had 66 points and it is his fourth best single season output in his nine-year career . . . recorded the first hat trick of his NHL career on January 15, 1982 against Toronto . . . had 17 goals, 23 assists at home and eight goals, 16 assists on road . . . first team all-star in AHL in 1972-73 with Nova Scotia . . . led AHL in scoring in 1972-73 . . . recorded at least one point vs. all but two teams (Minn. and Van.) last year.

Born: Falconbridge, Ont.
 January 26, 1957
 Height: 5'10" Weight: 185
 Shoots: Right
 Last Amateur Club:
 St. Catharines Fincups (Jrs.)

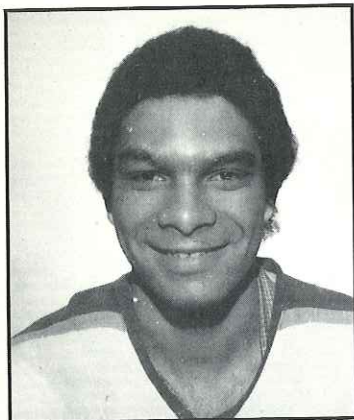

Dale is the second member of the Sabres to have the honor of being the first player chosen overall in the NHL Entry Draft (in 1977 by Detroit). Along with Mike Foligno and Brent Peterson, Dale joined the Sabres on December 2, 1981 in exchange for Danny Gare, Jim Schoenfeld and Derek Smith. The 25-year-old center wasted little time getting into the scoring column with his new club as he registered a goal in his first game with the Sabres (Dec. 3 vs. Boston). During his five-year NHL career, McCourt has missed just eight games, including three after joining the Sabres. An extremely talented individual, McCourt is regarded as an excellent puck-handler and passer as well as a key performer on the power play playing the point or up front. Dale and his wife Jan have one child, a son Derek.

First player selected over-all in 1977 by Detroit . . . joined the Sabres Dec. 2, 1981 . . . had at least one point vs. all but two teams (Edmonton and Philadelphia) despite playing in just 52 games with Buffalo . . . had two goals and two assists vs. Los Angeles 1/10/82 . . . had 12 goals, 17 assists at home and eight goals and five assists on road with Buffalo . . . represented Team Canada in two World Hockey Championship tournaments (1979 in Moscow and 1981 in Sweden) . . . received several major awards during his junior hockey career, including the Red Tilson Memorial Trophy as the M.V.P. of the Ontario Hockey Association in 1976-77 . . . a first team all-star his final two seasons of junior hockey . . . surpassed the 30-goal plateau for the fourth time in his five-year NHL career . . . precedent-setting case in 1978 when he chose to take legal battle to be allowed to stay with Detroit when arbitration dictated he be awarded to Los Angeles as compensation for Detroit signing free Rogie Vachon.

Born: Montreal, Quebec

February 15, 1958

Height: 6'1" Weight: 203

Last Amateur Club:

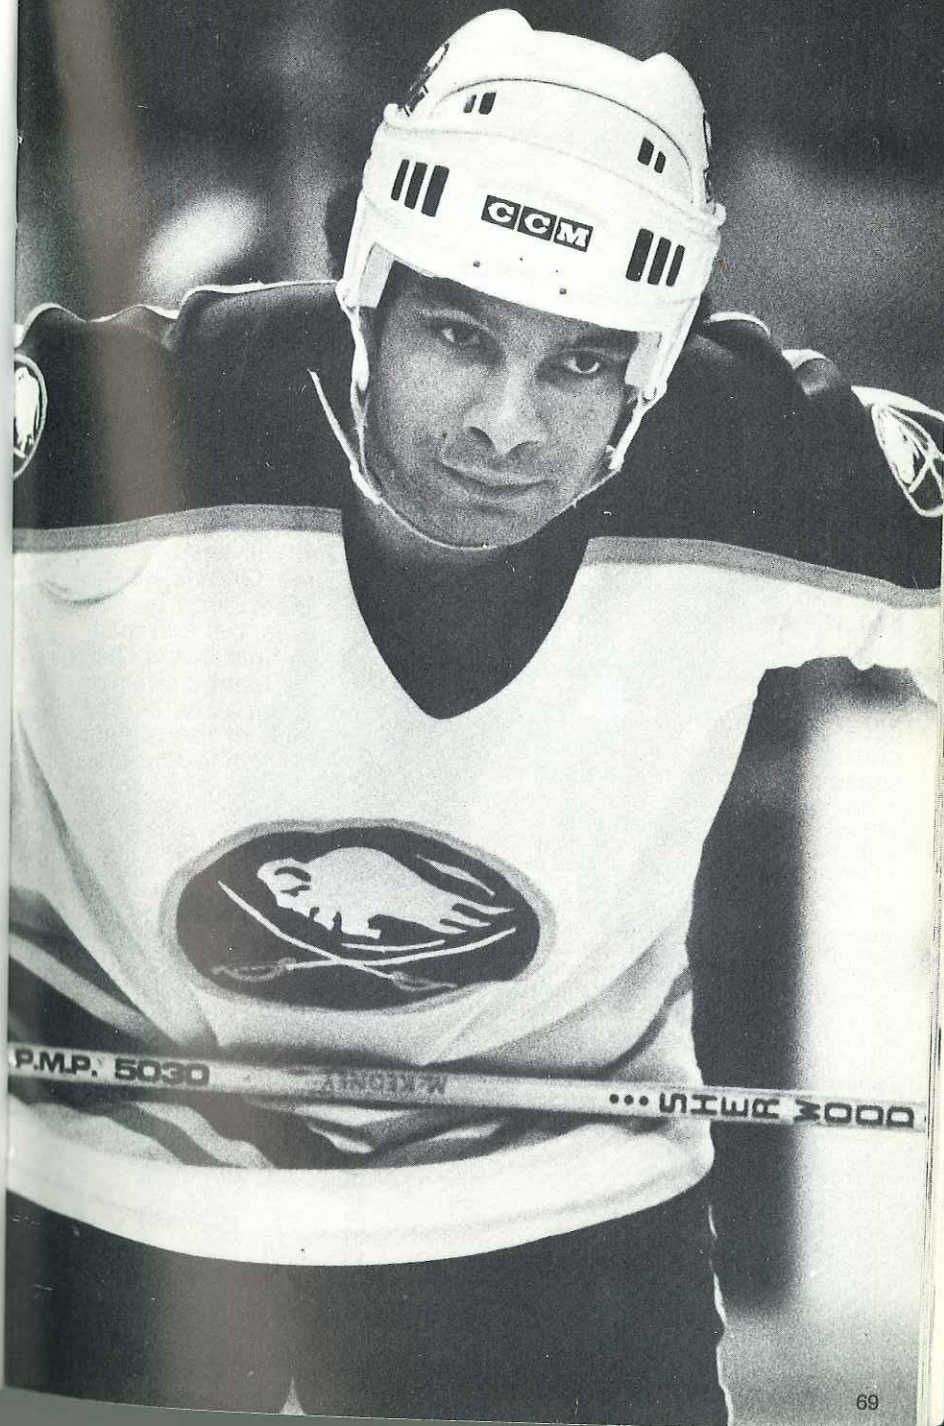

Kingston Canadiens (Jrs.)

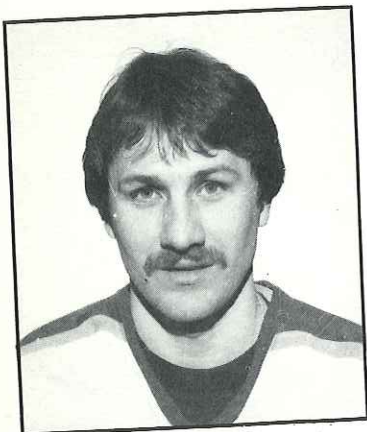

The 1981-82 season was somewhat disappointing for Tony, especially since he was coming off an outstanding 37-goal, 69-point total in 1980-81. He started off as if it would be another banner year scoring 10 goals in his first 15 games. However, when Danny Gare and Derek Smith were traded to Detroit in early December, Tony was left without linemates of more than two seasons. There were a couple of highlights during the 81-82 season for Tony as he recorded his first two NHL hat tricks and also put together an 11-game point-scoring streak. The Montreal native enters the 1982-83 campaign with a fresh start and a proven ability to score goals. An excellent skater, Tony was a second round steal in the 1978 draft because many NHL teams feared he had already signed with a World Hockey Association team. Fortunately for the Sabres, he hadn't. Single, Tony resides in Williamsville and spends much of his off-season in the Buffalo area.

Buffalo's second round pick in 1978 . . . recorded his first NHL hat trick 10/23/81 vs. Toronto and then scored his second hat trick on 12/9/81 vs. Colorado . . . netted 17 goals, 15 assists at home and six goals, 14 assists on the road in 1981-82 . . . recorded at least one point vs. all 21 teams last season . . . totaled three points on six occasions in 81-82 . . . had an 11-game point-scoring streak (10/18/81-11/13/81).

During the Sabres' history, there have been many memorable dates — and the first player ever selected by the Sabres has been involved in a good portion of them. Last season was no exception as he became the club's all-time leading goal-scorer on February 17, 1982 and then on April 3, 1982, he became the first Sabre to reach the 1,000 point plateau in NHL play. The 31-year-old center inked a new contract during the off-season that will keep him in blue and gold colors for several seasons to come. Gil missed the first 18 regular season games last season after suffering a broken ankle while participating in the Canada Cup series, but still managed to reach the 30-goal mark for the seventh time in his NHL career. The smooth-skating superstar was named team captain in early December, and proved equal to the challenge as he led the club in scoring from December 2 through the end of the regular season. Gil, his wife Carmen, and their son, Marc, live in Amherst.

Brent Peterson

Center

Born: Calgary, Alta.

February 15, 1958

Height: 6'0" Weight: 190

Shoots: Right

Last Amateur Club:

Portland Winter Hawks (Jrs.)

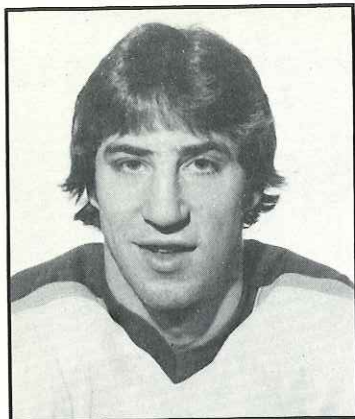

The inclusion of Brent in the Sabres' major deal with the Detroit Red Wings in early December, 1981, brought the club the type of player it dearly needed — a right-handed shooting center. In recent years, the Sabres have been predominantly a left-handed shooting team. However, the addition of Detroit's first round selection (12th overall) in the 1978 Amateur Draft gives the Sabres two right-handed shooting centers (ex-Red Wing Dale McCourt is the other) and more balance. A former junior teammate of Larry Playfair, Brent experienced three hard-luck seasons with Detroit before joining the Sabres. He suffered a broken right leg in the fifth game of his NHL career (Oct. 19, 1978), then spent the majority of the 1979-80 season in Adirondack (AHL), before the 1980-81 season in which he fractured his left ankle against the Sabres (Nov. 12, 1981). Since joining the Sabres, Brent has had an opportunity to perform in key situations. An excellent skater, Brent is a fine play-making center and saw action on the Sabres' penalty killing unit. He and his wife Tami and son Ryan make their off-season home in Beaverton, Oregon.

Detroit's second first-round draft pick (12th overall) in the 1978 Amateur Draft... came to Buffalo on December 2, 1981 along with Dale McCourt and Mike Foligno in exchange for Danny Gare, Jim Schoenfeld and Derek Smith... scored nine goals in 46 games with Buffalo and 10 overall in 1981-82, bettering his previous best of six (1980-81)... scored his first goal as a Sabre 12/19/81 vs. Quebec... was one of six Portland junior players selected in the 1978 Amateur Draft.

Defense

Born: Ft. St. James, British Columbia

June 23, 1958

Height: 6'4" Weight: 210

Shoots: Left

Last Amateur Club:

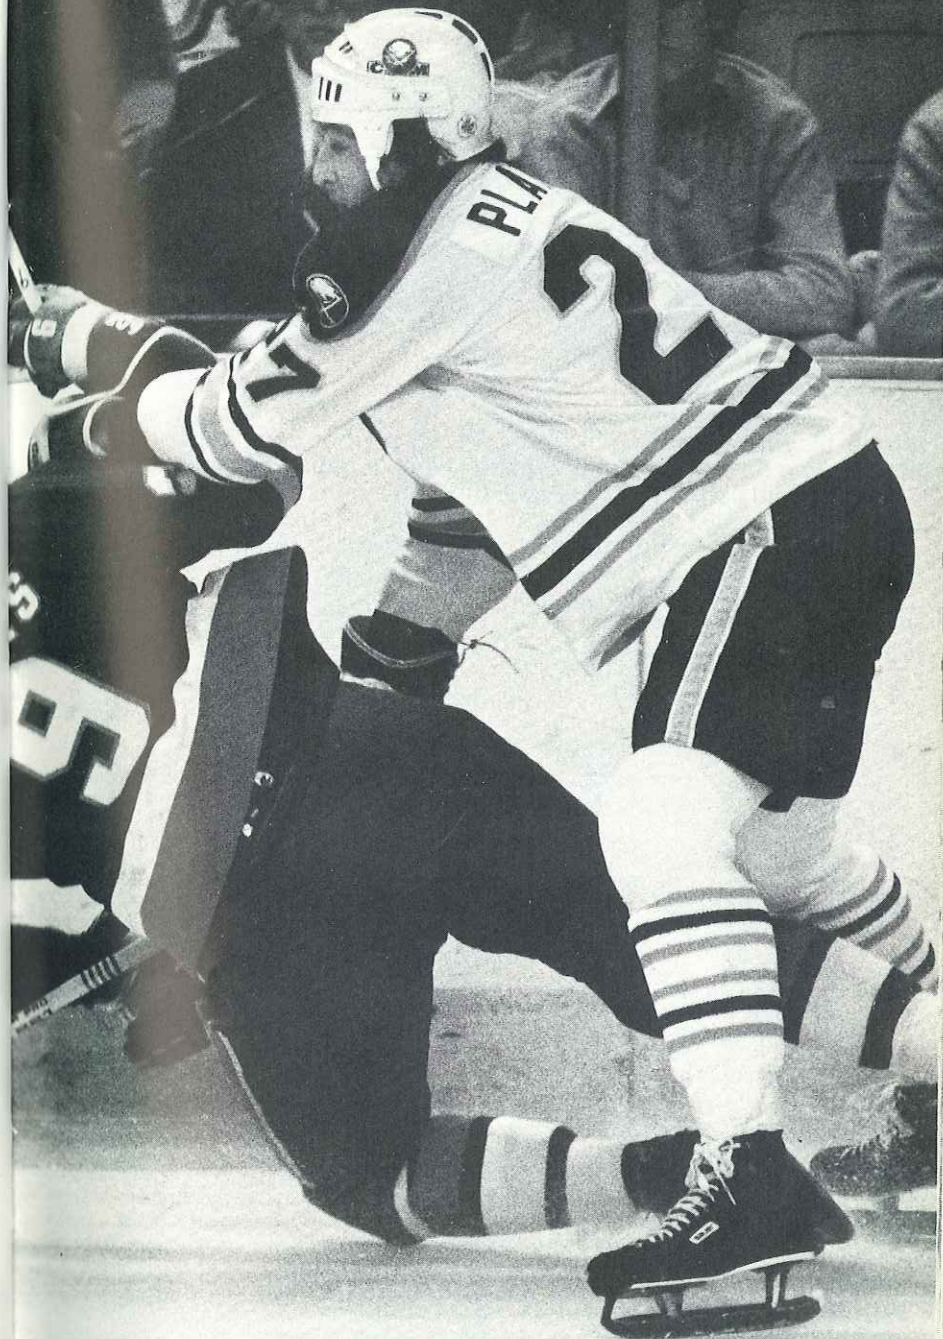

Portland Winter Hawks (Jrs.)

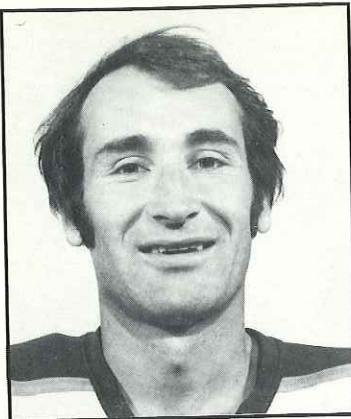

Statistically, the 1981-82 season was Larry's best in the NHL as he scored six goals and totaled 16 points. But his true value to the club cannot merely be mentioned in goals or points. What the 6'4", 210-pound Playfair gives the Sabres is an all-out effort 80 games a season and player who backs down from no one when the going gets a little physical. Over his four professional seasons, Larry's play has improved immensely and his ice time has increased accordingly. He is often used to kill penalties and, when the need arises, can take a shift or two on left wing to add a little muscle up front. His mere presence on the ice makes life in the NHL much easier for some of his teammates who are known more for their skating style as opposed to a physical game. During the off-season, Larry left the bachelor ranks as he married the former Jayne VanderVoort. The newlyweds make their home on Grand Island. The Sabres' public relations department is the beneficiary of much of Larry's spare time as he makes numerous appearances for youth groups and charities in the Buffalo area.

Sabres' first round pick in 1978... scored his first NHL goal 11/18/79 vs. Edmonton... established club record for penalty minutes with 258 in 1981-82... had five goals, seven assists at home and one goal, three assists on road last season... scored two goals in one game (12/20/81 vs. Hartford) for first time in his NHL career... personal single season highs in goals (6) and points (16) in 1981-82... totaled seven of his 16 points in eight games against Hartford last year... won the Buffalo Evening News Seventh Player award in 1981-82... Recipient of 1981-82 Silver Stick Award.

Although it's beginning to sound like a broken record, a truly long-playing album results from Craig's phenomenal 721 consecutive game streak which began back when a gallon of gasoline cost less than 60 cents. The 31-year-old Ramsay has now gone through nine consecutive seasons without missing a regular season game, leaving him second on the all-time iron-man list. Along with showing up for each and every game ready to play, Ramsay continues to see plenty of ice time, combining a regular shift with outstanding penalty killing ability. For the first time since the 1972-73 season, the former Peterborough star failed to hit the 20-goal mark but he did finish third in the voting for the Frank Selke Award (best defensive forward). Craig and his wife Susan and their two sons reside year-round in Amherst.

*Sabres' second pick in 1971 . . . Mike was one of just two Sabres (Craig Ramsay was the other) to appear in all 80 of the club's regular season games in 1981-82. His offensive abilities became more apparent last season as he improved all of his scoring totals. Although his offensive game is on the upswing, the former University of Minnesota star is known more for his defensive performances. An outstanding shot-blocker, the Minnesota native is well-suited to a physical or skating game. Mike was selected to replace John Van Boxmeer in the 1982 all-star game and he has now had lunch with President Ronald Reagan and former President Jimmy Carter (1980). Ramsey, who is single, spends much of his summer in the Minneapolis area and then lives with Lindy Ruff in Amherst during the season.

Height: 6'2" Weight: 195

Shoots: Left

Last Amateur Club:

Lethbridge Broncos (Jrs.)

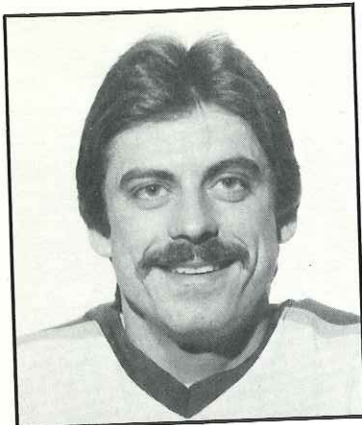

When opponents scout the Sabres, one player sure to catch their eye is this 22-year-old who can play either defense or left wing — and is well equipped to play both positions. Lindy's aggressive, hard-hitting style of play has made him one of the club's most popular players as well as one of the most effective. A second-round draft choice in 1979, Lindy would most likely have been a first round selection had he not suffered a serious leg injury early in his final junior season which limited him to just 24 games that year. Injuries have not been a major problem so far during his NHL career, though, as he played in 79 of the Sabres' regular season games last year. Big and strong, the Warburg, Alberta native possesses a booming slap shot which is often put to use on the power play. Now entering his fourth NHL season, Lindy is a year-round resident of the Buffalo area where he owns a home, and has teammate Mike Ramsey as a boarder.

Sabres' second round pick in 1979 . . . only underage rookie to play his entire rookie season with Sabres . . . scored his first NHL goal in his first NHL game (10/11/79 vs. Washington) missed 15 games in 1980-81 with a broken ankle . . . won the Fred T. Hunt Memorial Award (Rookie-of-the-Year) in 1979-80 . . . enjoyed his best season in NHL last year with 16 goals, 32 assists and 48 points . . . tied with Mike Foligno for the club lead in game winning goals with six . . . became just the second Sabre to accumulate more than 190 penalty minutes in one season (Larry Playfair was the first).

The only goaltender ever selected by the Sabres in the first round of the NHL Amateur Draft (1975) returns to Buffalo after a six-month stint with the Detroit Red Wings. In a separate deal completed on December 2, the Sabres sent Bob to Detroit in exchange for future considerations. Fortunately, Bob did not sell his Buffalo home following the trade because when the Red Wings and Bob failed to agree on a new contract by June 1, 1982, Sabres' General Manager Scott Bowman stepped in and offered the 27-year-old Ste. Genevieve, Quebec native a chance to return to the Sabres as the number one netminder. Despite playing in a back-up role with the Sabres in the past, Bob's personality and outstanding play made him one of the most popular Sabres. In 14 games with Buffalo last season, Bob posted a 2.76 goals against average. He and his wife Johanne and their two children return to the Montreal area during the off-season.

Three Rivers Draveurs (Jrs.)

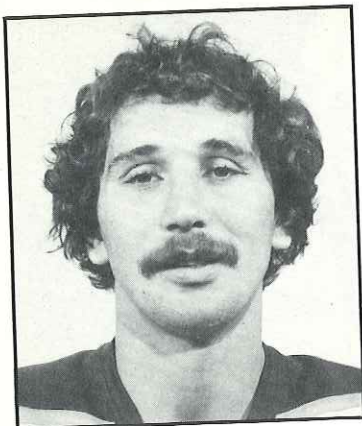

No matter what league Jean Francois plays in, he beats the odds. He was thought to be too small to play junior hockey and yet he led the Quebec League in scoring in each of his last two seasons. When he was not drafted in 1979, Scott Bowman signed him as an underage free agent. Spending much of his first professional season in Rochester (1980-81), he was among the league's leading scorers. And last season was his first full season in the NHL and he set a club record for assists by a rookie with 36, breaking Gil Perreault's 11-year-old record. Despite his size, or lack of it, Frankie is unafraid of going in front of the net or into the corner to grab a loose puck. Whenever he is on the ice, the puck seems to follow him around. Sauve is an outstanding playmaker and has an exceptional feel for the game in the offensive zone.

If the 1980-81 season was Andre's best professional season (31 goals, 44 assists), the 1981-82 season had to be one of the most frustrating seasons in the hard-working center's NHL career. On four separate occasions, Andre was forced to miss games because of injuries — totaling 13 games. Just when he seemed to be back on track, another injury would send him to the sidelines. Boston's 1973 first round draft pick did show flashes of his 1980-81 form as he racked up 12 points in nine games during late November and early December and he then finished the regular season with five goals in his final seven games. When healthy, 29-year-old Savard fills an important position with the Sabres, serving as the center on the club's checking line, often teamed up with Craig Ramsay and Ric Seiling. Andre also sees duty on the Sabres' penalty-killing unit. He and his wife Mary-France and their children have a home in the Buffalo area but return to Quebec during the off-season.

Height: 6'1" Weight: 178

Shoots: Right

Last Amateur Club:

St. Catharines Fincups (Jrs.)

Eye injuries are among the most serious in any sport and on January 30, 1982, Ric nearly had his NHL career ended when his right eye was accidentally struck by a stick. For several days, Seiling, who had missed just six games in his first four NHL seasons, lay immobile in a Calgary hospital waiting and hoping. Fortunately, the injury was not as serious as it well could have been, and the 24-year-old returned to the lineup after just 18 games on the sidelines. Seiling still managed to win the Star of Stars Award, which goes to the player earning the most points in the three star voting during home games, despite missing 10 home games. Ric was well on his way to bettering his single season records for goals, assists and points before the injury. Although he appeared in just 57 regular season games, he did top the 20-goal mark for the fourth consecutive season. The recent trend in hockey has been leaning towards high-scoring forwards with little emphasis on defense. However, this former St. Catharines star can play at either end of the rink. Ric often plays his regular shift, takes a turn on the power play and then helps kill penalties. He and his wife Bonny, and their daughter Melanie make their home on Grand Island. In addition to staying active in his family's harness horse business during the summer months, Ric also spends a good deal of time making appearances for the Sabres' public relations department.

John was well on his way to his finest NHL season when he suffered an unfortunate injury (broken finger) which forced him to miss 11 regular season games, plus his first chance to perform in an NHL all-star game. Although he appeared in just 69 games, John still bettered his own club record for most assists by a defenseman (54) and, for the second straight season, led the Sabres in assists. It was no coincidence that while this 29-year-old Petrolia, Ontario native was sidelined, the Sabres' power play slumped. John's booming slap shot and playmaking abilities are a key ingredient to the power play. In just 229 career games with the Sabres, John is third on the club's all-time scoring list for defenseman (188 points) and he has the highest points per game average (.82) among Sabres' defensemen. John donates a great deal of his bachelor-free time to several local charities (among them Cystic Fibrosis) and he has become one of the most popular sports personalities in Buffalo.

Dave Andreychuk

Center

Born: Hamilton, Ont.
 September 29, 1963
 Height: 6'3" Weight: 195
 Shoots: Right
 Last Amateur Club:
 Oshawa Generals (Jrs.)

It is pretty difficult for a 6'3", 195-pound center to hide during the NHL Entry Draft with so many keen eyes going over each and every prospect closely. However, because of certain club's needs this past draft, Dave was still available when the Sabres own selection came up (16th overall). With the big 18-year-old from Hamilton, Ontario still available, General Manager Scott Bowman did not hesitate in selecting the player rated seventh overall by Central Scouting. Although he is still adjusting to his size, Andreychuk was voted the Ontario Hockey League's most improved player last season when he tallied 57 goals in 67 games. He is considered an outstanding power play performer and can be deadly around the net.

Buffalo's third first-round selection (16th overall) in the 1982 NHL Entry Draft ... OHL's most improved player in 1981-82 ... has two more years of junior eligibility remaining ... scored 26 power play goals for Oshawa last year ... plays with a great deal of desire and has tremendous potential.

Randy Cunneynworth

One of the pleasant surprises of the 1980 NHL Entry Draft for the Buffalo Sabres has been the development of Randy Cunneynworth. Taken in the eighth round, the former Ottawa star scored just 16 goals and added 25 assists in 63 games during the 1979-80 season. In 1980-81, Randy's final season of junior eligibility, he tallied 54 goals and recorded 74 assists. Following an excellent 1981 training camp, the rugged center began the season in the Sabres' lineup and picked up an assist in the first game of the regular season against Washington. Overloaded at center when three veteran centers returned to the lineup in November, the Sabres sent the hard-hitting 21-year-old to Rochester where he would have an opportunity to skate a regular shift and see duty killing penalties and on the power play unit. His ability to perform when the going gets rough gives him an excellent opportunity to play full-time in the NHL.

Sabres' eighth round pick in the 1980 NHL Entry Draft ... had 54 goals, 74 assists for Ottawa in his final season of junior eligibility ... split his first professional season between Buffalo and Rochester ... still classified as an NHL rookie ... called up from Ottawa 3/1/81 and played his first NHL game against Boston ... scored his first NHL goal 11/11/81 vs. NY Rangers.

Sabres' General Manager Scott Bowman had to do some last minute wheeling and dealing to ensure that the Sabres might have a chance to select Paul in the 1982 Entry Draft. The deals paid off as the Sabres' selected the 18-year-old Port Alberni, B.C. native with the ninth pick overall. Cyr is expected to add scoring punch to the Sabres' left side as well as aggressive play in the corners. Scouts have compared Paul to ex-Sabres' scoring star Richard Martin as he has an excellent touch around the net and can score from anywhere inside the blue line.

Sabres' second first round pick and ninth player taken overall in 1982 NHL Entry Draft . . . played for Team Canada which won world junior hockey championship in 1981-82 . . . second team all-star left wing in WHL last year . . . still has a season of junior eligibility remaining.

Scoring goals has always been a rather routine part of playing hockey for this 22-year-old left winger from Asbestos, Quebec. The season before Buffalo drafted him, Gilles scored 56 goals for Laval of the Quebec Hockey League. The following season, in his final year of junior eligibility, he scored an eye-popping 91 goals while playing for Three Rivers and Chicoutimi. Since turning professional, the hard-shooting winger has had no trouble locating the net, as he has scored 39 goals in 71 games with Rochester over the past two seasons. Gilles is most effective in a wide open, free-skating game, although he has shown that he is not afraid to participate in the physical aspect of the game.

 Height: 6'1" Weight: 196
 Shoots: Left
 Last Amateur Club:

When Jacques Cloutier suffered a broken collarbone on February 3, 1982, the Sabres were in a bind, without a proven back-up goaltender. To the Sabres' surprise — and benefit — Paul Harrison became available on waivers from Pittsburgh and Scott Bowman wasted little time in bringing him to Buffalo. Although the 27-year-old netminder appeared in just six regular season games with the Sabres, he provided the club with some much-needed insurance. Buffalo is Paul's eighth professional team during his seven-year career with previous NHL stops in Minnesota, Toronto and Pittsburgh. At 6'1", Paul is an imposing figure in goal, since there has not been a Sabre netminder over 6' since Randy Ireland appeared in one game during the 1978-79 campaign.

Minnesota's third round draft pick in 1975 Amateur Draft . . . came to Buffalo on February 6, 1982 on waivers from Pittsburgh . . . second team all-star goaltender in AHL in 1976-77 while playing for New Haven (3.16 goals against average in 55 games) . . . made his first appearance in a Buffalo uniform 2/11/82 in Philadelphia when he replaced Don Edwards at the start of the third period . . . had a 2-1-1 record with the Sabres last season.

At a time when most American high school seniors are looking forward to graduation day, Phil was looking forward to a graduation of another sort that took place on June 9, 1982 when he was the sixth player selected in the NHL Entry Draft. The first of three first round selections by the Sabres in 1982, Phil has the ability to play both defense and center, a combination that is not often seen at the NHL level. The former Minnesota high school star is regarded as an excellent skater with outstanding hockey sense. Just 18, Phil has already appeared in two world hockey tournaments where he was a bright light for the United States. Bobby Carpenter has the honor of being the only American to be selected earlier in a NHL draft than Housley (Carpenter was the third player chosen in 1981 by Washington).

Buffalo's first pick and sixth overall in 1982 NHL Entry Draft . . . played for Team USA in world junior championship last season . . . member of Team USA for world hockey championships played in Finland in April, 1982.

There are quite a few NHL general managers that now wish they had the foresight that Scott Bowman had back in 1980 when he selected Sean in the third round of the Entry Draft. Although Sean scored just a handful of goals during the 1979-80 season, he has put together back-to-back 57-goal seasons with the Sherbrooke Beavers of the Quebec Hockey League. He was recalled by the Sabres for three regular season games last March and, although he did not score a goal, handled himself well, playing on a line with Bob Mongrain and Gilles Hamel. The 20-year-old right winger comes to the Sabres this season following an outstanding playoff series and Memorial Cup finals last year as Sherbrooke finished second to Kitchener.

One of the complaints of professional athletes is the amount of travel during the season. If anyone had a right to complain, Mike would be at the top of the list. The 1981-82 season began for Mike in Lake Placid at the Sabres training camp. He was returned to Lethbridge, though, to complete his final junior season. Recalled then in December, Mike was returned to Lethbridge by Buffalo before promptly joining Team Canada for the world junior hockey championship during the Christmas holidays. He went back to Lethbridge where he was subsequently recalled by the Sabres for a short time before being sent back to Lethbridge to complete the season. One of the outstanding junior hockey players over the last two seasons, Mike could well be ready to step into the Sabres' lineup in 1982-83. The 20-year-old Calgary native has the size and speed to become a solid NHL winger.

Sabres' second round choice in 1980 . . . scored his first NHL goal in his second NHL game (2/14/81 vs. Calgary) . . . member of Team Canada's world junior championship team last year . . . has had two consecutive 100-point plus seasons with Lethbridge . . . first team all-star right winger in Western Hockey League in 1981-82.

Height: 5'10" Weight: 165

Last Amateur Club: Three Rivers Draveurs (Jrs.)

Perhaps no one knows the New York State Thruway between Buffalo and Rochester better than Bob Mongrain. Now entering his fourth professional season, the 23-year-old center has split each of his first three seasons between the Sabres and their top affiliate, the AHL Americans. When playing in Rochester, the swift-skating Mongrain is looked upon as one of the club's key offensive players — he had 74 points in 56 games there last year. However, when he is wearing a Sabres' uniform, Bob is used as a utility man. He often kills penalties and plays on a checking line. Either way, whether it be in Buffalo or Rochester, Bob has shown the ability to settle into a role — and play it quite well. Bob and his wife Carole spend the off-season in Quebec.

Signed as a free agent in 1979... scored his first NHL goal on 11/3/79 vs. Toronto... appeared in 24 games with Buffalo last year and had six goals and four assists, including two game winning goals... had three points vs. Vancouver 3/10/82.

Height: 6'4" Weight: 206

Shoots: Right

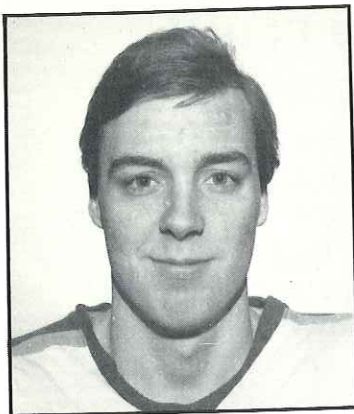

Last Amateur Club: Brandon Wheat Kings (Jrs.)

Splitting the 1981-82 season between Buffalo and Rochester, Steve showed flashes of developing into a fine all-around right winger that could play in the NHL for many years. At 21, he has all of the physical qualities needed to become a solid NHLer, with both the size and strength necessary to go into the corners and come out with the loose pucks along with taking on some of the big defense-men around the league. Steve started the 1981-82 season with the Sabres, but was assigned to Rochester in late December so he could play a regular shift as opposed to filling in on the odd line here and there. He was then recalled for 11 games later in the season before being returned to Rochester to complete the year. The right wing position is a crowded one on the Buffalo roster but the Sabres' 1980 first round draft pick will be given every opportunity to crack into the lineup in 1982-83.

Sabres' first round draft pick in the 1980 NHL Entry Draft... scored his first NHL goal 3/22/81 vs. St. Louis... his younger brother Jim was a first round pick by the New York Rangers... scored a goal in the Sabres' first regular season game last year (10/7/81 vs. Washington).

Sabres' fans got their first look at the club's second round draft pick in the 1981 NHL Entry Draft when Hannu made his NHL debut in Quebec on March 30, 1982 in a game televised back to Buffalo. The smooth-skating defenseman handled himself admirably as he picked up an assist and was named the third star of the game. Hannu also played on Team Finland's World Junior Team last season where he was a teammate of Sabres' draftees Heikki Leimi and Timo Jutila. Regarded as a highly skilled player, Virta is an excellent passing defenseman which enables him to move the puck quickly out of his own zone. Like other highly regarded players, he has outstanding hockey sense and, off his performance with the Sabres late last season, should be among the top candidates to end up in a Sabres' uniform in 1982-83.

MIKE KEENAN

Coach
 Rochester Americans

Thirty-two year-old Mike Keenan heads into his third season at the helm just 60 miles down the road from Buffalo with the Sabres' top affiliate.

Following his inaugural season in Rochester when the club posted a 30-42-8 record despite using 51 different players, Mike led the 1981-82 Americans to a 40-31-9 record and a playoff berth.

Considered one of the bright young coaches in the business, Mike has had a great deal of success at every level. He coached consecutive Junior B championship clubs in the Metro Toronto League before moving to Peterborough in the OHA for the 1979-80 season when his team set a club record for wins (47) and won 14 straight playoff games until losing in the Memorial Cup finals.

Mike was selected to help choose players for the Canadian National Junior team in 1982, a team which went on to capture the 1982 World Championships. He recently served in the same role to help pick players for the Canadian National Midget team.

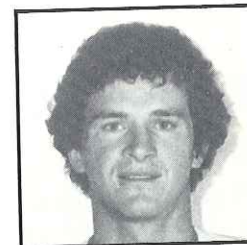

He has a Bachelor of Science degree from St. Lawrence University in Health and Physical Education, and a degree in Education from the University of Toronto. Mike and his wife Rita, both former high school teachers, have a daughter and reside in Rochester year-round.

1982-83 NATIONAL HOCKEY LEAGUE CONFERENCE AND DIVISION ALIGNMENTS

CLARENCE CAMPBELL CONFERENCE

Smythe Division
 Calgary Flames
 Edmonton Oilers
 Los Angeles Kings
 Vancouver Canucks
 Winnipeg Jets

Norris Division
 Chicago Black Hawks
 Detroit Red Wings
 Minnesota North Stars
 St. Louis Blues
 Toronto Maple Leafs

PRINCE OF WALES CONFERENCE

Patrick Division
 New Jersey Devils
 New York Islanders
 New York Rangers
 Philadelphia Flyers
 Pittsburgh Penguins
 Washington Capitals

Adams Division
 Boston Bruins
 Buffalo Sabres
 Hartford Whalers
 Montreal Canadiens
 Quebec Nordiques

UNBALANCED SCHEDULE:

Each of the 21 teams will play an 80 game schedule with those teams in the Smythe, Norris and Adams Divisions having eight games (four home, four away) against each of their Divisional opponents, plus three games against each of the remaining 16 teams in the League. In the case of the three games against the remaining clubs, teams will play two home, one away or vice-versa, alternating the extra home game each year.

The six clubs in the Patrick Division — New Jersey, New York Islanders, New York Rangers, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and Washington — will play each other seven times with three games against each of the remaining 15 teams. The home-ice differential will be alternated each season.

STANLEY CUP PLAYOFFS:

At the conclusion of the regular schedule, the top four finishers in each of the Divisions will qualify for the Stanley Cup playoffs.

The opening round features divisional playoffs that will have the first place club oppose the fourth-place team and second versus third in a best-of-five series. The winners of each series will advance to a best-of-seven Divisional Final series with the team gaining higher standing during the regular-season holding home-ice advantage.

The four divisional winners will meet in a best-of-seven Conference Championship. The Smythe Division victor will face the Norris Division champion in the Campbell Conference championship, while the Patrick Division victor will oppose the Adams Division winner for the Prince of Wales Conference title. The Conference winners will meet in a best-of-seven series for the Stanley Cup.

Home-ice advantage for the semi-final and final rounds will be alternated each season according to Division and Conference. For the 1982-83 season, the Adams and Smythe Division winners will gain home-ice advantage in the Conference Championships, while the champion of the Campbell Conference will hold home-ice advantage in the Stanley Cup Final.

RADIO AND TELEVISION

Broadcast plans for the Sabres in 1982-83 include:

All games, pre-season, regular season and playoff on a Sabres network whose flagship is Buffalo's WGR (550 AM) which has carried every season of Sabres hockey since the club began in 1970. Rick Jeanneret returns as play-by-play, ex-Sabre Jim Lorentz will be commentator both home and away, and Don Dussias is home intermission host.

Thirty games, 27 away and 3 at home, will be telecast by WGR-TV, (Channel 2) in Buffalo, an increase of 15 games on standard broadcast this season. Ted Darling, the Voice of the Sabres, returns as play-by-play and ex-NHL winger Pat Hannigan will provide commentary. WGR Sports Director Ed Kilgore is host.

On cable television, the Sabres continue to provide one of the league's most extensive coverage schedules. Thirty home games will be on cable, 25 on basic service and 5 on a special subscription channel. Ted Darling is play-by-play here too, with former Sabres captain Gerry Meehan his commentator and long-time Buffalo sportscaster Ralph Hubbell as host.

Selected Sabres telecasts are beamed to the INTELESET satellite stationed 3 degrees northwest of equatorial orbit and then retransmitted from this point 13,500 miles above the earth's surface to cable systems on Pluto, where they will arrive in 372 light years. Play-by-play and color announcers for the Plutonian re-broadcasts have yet to be announced.

Visiting radio is located in the main press box, and the principal visiting TV booth is located on the face of the same side balcony at center ice. Requests for special needs in broadcast facilities should be made to Paul Wieland at the Buffalo Sabres. The WGR-TV and cable telecast schedules are indicated on the inside back cover.

ACCOMMODATIONS/MEDIA SERVICES

The Sabres press box is located on the west side of Memorial Auditorium suspended from the ceiling. Telecopy transmitting facilities are located in the press box during games, and in the press lounge after games.

The press lounge is located on the west (press box) side of the building between Level Two and Level Three and opens two hours before game time. Food and refreshments are served to accredited members of the media during that time. Refreshments are served in the press box only during the game, and are available afterward in the press lounge, which is also the post game work area for the media.

Application for single game press credentials must be made by 12 p.m. game days to the Sabres public relations office. They will be filled on a space available basis. The press entrance is located on the Pearl St. (west) side of the Auditorium at sidewalk level and entry must be made there in order to receive proper accreditation.

Sabres media identification tags must be displayed for admission to the press box, press lounge and dressing rooms.
